SNAPSHOTS.

THINGS SEEN IN LONDON.

(BY AN IRISHWOMAN IN LONDON.)

I WONDER whether Lord Carnarvon's tragic death will affect the craze for Egyptian fashions? Practically every dancer at the Hotel Metropole the other evening had something Oriental about their toilettes; many of them had complete frocks built from old Eastern designs. The suppers and dances at the Metropole Follies are always delightful, and the Prince of Wales, who is by no means a bad judge of these things, appears to enjoy them immensely. I saw him there the other evening with one of the younger Princes.

• • •

The new brimless hat, which is so fashionable in Paris and London just now, is made from embroidered straw in the gayest of colours. They look very charming on the stands in the windows, but they are peculiarly difficult to wear. At a restaurant much frequented by the society-actress type of diner I counted eleven of these new shapes, and only one very young fair girl looked really well in hers.

• • •

Another pretty little fashion that calls for attention lately is the habit of tieing the handkerchief round the wrist or hooking the dainty bit of chiffon or softest-coloured lawn on the cuff. Some girls make a wee buttonhole and fasten it that way, but you must display it in some way round your wrist if you wish to be absolutely chic.

• • •

The newest type of umbrella which the smart woman is carrying is by no means beautiful. Everything about it is short and fat. It has a round fat handle and a couple of round balls to take the place of the ferrule. The tassel to match also is short and heavy and out of all proportion to the umbrella itself. They are not comparable in beauty with the tall, slim brolly with the thin ivory handle and neat gold mount.

JOY-MAKING.

An Appreciation by a Reader.

"The mind is its own place, and in itself can make a Heaven of Hell: a Hell of Heaven."

Musing on the enjoyment, renewed day by day, of reading the delightful articles that appear in "Woman and Her Home" in the "Irish Times," the above quotation came to my mind the other morning, with a sense of gratitude to the writers who have thought out, and succeeded in showing us, the public, so many a pleasant by-way through the world of life, where our thoughts and inclinations may wander, gathering, as we will, the sweet-smelling flowers of the little cultures, the little amenities. Wind-flowers of the minds content.

Fine thoughts, happy phrases, nice distinctions.

The glaze on old frail china: china we may all but feel. The charm of needlecraft, calling to remembrance, with its most "gentle art," old-time courtesies, the low soft voice, restraint of extravagance in speech or act.

The sight to "inward eye" of flowers blooming in a garden, or planned, with nice conceit, for room and window-box; flowers so loved they do outdo themselves in loveliness.

The sheen of fabrics—silken, lawn, and lace—no woman could pass by; and "gentillesses" we almost each might fashion out of some spare hour. . . .

Wind-flowers! Dawn-flowers, growing in the woman's country of the "Irish Times," by that clearing through the undergrowth of problems that vex a woman's day.

"A READER."

HAIRPINS.

A VARIETY OF USES.

EVERY man laughs at a woman's attempt to use a saw, derides her efforts to drive home a nail with a hammer, mocks her use of a screwdriver, and swears when she sharpens pencils with his razor.

A man will burden himself with a fearsome implement which he is pleased to call a pen-knife, but which is really a compendium of "gadgets." He feels prepared for all emergencies because it contains several blades, a corkscrew, cigar-cutter, a pipe-cleaner, and dear knows what besides. He may not use the things once in a blue moon, but still he prides in their possession; yet with this varied assortment he cannot do one-tenth of what a woman can do with her one and only gadget—a hairpin. This simple piece of wire is to her a tool of exceeding utility.

Over and above its legitimate use for securing the hair, a woman employs a hairpin to untie knots or act as a shawl fastener; it is a buttonhook for gloves and shoes alike, and a paper-knife for opening letters and cutting magazine pages. With it she threads tapes into her curtains and ribbons into her lingerie; it becomes a probe with which to manipulate the gas burner if behaving badly, and on occasion it can be used as a corkscrew where small corks have to be dealt with. By heating the ends and thrusting them into a fragment of sealing wax she can use it to the last crumb, and with it she can adjust the too-free swing-back mirror to the required angle—nay, in her hands it even becomes a surgical instrument.

If she has the artistic temperament which spreads itself in adorning her sittingroom wall with china plates, she just takes three hairpins and bends them into S hooks, places an end of each hook over the rim of the plate at equal distances, secures the other ends by passing a ribbon or string around, and, behold, a perfect plaque-holder is evolved from almost nothing; while her husband would have fiddled about with a few yards of wire, wire-cutter and pliers, and have demanded the sole use of the kitchen table for the manufacture of one not half so good.

FITZ.

SPRING MODELS IN DUBLIN SHOPS.

WHEN April smiles nearly every woman wants to buy a new hat. The spring models catch her eye, whether she be demurely pacing along the Dublin streets in the early morning, armed with her household order books and useful handbag, or whether she is whirled past in a luxurious motor car, or is waiting to catch her homeward-bound tram.

She is almost certain to fall an easy victim to one, if not more, of the chic creations that bespeak their Parisian origin. Fresh and crisp in all the spring hues that fashion has decreed shall adorn our heads, they reveal their charms behind the shining expanse of plate glass. If one would avoid falling a victim to their manifold charms, it would be necessary to hurry past with eyes tight shut, and this, it is needless to say, no sane woman would consent to do when she knows that all her best friends will hasten to gloat over the range of styles and colours displayed within.

The new millinery is remarkable for its air of demure propriety, sometimes in sharp contrast to the costume with which it is worn. It is hard to define where this air of restraint lies: one is only conscious of it. It may be that the manner in which the brim comes down over bright eyes, half-revealing, half-concealing their coquettish glances, has much to do with it; there it certainly is!

The cloche is worn everywhere, and differs only in trimming. A favourite style of cloche is made in very narrow stiff ribbon, in several colours, and the only trimming used is a narrow band of ribbon or a plain rosette of ribbon placed quite flat at the back.

Big hats are to be bought in the shops, and later on will undoubtedly be worn when the sun's rays become too strong for comfort; but at present they are held in reserve or only appear at "afternoons" or picture shows. A moderate-sized hat, with mushroom brim and high domed crown, is popular, as the shape is found to be becoming to all ages. Such a hat carried out in dull grey satin, embroidered in an all-over design, in silver thread, and with one rose-coloured quill tipped with silver placed at the left side, the tip drooping slightly towards the shoulder, was so elegant as to arouse admiration in any woman.

A small toque, the foundation of which was gold lace, swathed in fold after fold of beech-brown net, with tuft of brown coque feathers tipped with gold, was just the smart head-dress required when spring winds happen to be high.

Although the fashion journals declare that all trimming on hats is to be found at the back, as a matter of fact many of the newest models are found with flat ribbon rosettes placed at the left side, partly on the brim and partly raised up to the crown. A navy-blue straw had a large cerise ribbon rosette fastened with a buckle to the side in this style. A black straw, with run crown and close turn-down brim, showed the breast plumage of a parrot at the right side, while the tail feathers depended gracefully to the shoulder.

A charming hat of mauve georgette, with under-lining of pale pink, was trimmed with a huge bow of mauve taffetas ribbon shot with silver. An ivory satin hat, with lining of brown crêpe de chine, had the drapery which formed the crown drawn through a handsome buckle at the right side. A fine beige straw, with closely rolled brim, had a swathing of Russian green satin shot with gold thread round the crown, while a hat of somewhat the same tone of colour, only paler, was carried out in crêpe de chine, the undulating leaf of the hat being caught in at the left side with two large brown satin roses.

These hand-made blossoms, composed of ribbon, muslin and braids, are enormously popular, and are seen on many of the newest and smartest hats. A pretty little hat of king-fisher blue crêpe de chine had a wreath of tiny pink ribbon roses encircling the crown which looked particularly elegant.

CRIME IN DUBLIN.

JUDGE SEES SIGNS OF IMPROVEMENT.

VINDICATING THE LAW.

Addressing the County Grand Jury at the opening of the City and County Commission in the Green street Courthouse, Dublin, the Lord Chief Justice said that there were five cases to be submitted to them, and these were represented by seven bills. There were three cases of larceny, one of false pretences, and one of inciting a person to commit a crime.

Turning to the general state of the county, the Lord Chief Justice said that he had not been furnished—and, indeed, at the present time it was impossible—with any account of the cases as reported by the police in the Dublin Metropolitan Police District; but as regards the portion of the County of Dublin which was comprised in the Dublin Metropolitan Police District, and was, as they knew, included in the county, as compared with the corresponding period of last year there was an increase in the number of cases. There were 156 cases in the previous period and 344 for the present period under consideration. That, however, was, to a great extent, due to the number of cases of malicious injury to property, with which they were quite conversant by seeing them day by day reported in the daily Press.

Apart from malicious injury to property, he thought that there would be an improvement in the general state of the county compared with previous periods. Of course, at the present moment he was not in a position to congratulate the Grand Jury on the state of the county as it at present existed; but his hope was—and he thought that there was a sign of improvement—that in the near future there would be such an improved condition in the state of the county that they would be able to congratulate themselves on the restoration of a condition of peace and order and, he hoped, good-will.

STATE OF THE CITY.

Addressing the City Grand Jury, the Lord Chief Justice said that there were some fifteen cases in the list before him for trial, but in four of these cases bills had already been found, and consequently they would only have to investigate eleven cases. But in respect of these eleven cases some twenty-six bills would be submitted for their investigation. With one exception, the cases were such as they might always expect to find in a large community. A case of murder was the only serious case on the calendar. It was a case in which a young man named Frank Teeling—who, he understood, was a lieutenant in the National Army—was accused of the murder of a man named William Johnstone in the refreshment bar of the parterre of the Theatre Royal. The case was a sad one, but it appeared clear from the depositions that Johnstone met his death by a bullet fired by Teeling, and they would, doubtless, see that a prima facie case was established against him, on which they should find a true bill, and leave the circumstances as to justification, excuse or extenuation to the consideration of the common jury.

Turning to the general state of the City of Dublin he said that he found that the number of cases reported to the police since the last Commission was 905, as compared with 754 for the corresponding period of last year, so that, compared with last year, the number of cases showed a substantial increase; but compared with some of the more recent Commissions, from August last year to the present, the number did show in many respects an improvement. In fact, if it were not for the number of cases of malicious offences against property, the condition of the city would be such that it could not be described as very bad, although there was nothing upon which they could congratulate themselves.

ASSISTING THE POLICE.

But there was one thing which he thought it was important that the citizens of Dublin should know—and it was in itself a gratifying circumstance—and that was that there was an increase in the proportion of the number of persons who were made amenable for the offences which had been committed. There was nothing more encouraging to crime than to allow criminals to labour under the belief that crime would go unpunished. The general experience of mankind was that the success of the penal system depended, not so much on the severity, as on the certainty of the punishment, and consequently anything that decreased the chance of a criminal going unpunished would necessarily, though it might take a little time, tend to reduce crime, and they were going through that phase at present in the City of Dublin. There was a time not so long ago when the citizens did not assist the police, as they ought to do, in giving information, and otherwise doing necessary acts in order to bring criminals to justice; but now, he was happy to believe, there was a great improvement in that respect, and the citizens were coming to believe, as they ought always to believe, that the peace and prosperity of their city depended on the close co-operation of all classes in vindicating the law and assisting the police, who were the guardians of their security. If that co-operation continued and developed they would in a very short time see crime diminishing in the city, and they would see, what they all hoped to see, an era of peace, good-will, and prosperity.

Mr. Carrigan, K.C., and Mr. Dudley White (instructed by the Chief State Solicitor) appeared for the prosecution in the various cases.

THE TEELING CASE.

The City Grand Jury found a true bill in the case in which Frank Teeling is charged with the murder of William Johnson in the refreshment room of the parterre of the Theatre Royal on the 27th of March last.

THEFT OF BRICKS.

James Timmons, Nicholas Timmons, and Thomas Lowry were found guilty of stealing a quantity of bricks, the property of the Dublin Brick Co., Ltd., Kimmage, on the 26th March. James Timmons was sentenced to two months' imprisonment and Nicholas Timmons to one month's imprisonment. Lowry, who had not been in trouble before, was allowed out on his own recognisances to come up for judgment when called upon, a sentence of one month's imprisonment being recorded against him.

A WORTHLESS CHEQUE.

Michael McKenna was charged with overdrawing, without authority, an account in the Ulster Bank and giving a cheque for £30 4s. 11d. to Messrs. Battersby and Co., auctioneers, in payment for goods purchased by him at an auction, which was returned marked, "Referred to drawer."

The auctioneers had, it appeared, in good faith accepted the cheque in payment, and had given the accused man the goods which he had purchased and £2 change.

Evidence was given by the manager of the Ulster Bank, College Green (Mr. Hill), to the effect that the accused man had no authority to overdraw his account in the bank, which he had been allowed to open on his representation that he was employed in a large commercial establishment in the city (Messrs. Ferrier, Pollock and Co.) and was about to open business for himself, to be carried on by his wife, in either Moore street or Mary street, and also on the undertaking that he would produce next day a letter of guarantee and lodge the title deeds of a house as security. McKenna had not carried out his undertaking. Mr. Hill further stated that, relying on the representations made to him, he had advanced sums up to £40 to McKenna. He had lent him the sums mentioned, and he had nothing to credit of his account, and had no authority to draw cheques on the bank. Two other cheques had been returned in the same way to Messrs. Battersby and Co. received from McKenna, one for £5 and another for £1.

McKenna was convicted and put back for sentence.

Ellen Doyle, 77 Lower Main street, Wicklow, was fined £1 on each of two summonses for selling milk containing 10 per cent. of its weight of added water. Abraham Symes, Hawkstown, Wicklow, was fined £2 for selling milk to which 13.3 per cent. of its weight of water had been added. Broy, 1 Lower Fownes street, was fined 1s. for selling milk with 8.2 per cent. of its weight of added water.

"RECONCILIATION IN COURT."—In a report of a Police Court prosecution which appeared in yesterday's Irish Times it was incorrectly stated that two men who were charged with fighting were employed as assistants at the Masterpiece Picture Theatre. The cinema in which they were employed was the Talbot street Picture House.

STRANDED VESSEL.—The steamer Jane, which ran ashore at Sutton, Dublin, still remained fast yesterday, but it is probable that it will be refloated to-day with the aid of tugs. The vessel has a cargo of 230 tons of coal, and is bound from Garston to Rush.

CONNAUGHT.

LOOT RECOVERED.—Our Castlebar Correspondent says that Civic Guards have recovered a quantity of property alleged to have been looted from the old military barracks, Foxford.

RAIDS IN MAYO.—Two armed men entered the Ballyhean, Castlebar, sub-post-office and stole the small sum of money in the place. They afterwards visited a local public-house and stole five bottles of whiskey. A motor car, the property of Mr. R. J. McNulty, Swinford, has been seized by armed men in the Screen district. The owner's licence was also taken.

UNCOLLECTED RATES.—A conference of Gurteen, Kilfree and Clonloo Branches of the County Sligo Farmers' Union has decided "under no circumstances to pay any more rates until the outstanding rates for 1921-22, amounting to £6,000, have been collected.

SUDDEN DEATH FOLLOWS SUDDEN DEATH.—Owen McGloin, aged 72 years, of Carnoona, Glenade, Co. Leitrim, near Manorhamilton, while preparing to go to Kinlough Fair on Friday, fell dead. His niece, Bridget McGloin, aged 30, residing in the same district, while attending the "wake," fell back and died.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH.—An old woman named Mary Glynn, who lived alone at Cleaghmore, Ballinasloe, was burned to death in her house in the early hours of yesterday morning. When the fire was extinguished, the charred remains were found a few yards from the front door.

MUNSTER.

PROTECTION OF IRISH FISHERIES.—In fining Patrick Moloney, at Listowel, £3 and costs for being found in possession of a salmon rod, tackle and gaff without a licence, the magistrate said that it was the intention of the Government to protect the fisheries of the country to the utmost of its power, and with that view had set up a separate Ministry for the purpose.

LEINSTER.

PAYMENT OF LOCAL COUNCILS.—At the meeting of Balrothery, Co. Dublin, Rural District Council yesterday, the following resolution was passed by a majority:—"That members of the District Council and Board of Guardians be paid for the loss of time in attendances at meetings, and travelling expenses, as from the beginning of the financial year, 1923-24." In this connection the Local Government Department wrote warning the Council that any such payments would be illegal, and would undoubtedly be surcharged.

ULSTER.

JUROR'S POWERFUL EXEMPTION PLEA.—At Donegal Criminal Sessions on Monday afternoon Judge Cooke said that a juror claiming to be excused had written—"I am engaged here on productive work, namely, working the soil for what it will bring forth. It is not fair to the individual or to the country to penalise one employed as I am, and put him to expense and delay in his operations, such expense and delay being of a very accumulative and accentuated kind in this special case, especially at a time when so few are engaged in useful work." The defaulter was fined 40s.

BALLYBAY SHOOTING INQUEST.—At an inquest held in Greagh, Ballybay, Co. Monaghan, on the body of Bridget Geoghegan, aged 62, who was shot by her niece, Bridget Markey, a verdict of accidental death was returned. Miss Markey picked up a revolver belonging to one of two men, strangers, who called at the farmhouse for tea, and it went off. After the shooting one of the men went to a field where the deceased woman's nephew was ploughing, told him of the accident, and sent him for help. The stranger then took the plough horses to farm. Both men then went away.

SHOT WHILE RESISTING RAIDERS.—At the Belfast City Commission yesterday Nelson Higginson pleaded not guilty to having, on January 26, fired a revolver at Thomas Lecky with intent to do him bodily harm. Lecky, who is manager of Barriscale's public house, Belvoir street, said that the prisoner, with three other men, came into the shop, and told the witness to get out, at the same time pointing a revolver at him. One of the other men jumped over the counter to the cash drawer. A third sat on the counter with a revolver in his hand. The witness threw a horseshoe at the man at the till, and then made for the kitchen, where he picked up a gas ring, and was about to throw it at the men when the prisoner fired at him, and wounded him in the arm. The four men then ran out of the shop. He missed 10s. from the drawer. The prisoner was found guilty, and was put back for trial on more serious charges.

FULL AMOUNT CLAIMED AWARDED.—It is not often that the full amount claimed is awarded in the Belfast Claims Court, but this has happened to Mr. Mathews, Lower California street, who claimed £60 for damage to furniture. His wife described the scene as follows:—"One man knocked the pictures down with a hammer, another broke the meter, and struck me on the head with an iron bar, and asked me what my religion was. Some of them went upstairs, and flung the furniture out of the front window. When that mob left another crowd came in. One of the men had a revolver, and put it to my head, and said if I did not go out he would blow my brains out."

DISTRICT MAGISTRATES' POWERS.—At Donegal Criminal Sessions on Monday afternoon, Judge Cooke, in his address to the Grand Jury, said that one of the three small cases to go before it was very trivial, being a charge of stealing two hens and a "rooster." "You would almost think that these highly-trained district magistrates could dispose of a case of that kind without bringing a number of gentlemen who have other occupations such as you to investigate it," said the judge. Later, in discharging the Grand Jurors, the judge said that if the three cases that they had had before them were the only evidence of crime in the division, he would have been very happy to have congratulated them, but unfortunately the daily newspapers afforded evidence of much more serious crime in the county than that of stealing hens. However, that was all the authorities were able to put before them.

UNLICENSED MOTOR CYCLES: £20 FINES.—At Portadown Sessions Miss Harriett Devlin, school teacher, was fined £20 for using a motor cycle for which she had no licence. It was stated that it was an oversight on the part of the defendant in neglecting to renew the licence, and the magistrate recommended the County Council to deal leniently with her. A similar charge was brought against Thomas Robinson, Vernersbridge, who was also fined £20.

PENSIONER'S LITTLE HOARD.—Hugh Clarke, an octogenarian and old age pensioner, was found dead in bed in his house, John Mitchel street, Newry, on Tuesday. He was more or less a recluse, and lived alone. Two bank deposit receipts for a total of £200 and seven sovereigns were found in the house. An inquest was not considered necessary.

WARRENPOINT-HOLYHEAD SERVICE WANTED.—By six votes to three, Warrenpoint Urban Council has decided to ask the London, Scottish, and Midland Railway to provide facilities for the embarking and disembarking of Northern passengers to and from Holyhead at Warrenpoint.

ROBBED HIS COMRADES.—At Strabane Petty Sessions, William Patrick Spencer, 25, Swanscombe road, Canning Town, London, E., was charged with the embezzlement of £27 2s. 4d., the property of the Inspector-General of the R.U.C., and also with the embezzlement of £19 8s., the property of certain members of the Special Constabulary at Strabane. The prisoner, who was formerly a sergeant-instructor at Beechmount Barracks, pleaded guilty, and asked for a chance, saying that he had been in the Army, and had had 17 years' clean record. The Chairman said that the worst part of the offence was that the accused not only stole Government money, but stole his comrades' money, an unforgiveable offence in the Army. A sentence of two months' imprisonment, with hard labour, was passed.

UNEQUAL JURY SERVICE.—Ballymena Chamber of Commerce has adopted a resolution protesting against the existing system of summoning jurors at Assize Courts, Quarter Sessions, and other courts, whereby year after year the same persons are summoned, and urging the Northern Government to take steps to amend Section 19 of the Jurors (Ireland) Act, 1871, so as to give the Sheriff the necessary authority, when summoning jurors, to proceed through the lists from beginning to end.

"QUESTIONABLE MAKESHIFTS."—Speaking at the annual social meeting in connection with the Londonderry Baptist Church Mr. S. J. Andrews, the pastor, said that Church workers were such a loyal, generous, and united body of men and women, who gave so liberally of their means to God's work that they had no occasion for bazaars, sales of work, or those other questionable makeshifts, such as half-hour dances, to raise the necessary funds for the support of their Church.

UNION PATIENT WITH £1,000.—The Master reported to the Belfast Guardians yesterday that property to the value of about £1,000 was found in the clothing of a man named William Ingram, who was admitted to the infirmary in January, and died in February. The Master was instructed to hand the money, after deducting the cost of maintenance, to the solicitor acting for the deceased man.

UNION DOCTORS' SALARIES.—A Committee of the Lurgan Guardians has recommended that the Board should increase the salaries of the three medical officers of the workhouse and five dispensary doctors by £10 a head, and those of the other two dispensary medical officers by £30. The salaries at present vary from £100 a year to £190. The recommendation will come up for consideration before a meeting of the Board of Guardians on April 19.

IRISH DIVORCE SUITS.

DECREE AGAINST MILITARY OFFICER.

In the Divorce Court, London, yesterday, Mr. Justice Horridge granted a decree nisi to Mrs. Elizabeth Maria McMunn against her husband, Colonel Andrew McMunn, of the R.A.M.C., who did not defend.

The petitioner said that she married the respondent in 1895 at the Parish Church, St. Catherine's, Dublin. He was born in Ireland. They lived at Osborne terrace, Rathmines, and elsewhere. There were three children. In October, 1921, she obtained a decree of restitution of conjugal rights, which he had not obeyed. He had served in South Africa, India, and in the recent war.

Other evidence was given that the respondent had stayed with another woman at York Hotel, Berners street, London, in August, 1922.

A DUBLIN PETITIONER.

Mr. Justice Horridge also heard the case of Mrs. Maie Emery, of Arnott street, Dublin who petitioned for a divorce from her husband, Herbert Edward Emery, on grounds of cruelty and adultery. There was no defence.

The petitioner said that they were married in 1919 at Newcastle. There were no children. He had been a captain in a fusilier regiment. After the marriage she discovered that he was a heavy drinker. Her father was a wholesale clothing manufacturer in Leeds, and had recently opened a branch in Dublin. On Boxing Night, 1920, witness and her husband went to a dance at Leeds Town Hall. As it was rather rowdy they decided not to stay. She went to the telephone, and was away twenty minutes. When she returned she found the respondent frightfully intoxicated, having got through the best part of a bottle of whiskey, so they went home. She was very annoyed, and remonstrated with him on his conduct. He struck her a blow in the face, injuring her over the eye, which had to be bound up. On other occasions he had threatened her with violence. Her father arranged that he should become manager of a Doncaster branch of the business, but on receiving certain information from her brother she declined to join the respondent at that place.

Mrs. Rose Gould, of Arnott street, Dublin, mother of the petitioner, gave evidence corroborating the cruelty.

Mrs. Alice Thompson, of Arnott street, Dublin, said that when the parties were living in Leeds, in December, 1921, one day she heard a scream from the petitioner. She went into the room, and saw that the respondent had her on the floor, with one knee on her chest. He was threatening to kill her with a table knife that he had in his hand. The witness pulled him off, and the petitioner ran out of the room.

John Gould, of Arnott street, Dublin, the petitioner's brother, said that in December, 1921, his father arranged to give the respondent the post of manager at the Doncaster branch of the business. The witness went there, and saw the respondent speak to a woman outside an hotel one night. The respondent then went and knocked at the side-door of a flat adjoining the shop, and admitted the woman. Next morning the witness went into the shop early, and looked through a window which commanded a view of the flat. He saw the respondent in bed with the woman, with a whiskey bottle on a chair beside the bed. The witness went round and knocked at the side-door, and the woman rushed out hurriedly dressed.

A decree nisi was granted, with costs.

THE HOLYWOOD STONE.

SUGGESTION TO REMOVE IT.

A paper by Mr. Goddard H. Orpen on "The Holywood Stone and the Labyrinth at Knossas" was read at a meeting of the Royal Society of Antiquaries of Ireland at 63 Merrion street, Dublin, yesterday. The labyrinth, which was described with the aid of lantern slides, was in Ireland only found on the Holywood stone, situated near the Wicklow Mountains. The probability was that it was communicated from some foreign monastery in the sixth or seventh century. During those times there was considerable outside communication with Ireland. The most probable place of origin was held to be North Italy. It was decided to submit the paper to the Council for publication.

A suggestion was also made that the stone should be removed to some safe place where there would be no likelihood of its being tampered with. The stone, from which a portion is missing, has, so far, aroused little interest amongst ordinary people.

Mr. Thomas Cassedy, Board of Works, Dublin, was elected a life fellow of the Society. Mr. J. Edwards Byrne, 37 Royal avenue, Belfast, and Mr. Williamson Cubbon, Douglas, Isle of Man, were elected members. Mr. F. Morgan Mooney, Manor House, Raheny, was elected to membership.

GRAIN.

DUBLIN CORN EXCHANGE, Tuesday.—There is practically nothing of any general interest passing through the medium of this Exchange, and there is scarcely any uniformity in the prices quoted for various samples—in fact, values seem to be more or less fixed on a basis of bargaining, according to the character of the grain to be dealt with.

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES.—BALTIC, Tuesday.—WHEAT—Cargo market was again firmer, and holders reserved, but demand generally quiet. No. 1 Northern Manitoba, 9,000 tons shipment from Pacific ports afloat sold 50/-. LIVERPOOL, Tuesday.—Higher quotations from America and bullish bureau report caused the upward movement in speculative positions of WHEAT here to make further progress, but prices afterwards fluctuated moderately, and finished decidedly under best on weak afternoon cables, though still showing a fair advance on the day. C.i.f. parcels No. 1 Manitoba afloat April-May and May-June sold at 47/9 to 47/10½, choice white Karachi April 49/6, May-June 47/6 to 47/9. C.i.f. parcels MAIZE, American mixed afloat and 15th April sold at 36/3. Wheat on the spot was scarce and in fair demand at 1d. to 2d. per cental over Friday's currencies. Maize—Spot parcels firm, and American 2d. to 2½d. per cental dearer than Friday, being now held at 8/- to 8/1½, and River Plate showed 1d. advance at 8/2 to 8/3 per cental. FLOUR in fair request, and now quoted on a higher basis than that recently current. Local milled bakers delivered at 35/- to 35/6 per 280lbs. ex mill. Graded red wheat futures opened ½d. to ¾d. per cental dearer, lost 6d., and then fluctuated moderately, closing steady at ½d. to ¾d. advance on the day. Maize options nominally ½d. per cental dearer.

PROVISIONS.

DUBLIN EGG AND BUTTER, Tuesday.—The market remains very quiet throughout, possibly owing to the backwash of Easter overstocking and disappointing trade for the period. Towards the end of last week it was expected that a more pronounced depression in prices would have to be faced this week, but fortunately for trade, the depression has at least been arrested at the moment, and for both butter and eggs there seems to be a steadier trend in currencies; however, supplies of both are very liberal, and inclined to increase. What the effect of this may be ultimately has yet to be seen. Irish creamery butter is now in fairly good compass, and improved quality nearly up to standard is here and there featuring. Best creams figure about 1/8 per lb., and a few special dairies up to 1/8½ and 1/8¾ per lb.; other grades from 1/6 to 1/7½, according to character. Danish butter 1/8½ to 1/9 per lb., New Zealand around 1/8, perhaps 1/8½ in some instances. Factories are scarce, and nominally quoted at 1/4 to 1/6 for the class to be dealt with at this end. Farmers' butter appears to be realised in local districts, and no quotable quantity is coming this way. The egg trade is dull, with considerable supplies at hand and in sight, with rather a disappointing consumptive demand here, although the shipping inquiry is fair. For best quality case hen eggs from reliable senders, prices are from 10/3 to 11/3 per 120; but in a retail way selected and repacked lots of large fresh eggs make up to 12/- to 13/- per 120, small and ordinary eggs from 8/- to 9/9 and 10/- per 120, chats and the like are perhaps down to 7/6, but no sale for such. Duck eggs a dull sale at the moment, and with a fair quantity coming forward. Average ducks 12/6 to 13/6, some selected clean qualities up to 14/6 per 120.

DUBLIN FRUIT AND VEGETABLE, Tuesday.—There is practically no change in market values of imported apples, pears, oranges, etc. Stocks are big, with off-take slow. Irish apples plentiful; mostly poor class and a cheap sale, viz., 6/- to 8/6 and 10/- per barrel, the major portion of which money goes in railway freights. Imported onions and tomatoes rate much as before. Vegetables in considerable supply, and prices practically back to pre-war level and getting more irregular. Opening sales fairly supported, but afterwards the demand fell off, with corresponding slump in prices, especially of cabbage. Yorks 15/- to 30/-, 35/-, and 38/- per load, savoys 12/- to 25/- and 30/-; cauliflowers 1/6 to 2/9 per dozen for run, 3/- selected, and 6d. to 10d. and 1/- seconds; Swede turnips 2/2 to 3/- per cwt.; new Irish potatoes 3d. to 6d. per lb., rhubarb 5/- to 6/6 and 8/- per dozen bundles, special 9/-, eschalots 1/- to 2/- per dozen crowns, white turnips 6d. per bunch, scallions 4d to 10d. ditto, celery 6d. to 1/6 ditto, lettuce 1/- to 4/6, special 2/3 per dozen, radishes 2d. to 3d. per dozen bunches, parsley 1/- to 1/6 per tray, etc.

Market mostly concerned with store ducks at 2/- to 3/- each. Rabbits show a sharper inquiry, and not enough to hand to cover requirements after recent bad sale. Of course, the brood season is to some extent interfering with usual trade for rabbits.

CORK BUTTER, Tuesday.—The slump which has been steadily affecting prices has created a more active market. Choicest salted 180/- per cwt., creameries average 175/-, choicest mild cured 178/-, farmers' fresh consignments 167/-.

LONDON POTATO, Tuesday.—Liberal supplies of old and poor demand, but smaller quantities of new realised fully steady rates. LIVERPOOL, Tuesday.—Irish BACON remains more or less nominal owing to continued scarcity. Danish in fair demand, and, with sellers more reserved, prices are raised to 115/- to 118/- per cwt. Canadian Wiltshires still firm at recent currencies. There is little change in the position of American bacon here, live hogs at Chicago being again easier, and speculative products somewhat irregular, while moderate imports are entered here. Holders are steady, and late prices generally repeated, heavy averages of Cumberlands exceptionally being reduced to 74/- to 78/- per cwt. HAMS firm for long cut, which meet fair inquiry at higher prices of 92/- to 96/-, and short cut steady at late rates. Shoulders in moderate request at unchanged prices. ## MISCELLANEOUS.

DUBLIN HAY AND STRAW, Smithfield, Tuesday.—There was a heavy market of hay to deal with here this morning, the bulk of which came in from Co. Meath districts, together with a fair delivery from Co. Dublin farmers. The attendance of buyers was fair, many turning up early, so as to get away in time for Punchestown. Trade opened tolerably good, when 7/6 to 8/- per cwt. was freely obtained for best qualities of strong hay, and up to 6/- and 6/6 for tip-top old meadow sorts. At about mid-stage of market, however, a distinct sag became manifest in business, following which values dropped 3d. to 6d. per cwt. on early currencies, but ultimately a good clearance was accomplished at proportionate rates under figures named, according to quality; poor sorts of old meadow stuff down to 3/- or, perhaps, 2/9 per cwt. Straw supply was generally of indifferent class, and sort of requirements all the same. Wheaten and oaten averaged 5/- to 5/3 and 5/6, a few loads of stuff 3d. or 6d. per cwt less.

LONDON HAY AND STRAW, Tuesday.—Fair supplies met fair demand. Best meadow hay £7 10/- to £8, medium £5 10/- to £6 5/-, inferior £4 10/- to £5, best clover £8 10/- to £9, best mixtures and sainfoin £8 5/- to £8 10/-; trussed wheat straw 70/- to 76/-, barley and oat ditto 80/- to 90/- per ton, delivered.

MANCHESTER TRADE, Tuesday.—Large proportion of moderate cloth inquiry is impracticable owing to firmness of sellers. Offers are mentioned from India and to a lesser extent from China, and business in fine fabrics is sometimes possible. Plainer makes practically unsaleable. More favourable advices repeated from Near East and South America. American yarns for home and export slow. Egyptians in fair request.

LONDON FREIGHTS—Tuesday.

Homeward markets maintain a firm tone, but chartering continues on a moderate scale. The River Plate sections displayed firm features, and heavy grain prompt loading quoted 25/- to 26/3, as to size, up river to U.K.-Continent, with options. Chilian copper ore quotes 5½ dollars and nitrate 5 dollars 60 cents to the United States. North American grain meets with fair attention at fully steady rates. Northern range to Continent quoted 16 cents, ditto to Italy 23 cents, and 25 cents per 100lbs. to Greece. American coal also steady at 3¼ dollars to Continent, and coke 5½ dollars, April shipment. Cuba sugar 22/6 to 23/- per ton, prompt loading to London, Liverpool, or Greenock. Outward coal chartering continues restricted, and rates remain weak on ample tonnage offers.

Amputation Avoided
Wrist cut through, Veins and Tendons severed, yet Germolene brought complete cure.

Mr. Edward Mara, 74, Gravel Lane, Blackfriars Road, London, S.E., says:—

"In 1911 my wrist was cut through with a broken window—arteries, veins, tendons and nerves being completely severed. After treatment there was a constant discharge from the wound, and latterly gangrene set in. I had several operations, but in vain. Amputation was suggested, but I did not agree, and went on trying one thing and another till 1921, when I got Germolene. Honestly I was astonished at the effect. First came relief from pain, then the wound gradually closed, and now every trace of the accident is gone but the scar, and I can use my hand as freely as ever."

Germolene is matchless as a remedy for:—

Eczema, Psoriasis, Rashes, Piles, Itching, Ulcers, Cuts and Burns, Skin Eruptions, Ringworm, Pimples, Chapped Hands, Chilblains

War—and Peace.

The capture of Liam Lynch, and his death from wounds, inflict a heavy blow on the forces that are in arms against the State. During recent months he had been the real leader of the Republican extremists. Mr. de Valera was their figure-head, but Mr. Lynch was the brain that has kept the South of Ireland in its present sorry condition of disorder and alarm. A strong fighter, with a good grasp of guerrilla tactics, he, more than any other man, has kindled the temper of revolt and has propped the long resistance to the national Government. There is plenty of evidence that the rank and file of Southern Republicans and some of their military leaders are weary of the barren conflict and realise that, however prolonged, it can have only one end. Captured documents reveal the confusion and anxiety of their counsels. At a recent conference of commanders a motion that "further armed resistance" would be unprofitable was defeated by the narrow margin of one vote. Mr. Lynch, however, remained inflexible, and it was his influence, apparently, that turned the scale against all proposals for surrender. The circumstances of his capture suggest that the troops surprised another of these conferences among the Tipperary hills. In the fight which followed Liam Lynch was wounded mortally and some of his colleagues are said to have escaped with difficulty. The military results of Mr. Lynch's capture cannot fail to be important. It deprives the Republicans of their most efficient and most resolute director of "operations" and it will stimulate the vigour and confidence of the National troops. The political results may be far-reaching. Mr. Lynch, we may admit, was sincere in his pursuit of inexpiable war against the State; and nobody can deny an equal sincerity to the considerable number of his colleagues who had come to disagree with him. His removal is not likely to change their views, but it increases their responsibilities.

Liam Lynch did grave harm to the country which his gifts, used otherwise, might have helped; but thoughtful Irishmen will not seek satisfaction in his suffering and tragic death. They are willing that "by-gones shall be by-gones" from the moment when every man now in arms against the State is ready to obey the State and to respect the people's will. Surely the time has come when every extremist who is not a mere bandit or "gun man" ought to open his ears to the pleadings of common-sense? The end of this struggle is now inevitable. The mass of the people stands behind the Government. The National Army has won a position of overwhelming superiority in the field. The militant Republicans have lost their most active leaders. What can they hope to achieve by further resistance, save more loss of life on their own side, more killing and wounding of brother Irishmen, the infliction of more impoverishment and ruin, of which their own families and neighbours must take a full share? The hour is ripe for peace. The whole country seeks it. At least a large minority of the Republican leaders desires it. If they will submit themselves and their followers now to the national Government and will turn to the long-neglected tasks of peace, their votes, recorded in constitutional fashion at the next elections, will have as much weight, vote for vote, as those of all other citizens of the Free State. We shall welcome the intervention of any influence that can help the Republicans to regard unqualified acceptance of the people's will as a duty rather than as a surrender. Whether the successful mediator be Celt or Italian, he will have done a vast service to Ireland.

The Empire's Trade.

In the House of Commons yesterday the President of the Board of Trade made an interesting statement. Viscount Ednam had proposed a motion calling for the fullest possible extension of trade between the several nations of the Commonwealth, and the immediate development of the Empire's natural resources, in close co-operation with the Governments of the overseas Dominions. He asked the Government to tell the House what policy it proposed to advance at the Imperial Conference in London, next October. Sir Philip Lloyd Greame was quite frank in his reply. He admitted that Britain's export trade, although improving, still was in a bad way, and that very little could be expected from the development of trade with the nations of Europe. At the beginning of last year, he said, the deficit on the export trade was 35 per cent.; in last December it was 25 per cent., and by the end of January it had been reduced still further to 20 per cent. The problem of unemployment, however, could not be solved until this deficit had disappeared altogether; and even in that happy event, as Sir Philip Lloyd Greame remarked, pre-war prosperity hardly could be restored. Mechanical improvements and various other factors have increased the productive capacity of British industry enormously; and the pre-war output can be produced to-day by fewer workers than were necessary eight or nine years ago. In order to absorb all the workless men and women in the country, therefore, the pre-war volume of trade not only must be recovered, but must be overtaken. That, in short, is the problem which faces British industry to-day.

The main object of the Imperial Conference, which will be attended for the first time by an Irish representative, will be the development of some concrete scheme which will keep British trade in British hands throughout the world. The resources of the Empire are almost infinite. Somewhere within its enormous confines virtually every article of human consumption is produced, while the Dominions and the Crown Colonies possess incalculable quantities of raw materials. Yet, every British nation trades extensively with Britain's competitors, thereby encouraging foreign industry and helping to swell the ranks of the unemployed. At present Britain has an excellent opportunity for the inauguration of a new policy of Imperial co-operation. The United States of America, which has been doing a very large trade with Canada and Australia, has adopted a high protective tariff, and is pursuing a policy of economic, as well as political, aloofness. Britain can supply Canada and Australasia with the goods which they have been buying from the United States; but, naturally, they will expect her to purchase a larger quantity of their exportable goods in return. The development of this inter-Imperial trade will be discussed fully at the forthcoming Conference, and an effort will be made to secure an extension of the Imperial preference scheme which will benefit all concerned. At present Canadian or Australian, South African or Irish, goods enjoy only a preference of one-third at British ports, while, conversely, British goods are in the same case at the ports of the Dominions. There is no good reason why the rate should not be increased, say, to 50 per cent., or why ultimately full Free Trade within the Empire should not be introduced. It is not an impossible ideal, and its achievement would open a new chapter, not only in the history of the Empire, but in the history of the world.

Young Mediums.

In his recently published book, "Hail! Columbia," Mr. W. L. George discusses the prevailing craze of planchette, table-rapping, mediumistic séances and other alleged methods of linking up the living with the dead. "I do not know much about spiritualism," he says in effect; "but I do not believe that a bunch of jolly real-estate men's wives in Jacksonville can compel the spirit of Napoleon to come and entertain them. If it is so, then the tribulations of this world are as nothing to those of the next." This is the view that the average man, who knows nothing of the biological arguments, entertains of the antics of the spiritualists and their mediums—or, as it might be put more aptly, of the mediums and their spiritualists. With the theory of spiritualism the normal citizen does not concern himself. He believes, with what Mr. Arthur Balfour calls "passionate intensity," in immortality and in the world to come; but he rejects the whole machinery of dark cabinets and hand-holding, of cataleptic women and admittedly eccentric masters of ceremonies. With what enormous disgust, therefore, must the average parent read in a newly published book, to which a preface by Mr. G. K. Chesterton lends the imprimatur of sobriety, that "there are at present 13,340 child members of the Lyceum Union, or spiritualist Sunday schools," and that "the aim of the Lyceum is to train young mediums." It may be too much to suggest that either the peace of the home or Christianity is menaced by this condition of things. The most passionate advocate of the liberty of the subject will admit, however, that the possibility of the submergence of human progress and enlightenment beneath a cataclysm of hysterical nonsense is a matter of concern to the State.

Feats of Dancing.

Miss Alma Cummings has broken all records in New York by dancing continuously for fifty hours. At the close of the performance this redoubtable young woman declared herself to be hungry, but not tired. She got through seven partners, two orchestras, two phonographs and several pairs of slippers. How she succeeded in changing her slippers without stopping is a mystery; but Cinderella is reputed to have done something of the same sort, and it may be possible. As a feat of endurance Miss Cummings's performance must go down in the annals of "sport" along with those of the forty-day fasters and the long-distance perambulator-pushers; but it serves no useful purpose. "A thing of beauty is a joy for ever," as Keats justly observed; but it has yet to be decided that the Tango and the Jazz are things of sufficient beauty to go on for ever, or even for fifty hours. Dancing is tolerated for many minor qualities rather than for one supreme effect. It permits feminine grace and agility to be exhibited. It provides light and invigorating exercise for young and middle-aged gentlemen. Under no circumstances, however, is any satisfaction to be gleaned from the fact that a young woman can dance for fifty hours at a stretch. The feat simply makes the contemplation of the dance-hall abhorrent.

LATE MME. BERNHARDT.

WESTMINSTER CATHEDRAL THRONGED FOR REQUIEM.

Requiem Mass for the repose of the soul of the late Madame Sarah Bernhardt was celebrated at Westminster Cathedral yesterday morning, and was attended by a congregation which taxed to its utmost the capacity of the Cathedral, huge though it is.

Sir Gerald du Maurier, who acted as a steward, remarked when the doors were closed:—"All the actors and actresses in London are here."

His Majesty the King, Queen Alexandra, the Prime Minister, the Marquis Curzon of Kedleston and the First Lord of the Admiralty were among those represented. The Lord Mayor of London and the Sheriffs attended in State, and they, in common with the Royal representatives, were received at the main entrance by the Most Rev. Dr. Butt, who presided at the Mass, on behalf of the Cardinal Archbishop.

Others present included Miss Ellen Terry, Mrs. Kendal, Lady Tree, Mr. Corney Grain, Mme. Albani Gye, and also the wife of the French Ambassador, and all the available members of the French Embassy staff. Viscount Burnham, Mr. T. P. O'Connor, M.P., and Sir George Frampton attended.

The celebrant of the Mass was Rev. Father Nartus, a French priest, who is attached to the Cathedral.

PRINCE'S SORE THROAT.

SPEECH READ BY EQUERRY.

Owing to hoarseness the Prince of Wales was unable to address the College of Estate Management in London yesterday, and his speech was read by his equerry. His Royal Highness, who was present, was otherwise quite well and intends to compete in a point-to-point race in the Vale of White Horse to-day.

The Prince's address stated that the proper management of land in this country was every year becoming more vital to our welfare. We could not afford to allow those to whose care it was entrusted to be anything other than qualified for their task, and the standard of qualification must not be a low one. The only way of getting this training was for those concerned professionally with the land to provide the necessary means of education. All other important professions had realised this, and all of them, in one form and another, provides for the proper education of those about to enter their ranks.

Mr. T. A. Lewis, M.P., who is in a London nursing home, having recently undergone an operation, is making satisfactory progress.

SOVIET OR TSAR.

The Russian Monarchist Movement.

(BY J. D. CLIFFORD.)

ALL over Europe—in fact in every country to which Russian emigrants fled after the 1917 revolution—there are strong movements working constantly and devoting much energy to the restoration of the Monarchy in Russia. Last November a conference of all the branches of these associations was held in Paris, in which sixty delegates, representing one hundred and fifty organisations in Europe and East Asia, took part. Nikolai Nikolayevitch, a relation of the late Tsar, was elected leader of the entire movement, and Maria Fedorovna, Dowager Tsarina (mother of the late Tsar) was chosen as symbolic representative of the indisputable authority of the Crown.

The working in harmony of all groups of emigrants favourable to Monarchist principles was approved and agreed upon. The Jewish problem, also the integrity of the Russian Empire, came under consideration but it was decided that the time for action upon those two problems was not yet ripe. First of all, Russia must get a monarch, and after that the integrity of the Empire and the fate of the Jews could be undertaken.

Two Groups.

The Russian Monarchists may be divided, roughly, into two groups—the Centralists and the Decentralists. A pamphlet recently published by two Finlanders, Gadolin and Erik von Born, throws much light on the aims and ideals of these two parties. It is entitled, "Political Visits to Russian Monarchists," and shows their attitude towards Poland, Finland, Esthonia, Latvia, and Lithuania. We can see by it that they have in view another shifting of boundaries and geographical values and a complete re-drawing of the map of Northern Europe.

According to this pamphlet, the Centralists, who have their headquarters in Berlin, dream of the restoration of the Russian Empire in its old form, with one united, centralised Government for all Russia. Under the administration, according to their plan the Baltic States will be reabsorbed; Poland will be allowed to remain an independent State subject to the creation of a new Polish-Russian frontier, and Finland will be permitted to retain her national sovereign rights. The capital of Russia would be Moscow, with a limited peoples' representation.

A Free State.

The decentralists, who make Munich their headquarters, would be satisfied with a States' union; that is to say, each State can have its own independent administration—a kind of Free State. The sovereign head and political representative of all the States must be the Russian Tsar, just as King George is head of the British Commonwealth of Nations. According to this Monarchist group, it would be to the advantage of Poland, Finland, and the new Baltic Republics to attach themselves once more to this "States Union."

This idea of the federation of Russian States is not new. At the time of the Decembrist conspiracy, in 1825, two different tendencies already existed as to the conception of Russian States—namely, that of the Centralists and of the Federalists. These ideas were developed by the leader of the Decembrist rising, Colonel Pestel, and also by the Ukrainian historian, Kostomaroff, down to the time of the second Duma, 1907, and ultimately led to the founding of a group called "Autonomous-Federalists." This group recognised that Russia, as a political necessity, should be divided into autonomous States. In 1916, after the reaction of the murder in Petrograd of Stolypin, ex-Premier of Russia, this group renewed its activities, but in 1917, owing to the revolution, it became clear that the idea of federalism would no longer hold good, because the Baltic States and Finland would fight for their independence, which, as a matter of fact, they achieved the following year.

A Wide Gulf.

The Russian Monarchists, Centralists and Decentralists, who dream of a resurrection of the old Russian Empire as it was in 1900, before the Russo-Japanese war, do not realise that a "States Union" can only be a success if its members are more or less on the same cultural basis and speak the same languages. One must take into consideration the fact that the Russian people, long before the revolution, stood, in their education and culture, far beneath the border peoples. The gulf has widened since the revolution, so that it is absurd to think of a common states form.

The Finns, for instance, have a nationality and a culture of their own quite as distinct from the Russians as from the Letts. The Finnish capital is only thirty miles from Petrograd, but, even in the old days, Finland began the moment one stepped into the train at the Finnish station, Petrograd. The atmosphere of cleanliness and orderliness was different then, and is more accentuated now.

In Lithuania, Latvia, and Esthonia one is conscious of the atmosphere of Europe. During the last four years these independent Baltic States have turned towards the West, and all political possibilities are being linked up with Western Europe. In Riga an English daily paper is published, and the English language has been adopted in the schools as a second language, where formerly Russian or German was taught. Poland, which has been so often swallowed, will not allow herself to be drawn in again: on the contrary, she is now anxious to do a little swallowing on her own account—even Lithuania is trying to increase her territory by laying "claim" to Memel.

The Border States.

On the whole, the Russian Monarchist movement, whatever its ultimate success may be in other directions, stands a very poor chance of reconquering those countries, in view of the fact that Poland, Finland, and the Baltic States have been recognised by the whole world as independent nationalities, and have not the least desire to be subjected once more to the Russian Empire. Their reconquest would mean long and bloody wars, and would, besides, drag Russia still more into the abyss of suffering and desolation.

GAIETY THEATRE.

"THE GONDOLIERS."

Last night the production of "The Gondoliers" at the Gaiety Theatre by the Rathmines and Rathgar Musical Society was marked by thoroughness and artistic care. The satire of the opera is as scintillating and pointed as ever, and the beautiful numbers were liked all the more because of their familiarity. The duets for Luiz and Casilda last night were exceptional as to balance and relation, the quaint two-note figure of flute and oboe adding a rich body to the singers, Mr. Joseph O'Neill and Miss Queenie Shea.

Miss Queenie Shea, indeed, shows great promise, and should go far. Miss Mabel Home, so dainty as "Phœbe" in "The Yeomen of the Guard" on Monday night, was convincing as the "Duchess of Plaza Toro." The "Duke" of Mr. A. E. Glynn was somewhat indistinct at first, but the "suite," with the "delicately modulated instrument," pointed the entry well, and the Duke found himself as the opera went on.

Mr. A. J. O'Farrell was a good "Don Alhambra," singing with distinction, and bringing out the witticism to the full. Mr. T. W. Hall, as "Guiseppe," was instinct with the music and gaiety of the part, and his work with Mr. Henry Glynn, the "Maro," was quite a musical treat. Mr. Glynn sang "Take a Pair of Sparkling Eyes" with very nice taste and feeling.

Miss May Doyle, as "Giannetta," sang with charm "Kind sir, you cannot have the Heart," showing her clear round tone finely. Miss Florence Howley as "Tessa" also made a good study. "When a Merry Maiden Marries" was both piquant and tender.

The music, under the direction of Mr. T. H. Weaving, was given with understanding and judgment. The rhythm that so exactly hits off the sense of the words was crisp, then stately, now heavy with feeling.

The cast was capably filled throughout, and the chorus was good.

LIBERAL UNITY.

Mr. Lloyd George will address the Manchester League of Young Liberals at the Free Trade Hall on April 28th. Mr. Asquith has been invited to do so on a separate platform and will give his decision to-day on his return from the country.

FREE STATE HIGH COURTS.

Opening of Easter Sittings in Dublin Castle To-day.

Dublin Castle and its magnificent State Apartments yesterday bore a striking resemblance to the stage of a theatre before the raising of the curtain. Carpenters and "scene-shifters," bearing their burdens of furniture of all sorts and descriptions, were busily engaged. And truly a great "shifting of scenery" was taking place, for to-day in Dublin Castle occurs the formal opening of the Easter Sittings of the High Courts.

Since the occupation of the Four Courts by armed men in April, 1922, the High Courts have been temporarily accommodated in the King's Inns in Henrietta street—a place inconvenient alike for the Judges, the members of the Bar, the Press representatives, jurors, and the public generally. As the new home of the High Courts Dublin Castle will have many advantages, the chief being that in its central situation it is better even than the Four Courts, while the many corridors and the spacious apartments at the Castle lend themselves admirably to the remodelling that is required for their new purposes.

Thus we find that the beautiful St. Patrick's Hall, with its fine architecture and richly decorated walls, has lent itself admirably for adaptation as the Law Library. It is conveniently situated on the first floor in the centre of the building, and upon the same floor all the Courts are being housed. There will be ample seating accommodation in the new Library.

The work of adapting the apartments to their new uses is not yet completed, but sufficient has been accomplished to indicate that the new Law Courts, when completed, will be worthy of the Irish Free State.

A considerable number of books have already been obtained, and will be ready for use in the Law Library, and it is confidently anticipated that the great loss sustained at the Four Courts in this respect will be repaired within a measurable period.

Accommodation for the Bar.

Good rooms have been allotted to the Bar for use as dressing-rooms, but, as they have not yet been fitted up, temporary accommodation is being provided for immediate requirements. Provision has also been made for a refreshment room for the Bar similar to the one at the Four Courts, but that will not be ready for some time.

As to the Courts themselves, which will be seven in number, they will all be located on the first floor of the block of buildings on the south side of the Upper Castle Yard. Thus what has hitherto been the Throne Room—a magnificent apartment—now becomes "Court No. 4," but is happily not entirely shorn of its architectural and artistic beauties. The Court of Appeal finds its new home in the apartment which was hitherto the Privy Council Chamber. One of the State Drawing Rooms now becomes "Court No. 1," and there Mr. Justice Powell, or the judge who may be acting for him during his illness, will dispose of the Chancery business.

In another State Drawing Room—"Court No. 2"—the Master of the Rolls will dispose of the Chancery business allotted to him. The Throne Room, already alluded to, will be used for trials by jury, and "Court No. 5," formerly the Supper Room, close to the Law Library, will also be used for jury trials. King George's Supper Hall also becomes the scene of future trials by jury as "Court No. 6," but this court is not yet ready for occupation.

It is hoped that when the Law Courts are completed as much as possible of the old decorations of the State Apartments will have been preserved, as there is no reason why the Law Courts of the new era should be made to carry the bare and gloomy look of prisons.

The Taxing Masters' and Chancery Registrar's offices also find their new home in what were State Apartments on the first floor, while the beautiful apartments hitherto reserved as Royal bed and dressing rooms are also being adapted to the requirements of the law.

It will be impossible, of course, to know what the acoustic properties of the new Courts will be until the members of the Bar have had some experience in them, but even the most pessimistic have to admit that they can safely predict an improvement on Henrietta street, which now becomes an uncherished memory.

Telegraphic and telephonic arrangements for the new Courts are not yet completed, but it is hoped to have them soon in working order on at least as adequate a scale as at the Four Courts.

When the Easter Sittings open to-day there will be no formal ceremony such as that heretofore held at the Four Courts.

Cases in the List.

A large number of common law cases are listed for the Easter Term.

Messrs. Arthur Guinness, Son and Co., Ltd., are the appellants on a case stated by the Commissioners for special purposes of the Income Tax Acts. It appears from the case stated that at a meeting of the Commissioners held in November, 1921, Messrs. Guinness appealed against additional assessments of income tax in the sums of £20,450 for the year ending 5th April, 1919; £17,217 for the year ending 5th April, 1920, and £20,114 for 1921; and against an assessment to excess profits duty in the sum of £126,014 (subject to a set-off in respect of deficiencies in previous accounting periods) for the accounting period of three months ending 30th June, 1917.

The question raised on the appeal is whether certain profits arising from the sale of barley ought to be included as profits arising from a trade or business carried on by the appellants for the purpose of assessment of income tax and excess profit duty.

An application will come before Mr. Justice Powell's Court on notice to the Government on behalf of Arthur Fitzgerald O'Hara, of Manchester, for a writ of habeas corpus.

Mr. O'Hara was arrested in England on an order signed by the British Home Secretary and deported to Ireland, where he has been interned by the Free State Government.

In Mr. Justice Powell's Court two actions and an adjourned memorandum and an adjourned summons have been listed, but it is expected that in the usual course a number of others will come in.

In the Court of Appeal there are twenty new trial motions, among them the case of Fairclough v. Archer, in which the plaintiff claims damages for breach of contract by the defendant to employ plaintiff as manager and damages for wrongful dismissal.

In the Master of the Rolls's Court there are six actions and three adjourned memoranda, one of the actions being in connection with the West of Ireland Fishery Company.

KING'S VISIT TO POPE.

PROTEST MEETING IN LONDON.

Nearly 10,000 men and women, Protestants, assembled at the Albert Hall, London, last night to appeal against the proposed Royal visit to the Pope. A souvenir programme sold in the Hall contained an extract from the Bill of Rights, dated 1689, which set forth that any person who "shall hold communion with the See or Church of Rome" was to be "excluded from exercising any regal power."

Lord Gisborough, who presided, announced that he had sent the following telegram to the King:—

"Ten thousand of your dutiful subjects humbly pray that it may be possible for you to forego your projected visit to the Pope in view of the fact that such visit will be a source of much sorrow to millions of your devoted and loyal Protestant subjects."

The Chairman said that some people referred to the fact that the late King visited the Pope, and they asked why should not the present King. The times to-day are entirely altered, declared his lordship. There were tens of thousands who prayed that that visit would not be made, but to-day those tens of thousands had become millions. Lord Gisborough said that the visit would be regarded by Roman Catholics all over the world as an acknowledgment of the superiority and supremacy of the Pope.

Prebendary A. W. Gough moved a resolution appealing to the Prime Minister to advise the King to abandon the proposed visit.

The motion was carried, as also was a resolution calling upon the Government to withdraw the British Envoy to the Vatican.

THE MEMBER FOR ANGLESEY.

Sir Robert Thomas, the new Member for Anglesey, has received a congratulatory telegram from Sir John Simon, who says he is looking forward to welcoming him to the House of Commons.

LONDON LETTER.

THE PREMIER'S VOICE

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
TUESDAY NIGHT.

The Prime Minister was again in his place in the House of Commons this afternoon, but took only a formal part in the proceedings, so there was no opportunity of judging whether or not his voice had improved. The questions on the paper addressed to him were answered by other Ministers, and when the Leader of the Opposition made the usual inquiry as to the course of business it was the Chancellor of the Exchequer who replied.

The Home Secretary stated that one of the persons recently deported to Ireland had been released, partly on the ground of ill health and partly because he had given an undertaking not to engage in hostilities against the Free State Government. He declined, however, for obvious reasons, to give the person's name. So far only three persons have appealed to the Advisory Committee against their deportation, and the Committee will sit shortly to consider their applications.

Several questions relating to British trade with Germany under present conditions were put to the President of the Board of Trade. From Sir Philip Lloyd Greame's replies it appeared that the large falling off was due not so much to the action of the French and Belgians, who had modified their regulations at our request, as to the "obstructiveness" of the German Government.

A New Minister.

Mr. F. C. Thomson, K.C., made his first appearance as Solicitor-General for Scotland, and was greeted with the usual cheers. The brunt of, answering the Scottish queries fell, however, upon Captain Elliott, who was much heckled by Mr. Macpherson and others regarding the Scottish fishery dispute. The allegation is that the German trawlers catch fish in the Moray Firth, from which Scottish and English fishermen are excluded, and then add insult to injury by selling their catches in Scottish ports. Captain Elliott assured the House that the fish so disposed of were caught by the Germans in Icelandic waters, but he did not succeed in convincing Mr. Macpherson.

The Betting Tax.

Rumours as to a tax on betting were numerous to-day, and it is now said that the idea was considered by the Treasury last year. The present Chancellor of the Exchequer is said to be disposed to try the experiment, and to have prepared his Budget so that the tax could be introduced without difficulty. The Cabinet, however, will have the deciding voice, and in the Lobby of the House of Commons the impression is that the Cabinet will turn the proposal down. The Government, it is thought, is faced with too many difficulties to add to them.

Housing.

In the House of Commons there is very great anxiety to see the text of the Housing Bill, to be introduced by Mr. Chamberlain next week. The intention of the Government was that the text should be circulated on Monday next (Budget day) but members are opposed to that idea, and it is consequently likely that the text will be made available either to-morrow or Thursday.

Slum Clearance.

It is understood that, when the text of the Housing Bill is issued, it will be found that the proposals for slum clearance will have been left out. Mr Chamberlain is said to be of opinion that the time has not yet come to consider the subject fully, and in this he is probably correct. There is no use in clearing slum areas until there are decent homes for the occupants to occupy. A clearance at present would mean that hundreds of families in certain districts would have to crowd into an already crowded district, where a new slum neighbourhood would at once begin to develop.

Cushendall.

Mr. T. P. O'Connor is to ask Mr Bridgeman to-morrow whether the report of the Cushendall inquiry has been presented to the Government; and, if so, when it will be published.

Ex-Soldiers in Ireland.

Colonel Newman on Thursday will ask the Prime Minister whether he is aware that a British Act of Parliament setting aside a fund of £1,500,000 for the construction of houses for ex-Service men in Ireland, and establishing a trust for the administration of the fund, is almost totally inoperative; that the Government of the Free State has failed to nominate a representative on the trust; that in certain cases the fund is being used to provide houses and holdings for men who did no service in the Great War; and, seeing that the money is being found by the British taxpayer, what action does he propose to take.

Mr. Cahir Healy's Case.

Mr. Pringle intends to-morrow to call attention to the official visit of the Secretary of War to Northern Ireland, and will ask the Prime Minister whether, in view of the re-establishment of law and order in Northern Ireland, any communication passed between the Secretary of State and the Northern Government as to the 200 internees at Larne; and, in particular, as to the junior member for Tyrone and Fermanagh, who has been interned since May 23rd, 1922.

Sarah Bernhardt.

Cardinal Bourne was present at the Requiem Mass for Sarah Bernhardt at Westminster Cathedral this morning, when the King, Queen Alexandra, the Prime Minister, and the French Ambassador were represented, while the Lord Mayor attended in state. Ellen Terry, who was with Mrs. Kendal and Mr. Allan Aynesworth, was a very touching figure, for she is at last growing old. She occupied a prominent place among the great gathering of actors and actresses of note, who, clad in black, nearly filled the nave of the great building. Many brought flowers, which they placed at the foot of the catafalque erected at the sanctuary gates, so that there was soon quite a pile of Parma violets and lilac, both flowers particularly loved by Sarah Bernhardt.

Herr Stinnes's Arrest.

The news from France concerning the arrest of Herr Hugo Stinnes and his wife while travelling in the Ruhr sounds rather extraordinary. It is strange that Herr Stinnes should have trusted himself in the Ruhr, and just as strange that the French should have thought it necessary to arrest him. That the couple should have been locked up in a baggage van without explanation sounds almost incredible; but so the story goes. The news was regarded as something of a sensation when it was first received here to-day, but almost directly afterwards advices followed stating that Herr Stinnes had been released after an interrogation, and allowed to continue his journey. Herr Stinnes, who is a sinister figure in the present reparations crisis, dominates no fewer than 1,340 companies, and employs over a million and a half of workpeople. Only a fortnight ago he returned to Berlin from Italy, where he had been rebuffed by the Government in his efforts to secure intervention.

AMERICAN BANKER DEAD.

DEATH OF MR. LIAM LYNCH.

OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED THIS MORNING.

CAPTURED AFTER FIGHT IN TIPPERARY.

NARROW ESCAPE OF MESSRS. DE VALERA AND BREEN.

The death was officially announced at 2.45 this morning of Mr. Liam Lynch at Clonmel at 8.45 last night.

The capture of Mr. Liam Lynch by the National troops after a fight in Tipperary was reported yesterday afternoon. It was officially stated that he was seriously wounded. Unofficial accounts state that Messrs. de Valera and Dan Breen narrowly escaped capture.

ACCOUNTS OF FIGHT AND CAPTURE.

The National Army Headquarters yesterday issued the following official report:—

"During operations by the troops south of Clonmel this morning, Liam Lynch, Chief of the Irregulars, was captured at Knockfallen, near Newcastle.

"He was seriously wounded in the engagement which preceded his arrest."

THE CAPTURE.

A Clonmel Correspondent, writing on Tuesday evening, says:—This afternoon a rumour, later confirmed, of the fight in Newcastle district, resulting in the capture of Mr. Liam Lynch, Chief of Staff of the anti-Treaty Party, created a good deal of excitement in Clonmel.

The narrow escape of Mr. de Valera and other leaders was also reported.

The following facts were available this afternoon:—

Troops advancing over the country at the foot of the Knockmealdown Mountains, in the Newcastle-Ballybacon district, were fired upon. The troops returned the fire, and Mr. Lynch was captured, severely wounded.

Several others, including Mr. de Valera and Mr. Dan Breen, escaped.

It is evident that a conference was being held in the district.

When Mr. Lynch was wounded his companions tried to carry him away, but owing to the hot pursuit by the troops they parted, and he was captured. He was removed in an ambulance.

[It is noteworthy that the three principal arrests of Republican leaders were affected in the same area in South Tipperary. Liam Deasy was arrested near Ballylooby, some ten miles from Newcastle, and Con Maloney a few miles further away in the Glen of Aherlow.]

MR. LIAM LYNCH.

HIS PART IN THE PRESENT CONFLICT.

The death of Liam Lynch removes one of the most important—if he was not actually the most important—of the leaders of the Republican party.

Though his name did not come prominently to public notice until July or August of last year, he was one of the most active members of the I.R.A. in the South of Ireland in the campaign that preceded the Truce.

Throughout the hostilities against the British he was in charge of the 1st Southern Division (Cork and Kerry) of the I.R.A., and at an early stage his activities in West and North Cork had attracted the "interest" of the military authorities in that area. His several deadly ambuscades in the county quickly took the Auxiliaries on his trail, and for months his time was fully occupied in endeavouring to evade capture at their hands.

When the Treaty split occurred he took sides with the minority party. At that time he evinced none of the fiery opposition to the Treaty which was shown by Cathal Brugha, Eamon de Valera, Liam Mellowes, and other members of the anti-Treaty party. When efforts were being made to reconcile the two parties before the general election, it is known that Mr. Lynch was most anxious that a settlement should be reached. On the outbreak of hostilities he, with Mr. Cathal Brugha, threw in his lot with the revolting section.

At no time during the fighting in Dublin City did he seem to be very prominently identified with the Four Courts Executive. In the course of events he was captured by troops in the city, but was afterwards released.

He was found under arms a short time later, at Castlecomer, Co. Kilkenny, was made a prisoner, but was again released.

IN LIMERICK.

His next appearance was in Limerick, where he is said to have made his famous utterance:—"The people were merely sheep, to be driven anywhere at will." It is but right to say that when the words were first attributed to him Mr. Lynch contradicted them in the Cork Press. Hostilities had not broken out in Limerick at the time of his arrival. A truce had been agreed to, and in the negotiations which followed he took an active part. With him at the time were Sean Moylan, Dan Breen, and most of the other Southern leaders. Their conferences with the National Army leaders, then in Limerick, failed, however, to avert the conflict.

Mr. Lynch now began to take a far more prominent part in the armed activities of the Republicans. After the arrest of Messrs. O'Connor, Mellowes, and most of the other leaders in Dublin, he assumed chief command, with the title of "Chief of Staff."

In October of last year Mr. de Valera was elected as "President of the Republic," with twelve members of the anti-Treaty Party as "Council of State." Of the "Army Executive," appointed at the same time, Mr. Lynch is dead, and four others have been arrested. Those are Liam Deasy, "Deputy Chief of Staff;" Ernest O'Malley, "Assistant Chief of Staff;" Con Maloney, "Adjutant-General," and Tom Derrig, "Assistant Adjutant-General." Mr. Lynch had acted as the Chief of Staff for nearly seven months. According as members of the Executive were captured they were replaced by promotions from among the next in seniority on the Executive.

AN UNFLINCHING OPPONENT.

From the time when he issued his famous Southern proclamation calling on all "citizens of the Republic" to oppose the Government in arms, Mr. Liam Lynch was himself the most obstinate and unflinching of the Government's opponents. To all appeals for peace, on the terms of submission to the Government, he turned a consistently deaf ear. His reply to Mr. Liam Deasy's appeal was a flat refusal to entertain any proposals of the nature indicated by his captured Assistant Chief of Staff.

Towards all of the several peace "feelers" initiated within the ranks of the Irregulars of late, his attitude was equally short and definite. His was the deciding vote against the peace motion raised by a member of his own Executive.—"Commandant-General" Tom Barry—less than a fortnight ago. On his casting vote, presumably, the motion was lost. From that point some idea may be formed of the importance of his arrest and death.

It is apparent from the disclosures made in the captured correspondence recently published that a critical situation has developed in the South on the peace question. Matters have been coming to a head in this connection for some time, and it is evident from the captured correspondence that the Southern Irregular forces now demand that a definite decision for or against a continuance of the war should be reached.

It would seem that it was to deal with this situation that Liam Lynch was on his visit to the South.

CAPTURED DOCUMENTS: OFFICIAL REPORTS.

The Irish Free State Government's Publicity Department issues the following copies of captured documents:—

"Mr. E. de Valera to 'Adjt.-Gen.,' 22nd February, 1923:—

"I am very anxious to hear from C/S (Liam Lynch) on the situation down South. Our reply (to Neutral I.R.A. Association) without knowing that situation is but as something based on air. At present my attitude is that, no matter what the consequences, the truce offer must be rejected. It would simply amount to letting the Free State function, and if we are ever driven to that stage a simple 'quit' would be the best."

"Mr. de Valera to 'Adjt.-Gen.,' 5th March, 1923:—

"It is strange that the C/S (Liam Lynch) has sent no report. His silence seems ominous, to me. I think the former O/C 2nd Southern Division should proceed to that area and investigate the conditions there. That area, as you know, has lost most of its senior officers, and it will probably be a fruitful hunting ground for peace moves. It is important he should get there quickly."

[Note.—That Mr. de Valera's apprehensions were justified is now known through the documents published yesterday morning.]

"In reply to the 'Adjt.-Gen.' of the irregulars, Mr. P. Ruttledge, who describes himself as 'Minister of Home Affairs,' writes on 30th March, 1923:—

"This matter (of the deportees from Britain) is being attended to by this Department. A test case from Manchester has been selected, and proceedings taken here for habeas corpus. Art O'Brien is taking proceedings in his case on the other side. It would be much better if the deportees would await result of these proceedings before taking action themselves, as proceedings will be very costly. Any communications from deportees should be forwarded at once to P. H. O'Reilly, solicitor, Ormond quay, who has been appointed by me to look after those cases."

"JUDGE FOR YOURSELF."

"From 'O/C., Britain' to 'C/S.,' Dublin, 30th March:—

"All officers arrested in Liverpool, all officers arrested in Newcastle. Commdt. and Adjt. arrested in Glasgow, as well as most of the Battalion Officers. Officers arrested in Birmingham. Two company Captains arrested in London.

"This seriously affects every area. You knew the possibilities of operations before. Judge for yourself the possibilities now."

"From M. Tuomey for 'Chief of Staff' to 'O/C. Britain,' 5th April, '23:—

"Our organisation appeared to be pretty hardly hit by arrests. I hope that others will be appointed to replace them, and that in the areas where they were arrested our organisation will not be allowed to drop. I am pleased to note supplies are not affected. French wireless sets—I am glad to see these can be got. I am tired of asking the Director of Signals to let you know his requirements. I have received military publications."

"M. Tuomey to 'C/S.,' 5th April:—

"Herewith copy of communication from O/C. Britain. I am afraid the chances of operations in Britain are now negligible, if not altogether impossible."

"The following is an attempt to justify the murder of Red Cross men:—

"'Adjt.-Genl.' to 'Director of Publicity,' 26/2/'23:—

Referring to F.S. communiqué re Newport fight, and supposed shooting of Red Cross men, it would be well to point out that in this very area a doctor has been arrested simply because he did medical work for Republican troops. When F.S. give same facilities and rights to Red Cross men and M.O.'s of Republican forces as they demand themselves, such incidents will not happen."

"IMPORTANCE OF U.S. LETTERS."

"Adjt.-Gen. to 'Director of Communications,' 2nd April:—

"Foreign communication is disorganised at present. I have discussed matter, and arranged that you take charge for the time being. Unless absolutely safe postal addresses can be got—and I don't see how any address is safe at present—Cross-Channel and Overseas mails will have to go by courier. It is much more important that American correspondence should be safe than even G.H.Q. stuff at home."

"From 'C./S.' (Liam Lynch) to 'Adjt.-Gen.', 31st March:—

"During operations last week the enemy captured the Q.M. Waterford Brigade and also £60—brigade funds in his possession . . .

"A communication of mine to Commdt.-Gen. Moylan was recently captured by enemy. In this reference was made to 'Con.' and 'Liam'—viz., Con (Moylan) had surrendered his arms to enemy in order to save Liam (Moylan), who was sentenced to death. The enemy Publicity Department substituted Con Moloney and Liam Deasy for above names. Please instruct D/Publicity to have true facts known. While enemy did not mention Moloney and Deasy some of our people took it so."

["Note by Government Publicity:—Mr. Lynch's reference to 'Con' and 'Liam' was published exactly as he wrote it and without comment. If Mr. Lynch will in future use surnames as well as Christian names his followers will not be so liable to misunderstand him."]

FREE STATE PARLIAMENT.

BOTH HOUSES MEET TO-DAY.

Both the Senate and the Dail will meet to-day after the Easter recess.

The Summer Time Bill will occupy the attention of the Dail; and the Senate will have before it the Damage to Property (Compensation) Bill, which has been passed by the Dail.

MEETING OF IRISH BISHOPS.

RUMOURED PEACE EFFORTS.

NO OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

A meeting of the Standing Committee of the Roman Catholic Bishops took place yesterday at University College, St. Stephen's Green, Dublin.

Coming at a moment when peace proposals are greatly in evidence, and when the Papal delegate is still in Dublin, the meeting aroused considerable interest, in view of a report published in the evening papers to the effect that Monsignor Luzio, the Papal representative, was present.

There was a further rumour that very definite proposals for peace were to be placed before the Bishops by representatives of the Republican Party.

Inquiries failed to elicit any confirmation of the rumours about peace proposals, and as the Bishops issued no statement, there was no authoritative information on the subject.

An Irish Times representative ascertained that Monsignor Luzio did not attend the meeting, and, further, that the meeting had been arranged several months ago, and had no special reference to recent events. Cardinal Logue presided.

The Press Association's Special Correspondent in Dublin telegraphed last night:—

"I learn that at to-day's meeting of the Irish Hierarchy, held in Dublin, the Catholic Bishops drew up a petition to Monsignor Luzio, the Vatican representative, as a result of which it was arranged to-night that the Papal Envoy should have an interview with President Cosgrave to-morrow."

The Correspondent adds that the petition may very well be regarded as the expression of the desire of the Irish people, through their ecclesiastical leaders, for an early peace.

HOPES OF PEACE.

At the annual meeting of the Irish Association for the Prevention of Intemperance, held in the Mansion House, Dublin, yesterday,

The Rev. Father Laurence, O.S.F.C., presiding, said that they all hoped that peace was not only in the air, but almost within their grasp. (Applause.) Everything indicated it. The very latest reports indicated it, and that being so, he was convinced that having a Christian Government as they now had, that Government would set as its task to reform the laws in such a way as to make drunkenness, in a large way, impossible in Ireland. (Applause.)

A SURPRISED WORKMAN.

EXPLOSIVES FOUND IN A TUNNEL.

A Glasgow message says that it is thought that a quantity of explosives which were found in a railway tunnel near Kelvinside, Glasgow, were portion of the explosives which were stolen from a store at Knightswood Brickworks during the week-end.

The discovery was made by a workman stumbling over a mound in the tunnel. He found buried beneath the mound 112 sticks of gelignite and 27 coils of fuse. The place of concealment was a shallow hole between the ends of two sleepers.

The authorities are of opinion that the explosives were placed there temporarily prior to their removal to Ireland, for the use of Republicans.

Three men who have been detained in connection with the raid on the Knightswood Brickworks, when two watchmen were "held up" were yesterday remanded at the Glasgow Police Court.

ITALY'S BUDGET.

WIDE ECONOMIES.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

ROME, Tuesday.

The Premier, Signor Mussolini, will announce in a few days that the Italian Budget deficit for the fiscal year 1923-24 will be reduced to 3,000,000,000 lire, or less. As Italy has no extraordinary Budget for recovering expenses, the ordinary Budget will include war pensions and war reconstruction items.

Actually, Italy is entitled to reparations from all the former enemy countries, but the Mussolini Government is not counting on them in the near future.

The Mussolini Government, which came into power on October 25, 1922, does not officially take any credit, or responsibility, for the 1922-23 Budget, which had been effective from July 1 of that year.

It effected many economies after it had been in power one or two months, and is largely responsible for the comparatively good showing of the Budget, but Signor Mussolini does not consider that it was his Budget. The estimates for 1923-1924 had actually been drawn up by the previous Government, and, in accordance with Italian law, had to be submitted to the Chamber in November. These estimates provided for a deficit of four billion lire, but they have been entirely changed by the Mussolini Cabinet.

The State operation of railways, telephones and telegraphs is responsible in large part for the present deficits. The annual loss on railway operation has been 1,250,000,000 lire and on telephones and telegraphs 500,000,000 lire. Signor Mussolini has reduced the railway deficit to the extent of at least 500,000,000 lire by discharging superfluous political employés and stopping the waste of coal and supplies, and now he is trying to lease all the State-owned railways for Capital to operate.

He is also strengthening his political position because the 228,000 railway employés could formerly exert great pressure against the Government.

These savings affect this year's Budget, as well as the 1923-1924 Budget. He has reduced Governmental expenses by at least 500,000,000 lire annually by cutting down the number of employés in all the Ministries, in abolishing superfluous Courts, and in consolidating various Courts and services. Two Ministries, including the Minister of the Liberated Regions, have been abolished this year.

The Premier hopes to balance the Budget in two or three years, though there was a deficit of 164,000,000 gold lire in 1913-1915, and this equals almost 750,000,000 paper lire to-day.

A BARONET'S DEATH.

SIR JOHN DIMSDALE'S BODY FOUND IN A LANE.

Sir John Dimsdale, Bart., son of the late Sir Joseph Dimsdale, Bart., a former Lord Mayor of London, was found dead in a lane at Whitstable on Tuesday night.

No information is available as to the cause of death. Sir John was born in 1874, and succeeded his father in 1912.

An inquest will be held.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

The National Army Headquarters last night issued the following official statement:—

"In a communication forwarded recently by Irregulars to the Cork Corporation, statements were made to the effect that thirty Cork girls, in custody in Dublin, were without food for nine days, and that one of their number, Maire Carey, Washington street, was lying in hospital in a serious condition. It was further stated that these prisoners had neither mattresses, beds, nor bed clothing. The communication was dated the 30th March, 1923.

"The facts are—There were no Cork prisoners on hunger strike on that date. Each of the prisoners was supplied with bed, mattress, and bed clothing. Further, Miss Carey, Washington street, Cork, was not in custody on the date of the communication. She had been released on the 11th March, 1923."

It has been decided that summer time in Belgium shall begin on April 27. In the United Kingdom summer time will come into force on April 22.

ALL GERMANY IN MOURNING.

FUNERALS OF VICTIMS OF ESSEN TRAGEDY.

70,000 WORKMEN IN PROCESSION.

SOLEMN POMP OF FINAL CEREMONIAL.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

ESSEN, Tuesday.

The victims of the Essen tragedy were laid to rest to-day amid scenes which baffle description. From an early hour the three-miles long route of the cortège was lined with hundreds of thousands of Germans drawn from all parts of the Ruhr. This vast crowd remained wonderfully peaceful and calm during the long procession of 70,000 Krupp's workers, who filed slowly by in deepest silence.

The march of the workers commenced at 7 a.m., and it was not until two hours later that the farewell ceremony was commenced in the great hall of the Krupp Works. Here the coffins had lain overnight, and when the mourners were admitted to witness the final ceremony the scene which met their eyes was moving in the extreme.

Shrouded lights and pale beams of daylight filtering through a lofty skylight illuminated the hall but sparsely, and in this twilight the nearest relatives of the dead gathered, while Herr Krupp von Bohlen addressed a few simple words of farewell to the dead, who had laboured in the great works that he owns, and who had given their lives for them.

THE PROCESSION.

Then commenced a long march to the "Cemetery of Honour." At the head of the cortège there were five hundred banners of the trade and religious organisations of the Ruhr area—a sea of rainbow colours. Behind these, headed by the five-pointed Red Star of Socialism, came the crimson standard of the Socialists and Communists. Further behind followed more organisations and relatives, each bearing a wreath. Of these the most notable were from Krupp's, and there was one each from President Ebert, the German Government, and the Prussian Government.

Last of all were three great wagons drawn by jet-black horses, each bearing four oak coffins, followed by the whole of the Krupp directorate on foot. At the head of these marched the upright figure of Herr Krupp von Bohlen.

IN THE "CEMETERY OF HONOUR."

The long march of the cortège through the silent crowd came to an end on a high hill overlooking the vast outspread arena at Essen, and here, under the blazing rays of a tropical sun, Roman Catholic, Protestant and atheist speakers addressed the assembled multitude, each after his own fashion.

No words of bitterness were uttered. During the addresses the coffins formed the centre of the crowd which crowded the hill-side. Nearest to them were the relatives, who, though they had been wonderfully calm up to now, broke down at last under the strain.

After a simple religious ceremony which moved the masses to tears, each of the twelve coffins were separately interred, the grave forming a square in that part of the cemetery reserved for those who have died in the service of their country.

POMP AND CEREMONY.

The Press Association's Special Correspondent at Essen says:—With the exception of the obsequies of beloved monarchs, this funeral has probably never been surpassed for the number of persons and the quantities of wreaths and panoply.

The great hall in Krupp's administrative buildings was hung with crêpe, with palm trees at intervals. Wreaths of laurels and bay hung round the pillars.

At one end were twelve coffins in two rows. Those of the Roman Catholics could be picked out by their sacramental candles, but others were indistinguishable, while one—that of a miner—was surrounded by a bodyguard of comrades in the curious livery of the union, with plumed, peakless hats, and carrying miners' safety lamps, whose light was dimmed by crêpe.

"THE KEYSTONE OF GERMANY'S FUTURE."

Facing the coffins were semi-circle chairs, occupied by the relatives of the dead workmen. At 9.30 a male choir sang exquisitely a sixteenth century Requiem.

Into the silence broke the voice of Herr Krupp von Bohlenund Balbach. He made a very brief oration of sympathy, concluding with the words: "Their life and death remain the keystone of Germany's future."

FRENCH CONFINED TO BARRACKS.

During the progress of the ceremony not a single Frenchman, except isolated sentries, was visible in Essen, as they had all been ordered to remain indoors. Virtually the only evidence of the presence of the French was an aeroplane flying in circles overhead, which descended just before the cortège reached the cemetery.

OFFICIAL MOURNING.

PRESIDENT ATTENDS SERVICE IN BERLIN.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BERLIN, Tuesday.

Germany's official manifestation of mourning for the Essen victims was of a solemn character. In Berlin and other centres there was a spontaneity of sorrow which served to reveal once more the intensity of feeling at the fate of what are now known as the martyrs of Essen among all classes.

More important than the presence at the Government Memorial Service of President Ebert, Dr. Cuno, and Cabinet Ministers, was the presence of delegations from all the big German trade unions. In the Lobbies the statues were draped, and in the Chamber the red and gold of the Republican flag provided the one gleam of brighter colour against a background of black.

Dr. Cuno's speech at the Service was noteworthy for its lack of the aggressive note that he struck in his Munich speeches. Apparently, the "peace talk" which M. Loucheur's visit to London has let loose is not without effect on German Statesmen.

Dr. Cuno pledged the Government to make every effort at conciliation with the object of achieving peace and freedom for Germany. The conditions that he laid down were of a more elastic nature than has been the case hitherto.

There was no talk of "evacuation first." Germany, he declared, must make reparations to the utmost in cash, and by long years of labour, but German territory must be freed, and the territorial and political rights of the Rhineland and the Ruhr must not be infringed upon.

Three four-horsed wagons bore the coffins, four on each one. Three bands, playing funeral marches, stood at the Ehrenfriedhof (Cemetery of Honour), a large enclosure surrounded by shrubs, and in shape resembling a Staunton chess pawn, at the apex of which a pulpit had been erected, draped in black, with its base decorated with palms and flowers.

On one side stood the Bishop of Euskirchen, amid a group of priests in their proper vestments, and on the other side Evangelical pastors in black gowns and square velvet caps. The Bishop's face was a wonderful study, and, curiously enough, he was standing against a background of Communist banners.

The orations followed, and then the most impressive sight was the dipping of the banners during the passage of the coffins on their last journey to their graves.

Each body was buried separately, but all were close together, and ultimately one huge stone slab will cover all.

"NO REDUCTION."

PARIS, Tuesday.

It is understood that on the occasion of the inauguration of a monument to the war dead at Dunkirk next Sunday M. Poincaré will reaffirm the position of the Government as regards the reparations problem.

The theme of his speech, it is stated, will be "no reduction of the French claim on Germany; occupation of the Ruhr until Germany has fulfilled her obligations."—(Reuter.)

PLAGUE OF LOCUSTS.

SWARMS 30 MILES LONG AND 8 MILES WIDE.

DEVOURING CROPS IN SOUTH AFRICA.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

JOHANNESBURG, Tuesday.

Locusts are devastating large areas of the country. Huge swarms, up to 30 miles long and 8 miles wide, from Kalahari have devoured the Veldt crops, and Cape officials are unable to cope with the evil.

Thousands of pounds are being spent in the Transvaal, where the farmers have suffered heavily. Sledges, drawn by oxen, are being pulled over the swarms of locusts during the night.

The laws governing the migratory instinct of the locust are not perfectly understood. Food and temperature have a great deal to do with it, and there is a tendency for the flights of swarms, such as our Correspondent mentions, to take particular directions. It seem that the insects are compelled to wander for food. Swarms travel long distances, sometimes more than 1,000 miles. When a large swarm settles in a district all vegetation rapidly disappears, and then the swarm continues its flight. Sometimes the number of a swarm is so great as to obscure the sun, and then the noise of the rustling wings is deafening.

CRISIS IN RUMANIA.

MINORITY PARTY IN POWER.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

PARIS, Tuesday.

Rumania is now weathering the greatest crisis since the war, according to M. Nicolas Iorga, a deputy in the Rumanian Parliament and leader of the Nationalist-Democratic Party, which demands the revision of the Rumanian Constitution, and who is now in Paris.

"Conforming to his privilege, the King called the Liberal Party in Rumania to power, in spite of the fact that the Liberals possess in Parliament only an insignificant representation, which does not reflect the view of the majority," M. Iorga declared, in an interview with me to-day. "The elections, including a vote on the Constitution, resulted in severe criticism, but the present Cabinet insists on holding the reins of power on the pretext that they are maintaining order against the Extremists of the Left and the Right.

"It is true that the difficulties in Rumania are so great that no political party is able to carry out its electoral promises. The climax was the withdrawal from Parliament of the Peasant and National parties, including the Transylvanian Nationalists led by Maniu and Vaidavoivod, as well as the remnants of the old Conservative Party and supporters of the policies of the late M. Take Jonescu.

"Now General Avarsco and his political leader, M. Argetoianov, leaders of the People's Party, have decided that they will also withdraw from Parliamentary discussions preparatory to an attempt to seize the power, which I do not believe the people generally wish."

"PERFECT ORDER."

Reuter's Agency is informed that the following telegram from a semi-official Rumanian source has been received in London:—"Certain telegrams from a Hungarian source have appeared in the British Press to the effect that there is a state of unrest in Rumania, and that on account of the prevailing disorders the Army has been mobilised. These statements have no foundation in fact, as perfect order reigns throughout the country."

NAPOLEON'S ESTATE.

AMERICAN PORTION PENALISED.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, Tuesday.

The estate of Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, grandson of the brother of the first Napoleon, has been appraised here, thirty years after his death, which occurred at Washington. Because of failure to pay the New York inheritance tax, the estate has been penalised to the extent of 300 per cent. spread over thirty years. Only about £6,000 of the estate, however, is in New York State, the bulk of it being in France.

The failure of the estate to file details here came to light, following the death of Jerome Bonaparte's daughter, the Countess de Moltke Huidfeldt, at Biarritz on January 24th.

It is understood that the total value of the estate exceeds £100,000. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte served in the French Army.

MARRIAGE WITH ALIENS.

FRENCH WOMEN MAY REGAIN CITIZENSHIP.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

PARIS, Tuesday.

French girls who have been deserted by American husbands that they married during the war will probably be permitted to repatriate themselves, in accordance with the French civil code, according to the Ministry of Justice.

The Deputy M. Boissard has submitted to the Ministry the question of these girls, who, according to the laws of some States in the United States and of many South American countries, cannot obtain a divorce on the grounds of desertion.

It is indicated that the Ministry plans to extend the French law to permit these women to apply for divorce after they have again become French citizens.

PLAGUE-RIDDEN INDIA.

EIGHT THOUSAND DEATHS.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

ALLAHABAD, Tuesday.

The plague is raging seriously in Delhi where there are about 100 deaths daily. The law courts, schools and colleges are closed, and there is an exodus of the inhabitants.

The health officer in a recent report alluded disparingly to the apathy of the general public in failing to adopt a comprehensive campaign of rat destruction.

Serious epidemics are also reported from the districts of Azamgarh, Ballia, Gorakhpur and Basti, in the United Provinces, where the mortality in the last week of March was 3,656.

Last week's news of the plague in India was that out of a total of 9,000 cases there had been 8,000 deaths.

The late Mr. Joseph Constantine, shipowner, Harsley Hall, Northallerton, left unsettled property valued for probate at £1,565,000, with net personalty £1,312,000.

TO-DAY'S LONDON PAPERS.

SHIPBUILDING.

IMPROVED CONDITION.

"THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY SAYS:—

The shipbuilding returns of Lloyd's Register for the past quarter show, for the first time since March, 1921, an increase as compared with the previous quarter in the tonnage under construction in Great Britain and Ireland. The tonnage being built at the end of March was 1,492,138 tons, and exceeded by about 23,500 tons the figures given for December 31st last. The total included 181,000 tons, on which work has been suspended for some time. Deducting this amount in order to enable a comparison to be made with figures for normal times, the tonnage actually under construction in Great Britain and Ireland now amounts to 1,311,000 tons. The average tonnage under construction during the twelve months immediately preceding the war was 1,890,000 tons—i.e., 579,000 tons more than the present figures.

As compared with the figures for the quarter ended December 31st last, there has been a decrease in the tonnage launched, but a considerable increase in the tonnage on which work was started in Great Britain and Ireland during the past quarter, the tonnage of vessels launched being 32,217 tons less, and of those on which work was started 124,016 tons more.

ANXIOUS TIMES.

INDUSTRIAL OUTLOOK IN BRITAIN.

The country, in the opinion of many other people besides Mr. Jack Jones, is on the eve of one of the biggest industrial crisis which it has ever had to face, remarks The Times editorially. These anticipations may or may not prove to be correct. There are at least ample grounds for grave anxiety. Besides the three principal disputes, in which the farmers and farm labourers of Norfolk and the builders and railway shopmen and their employers are concerned, there are outstanding difficulties in the mining industry, the jute industry and the potteries. In each, and possibly all, of these cases the process of arriving at an agreement may be attended by serious friction and a disastrous disorganisation of the industrial life of the country, together with an immense loss and wastage of money and energy, and a vast amount of privation for the workers and their families.

In its immediate consequences, a strike of railwaymen would be an even greater calamity than a suspension of farming or building; for without the railways not only these two industries but the whole work and livelihood of the country would be dangerously crippled.

Other means of transport would be improvised as they have been before, but for the time being the body of the State and all its members would suffer. That is their power — the power which railwaymen, farm labourers, builders' operatives, and in each case their employers—have in their hands. They can, if they so decide, do grievous hurt in varying degrees to their fellow-citizens, even if in so doing they must hurt also themselves.

But power, as Mr. J. H. Thomas reminded the railwaymen whom he addressed in London on Monday, carries with it responsibility. The issue, he told them, is too serious to be played with; it has to be faced with all its consequences. From him, at all events, "a strike gets no enthusiastic support." He insists instead on the inviolable sanctity of agreements and the necessity for negotiations or arbitration. Without question he is right. In all the present disputes it is the responsibility of Parliament and the Government to give what help they can from outside. The responsibility of the disputants themselves is still graver. In the last issue they and they only can decide by negotiation or by submitting them to arbitration the points at issue. To live and let live, to be ready to give as well as to take, and thus to compose their differences and avoid the calamity of a strike is their duty to their neighbour and to the State.

GOVERNMENT DEFEAT.

"A CERTAIN SLACKNESS."

The Morning Post says:—The defeat of the Government last night afforded evidence of a certain slackness of the Government supporters. If the Government is to prosper, or even endure, there must be more diligence among the occupants of the Ministerial benches. The threat of the prestige of the Government may possibly have a good effect on the Conservative Party, and if this be the result there is no reason why their programme should not be successfully achieved.

A BREACH OF FAITH.

The Political Correspondent of the Morning Post says:—There was an understanding between the rival Whips, so it is said, that there would be no division till half-past nine o'clock. One heard members being told this as they passed out, and between twenty minutes and half-past nine Conservatives came back and passed through the Lobby into the House, more than sufficient to give the Government an ample margin.

EXECUTED PRELATE.

SECOND INSOLENT REPLY TO BRITISH PROTESTS.

The Daily Mail says:—The Bolshevist Government has sent a second insolent Note to Mr. R. M. Hodgson, head of the British Mission in Moscow, in reply to British protests against Bolshevist persecutions of the church and its prelates and priests in Russia. This second Note, the Daily Mail understands, is like the first which Mr. Hodgson returned to the Bolshevist Government as unworthy of official transmission to London. The new Note is merely an attempt to justify the original document.

ANTI-FREE STATE.

NEW CAMPAIGN IN U.S.A.

Telegraphing from New York on Tuesday, the Daily Telegraph Correspondent says:—To keep alive the spirit of revolt, it is understood that prominent men of the Irish irregulars will leave Ireland in the summer and come to the United States to collect funds for the winter. The task will be difficult, because the majority of Irish Americans accept the London Treaty, and the settlement of the Irish grudge—at least for the time being—and are disposed to give the Free State a fair chance of working out the salvation of the country. Roman Catholic support is now withdrawn, and, so far as America generally is concerned, it expresses the view that Judge Cohalan and other irreconcilables are voices crying in the wilderness.

I am assured that the report of the Italian Agency is from a very good source, and the matter was discussed by M. Jaspar at his meeting with Signor Mussolini in Milan.

GOVERNMENT BEATEN.

RESULT OF SNAP DIVISION IN COMMONS.

RESIGNATION NOT INVOLVED.

Mr. Bonar Law's Government has been defeated in remarkable circumstances. After debates in the House of Commons last night on the need of developing trade within the Empire and the payment of ex-service men who get posts in the Civil Service, the motion "That the Speaker do now leave the chair" was put.

This motion must be passed before the House can go into Committee of Supply, and, as a rule, it never is challenged. Last night, however, the Labour members demanded a division, and, to the surprise of everybody, the motion was defeated. The voting was:—

| | |
|---|---|
| Noes ........................................ | 145 |
| Ayes ........................................ | 138 |
| Majority against ........... | 7 |

There was wild cheering from the Opposition benches when the Labour Party's chief Whip announced the result. On Mr. Ramsay Macdonald's suggestion, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, the senior Minister present, moved the adjournment of the House.

The excitement broke out afresh. The Labour members cheered themselves hoarse, and scattered order papers about in all directions. Mr. Pringle sprang to his feet, and said that the situation could not be met by a mere motion to adjourn. There were defects which could be remedied by framing another resolution, but this was not one of them. A question could not be put twice from the chair during the same session. He suggested that the House should adjourn until Thursday, in order to give all parties time to consider the matter.

The situation certainly is a perplexing one for the Government. It is without precedent. The constitutional principle is that grievances precede Supply, and the House of Commons by its vote has declared in effect that a particular grievance exists, and that until it is redressed supplies will not be voted.

Authorities on Parliamentary procedure seem to agree with Mr. Pringle that the motion "That the Speaker do now leave the chair" cannot be put again this session; but it is reported that a slight change in phraseology will meet the situation, and that there will be no need for the Government to resign or open a new session.

EXCITING SCENES IN THE HOUSE.

In the House of Commons yesterday, on the formal motion, "That the Speaker leave the chair," which meant that the House would go into Committee on the Civil Service Estimates, the Labour Party challenged a division, an unusual course on such a motion. The members filed out into the division lobbies, and at 9.25 p.m., ten minutes after the division was called, they were seen crowding back into the Chamber.

The animated movements of several of them indicated that something unusual had occurred. There were attempts at cheering on the Labour benches, and Commander Kenworthy, from a corner seat below the gangway leaned forward and called out to Ministers, "Get your election addresses ready."

There were cries of "The Government are beaten," and this was borne out when it was seen that the Clerk at the table was handing the official paper containing the figures of the division, not to the Government Whips, but to the Labour Whips. Cheers were raised by all the Opposition members, while the supporters of the Government sat silent.

THE FRONT BENCHES.

The Prime Minister was not present, and the principal occupants of the Treasury Bench were Mr. Neville Chamberlain, the Attorney General, Sir John Baird, Mr. Ronald McNeill, and Major Boyd-Carpenter. On the front Opposition bench were Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, Mr. Clynes, Colonel Wedgwood, Mr. Vivian Phillips, and Major Mackenzie Wood.

In the absence of the Speaker, the Deputy Speaker (Mr. J. F. Hope) was in the chair.

Amid cries of "Order," silence was restored, while the Whips took up their position to declare the result. The Labour Whips were Mr. T. Griffiths and Mr. Morgan Jones, and the Government Whips were Colonel Leslie Wilson and Colonel Gibbs.

Mr. Griffiths announced the figures as follows:—

| | |
|---|---|
| AYES (FOR THE MOTION) ........ | 138 |
| NOES ........................... | 145 |
| MAJORITY AGAINST ......... | 7 |

Cheers were again raised from the Opposition benches on this formal announcement of the defeat of the Government. The Ministers on the Treasury bench held a conference, while their supporters sat silent or jeered at the uproarious scenes on the Opposition benches.

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, whose rising was the signal for a renewed outburst of Labour cheers, said—"In view of the division we want to know what the Government propose to do. (Labour cheers, and ironical Ministerial cheers.) I would suggest, in any event, that the further sitting of this House should be adjourned." (Opposition cheers and Ministerial laughter.)

ADJOURNMENT MOVED.

Mr. N. Chamberlain at once rose and said—I beg to move that this House do now adjourn.

Cheers again rose from the Opposition bench on this acceptance of the situation by the Government. The Labour members rose in their places and waved Order Papers, and called out various taunts to Ministerialists. Colonel Wedgwood turned round and waved his handkerchief to his colleagues, some of whom, not content with cheering, followed the unparliamentary procedure of clapping their hands.

The Deputy-Speaker (on silence being obtained) said—The motion is: "And this House do now adjourn."

Mr. Pringle said that it was an extraordinary decision that had been taken by the House. He did not think that within the recollection of the oldest Parliamentarian now living had any Government been defeated on the question—"That the Speaker do now leave the chair." (Opposition cheers.) This was a decision that must be fatal to the Government's existence. (Opposition cheers and Ministerial laughter, and Labour Members—"They will be on the dole.")

HISTORICAL IMPORTANCE.

The somewhat juvenile gentlemen on the Front Ministerial Bench were amused at the situation, but they were apparently unaware of the historical importance of the putting of the question—"That the Speaker do now leave the chair." An ordinary defeat in Supply might be set right, but not so in this case. (Ministerial cries of "Oh.")

What the House had done that night was to decide that, under the auspices of the present Government, the House would not go into Committee of Supply at all. (Ministerial interruptions, and a Labour Member:—"You will want your Special policemen to-morrow.") He contended that it was impossible for the ingenuity of any person to frame a motion which, for the purpose of the current session, could be put to the House which would not involve a reversal of the decision given that night, and that could not be done in the same session. It was a relic of the old constitutional practice of the country, whereby the redress of grievances came before Supply.

The House had decided that, owing to grievances on which the majority of members had decided that the Government had come short, the House should not go into Committee of Supply. He questioned whether it would be possible for the Government to resume business on Wednesday. What was the use of having a discussion on agriculture when they did not know whether the Government would be in being or not? An academic discussion with these transient and embarrassed phantoms on the other side was no use. (Loud laughter.)

"DAMP SQUIBS."

He could not say that they reminded him of a row of extinct volcanoes, because they had never even been volcanoes. (Laughter.) They had been damp squibs, and had not been able in any way to effect the tranquillity of the country. The House would view this somewhat fortuitous decision with calm. They would await new combinations. (Ironical Ministerial cheers.)

He observed with great concern the undisguised sorrow with which the right hon. member for Colchester (Sir L. Worthington Evans) had watched the proceedings that night. (Laughter.) He was showing a spirit of sympathy with his old friends in distress and with the Under Secretary, who was so unchivalrous as to supersede him. He bore no malice. He had used no angry words like some of his colleagues. It was a pity that the Peers' Gallery was empty, or they might have had an opportunity of observing the Christian-like patience of the ex-Lord Chancellor. (Laughter.)

The verdict of the by-elections had made it impossible for any defeated Minister to be returned to the House, and now the verdict of the by-elections had been confirmed by the verdict of the House.

They might be told that it was a snap division.

Mr. J. Jones—No; there were special Whips out.

Mr. Pringle—But, no doubt, there were abstentions. The Government had a full staff of Whips now. There was one appointed only that afternoon. It was sad that the new Scottish Whip would not be able to take up his duties. (Laughter.) He was a Coalitionist who had strayed from the fold. The verdict of the House seemed a righteous Nemesis on such political infidelity.

He thought that the right hon. gentleman who led the House should move the adjournment until Thursday. They must meet and consider the situation. The Government had to face a vote of no confidence by the House in a form in which it could not be reversed. The only way of putting the vote was to wind up the session and to start a new session. He moved as an amendment that the House do adjourn till Thursday.

Commander Kenworthy said that if it were necessary he would second it.

The Deputy Speaker (Mr. J. Hope) at once put the question, and the amendment was negatived without a division.

As no one rose to continue the debate, the Deputy Speaker put the main question, and it was carried without challenge. The Opposition members again raised loud cheers, and the members dispersed at 9.42.

NO RESIGNATION.

THE SPEAKER'S DECISION.

The situation cleared up after conferences of the Ministers and Whips, and a consultation with the Speaker. I understand (says the Lobby Correspondent) that it has been decided that the matter hinges on the word "now" in the motion "that the Speaker do now leave the Chair." The Speaker is prepared to accept another motion on Thursday to the same effect. There will, therefore, be no resignation of the Government, and no new session.

The whole incident, however, is an unpleasant reflection on Government efficiency. It strengthens the incipient movement for a rapprochement with Mr. Chamberlain and other ex-Unionist Ministers, in order to make the Ministry more powerful.

Many Unionists were absent from the division, as they had been told that there would be no division before 9.30. The division actually took place at 9.10.

CEMETERY OUTRAGE.

NORTHERN CHIEF JUSTICE'S REFERENCE.

The only blot of a serious character to be recently recorded in Belfast, said the Lord Chief Justice of Northern Ireland in his address to the Grand Jury at the Belfast City Commission yesterday, was the shocking occurrence which lately took place in the city cemetery, where fifty-seven monuments were overturned and wrecked by a gang of marauders.

The Lord Chief Justice said that he believed it would be found that the outrage was the work of very few, whom he hoped the police would soon apprehend. It should be the desire of every right-thinking man that miscreants guilty of such vandalism should be brought to justice.

Entries for the thirteenth Glasgow Musical Festival, which begins on April 28, number 1,631, nearly three hundred more than last year.

TOURIST "RUSH" TO EUROPE.

HEAVY ADVANCE BOOKINGS IN AMERICA.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
NEW YORK, Tuesday.

With the finest fleet in the history of ocean travel already in service, and twenty new steamers with a passenger capacity of 30,000 being prepared to joint the list before the summer, the 1923 tourist season to Britain and Europe promises to break all "records."

That the flood of tourists to the capitals of Europe has begun is shown by reports from the passport office at Washington, which estimates that more than 12,000 passports were issued during March. This is more than double the number issued in February, and the tourist season does not officially open until the middle of April.

All the big steamship companies report heavily increasing bookings, most of the reservations being made from a month to six weeks in advance.

June will be marked by the re-entrance into passenger traffic of the Leviathan, the second largest liner in the world. More than eight million dollars has been spent at Newport News in refitting the former transport, and when she sails from New York she will have accommodation for 3,700 passengers. The United States Line also will put the steamer America in service early in June.

Many who never thought of going abroad before are flocking to the steamship offices because of the lower rates offered by the new one-cabin vessels. Five of these new type vessels are going into service this spring, and many of the old vessels are being converted.

Aeroplane connections at London, Liverpool, and Paris are a feature that attracts travellers who wish to hurry inland or catch trains at other cities. With plans for a New York-Chicago air line already under way, the same facilities will be offered at this port.

EX-KAISER'S HAPPY MARRIAGE.

(BY A RECENT VISITOR TO DOORN.)

Having recently visited Doorn, and having been in touch with some of the inhabitants of the Castle, I am in a position to answer the question which has been raised whether the ex-Kaiser's marriage has proved a failure.

This answer which I am enabled to give is a decided "no."

Princess Hermine's visit to Germany, to which a part of the Press attributes such a significance, and which it regards as the beginning of the final separation, was, in fact, pre-arranged in the marriage contract, which stipulated that the ex-Kaiser's consort should twice yearly return to Germany, for about six weeks each time, in order to look after her affairs.

This stipulation seems natural in view of the fact that Princess Hermine's two oldest boys, the Princes Georg Wilhelm and Hans Georg of Schoenaich Carolath, are being brought up in Germany, and that the new "Kaiserin" possesses vast estates in Germany, the administration of which she has always conducted personally.

Not only the "Court" circles at Doorn, to which I was recently admitted, but all the villagers affirm that the domestic life of Wilhelm is far from being tragic. Several of the local inhabitants assert, indeed, that they have seen across the wire fences exchanges of fervent kissing between the white-haired ex-War Lord and his young bride.

On Sundays, when the weather has been fine, the whole family—the ex-Kaiser, his wife, and her three youngest children—have taken walks outside the Castle gates, Wilhelm either leading his wife by the arm, or conducting her youngest daughter, the four years old Henrietta, by the hand.

The ex-Kaiser's family, it is true, first showed Princess Hermine the cold shoulder. But on Christmas Eve a reconciliation, at least an outward one, took place between the new "Kaiserin" and the Crown Princess, the head of the family opposition against the second wedding of the ex-Kaiser.

On the other hand, the political consequences of Wilhelm's second wedding have been catastrophic for him. Even those among the German Monarchists, who were willing to pardon their War Lord for his desertion to Holland, will not forgive him for spoiling the legend of the "Silent and patient sufferer in Doorn," which fitted so well their propaganda.

From personal acquaintance with the various Monarchist circles in Germany, I can affirm that, should the ex-Emperor try a coup d'état à la Carl von Hapsburg, the German Monarchists would be the first to drive him back to his retreat at Doorn, where the old Prussian Court ceremonial, with audiences and Court orders—the Kaiser's consort, Hermine, being addressed and spoken of as "Her Majesty and Empress and Queen" is still strictly observed.

SOLDIER CRUSHED TO DEATH.

ANOTHER BADLY INJURED.

A National soldier was killed, and another, an Englishman, was seriously injured in a motor accident at the North Wall, Dublin, at 6 o'clock last evening. They were crushed against the wall of a house by a military tender, which had skidded in swerving to pass a cab, and ran up on the pavement.

The men's names are:—Michael Hanlon, 6 South Lotts road, Ringsend, Dublin (dead); and James P. Murray, 82 College street, St. Helens, Lancashire. Hanlon was 26 years of age, a private soldier, and was stationed at Portobello Barracks, and Murray, who is also a private at Portobello Barracks, is aged 28.

The soldiers were walking together on the footpath when the accident occurred. Both men were terribly injured, and Private Hanlon died while being conveyed to Jervis street Hospital. Private Murray suffers from severe head and other injuries, and his condition is critical.

LORD ELTHAM MARRIED.

The marriage was solemnised yesterday at the village church of Woodhouse, Leicestershire, of Lord Eltham, elder son of the Marquis and Marchioness of Cambridge and nephew of the Queen, and Miss Dorothy Hastings. The bride was the guest of Lady Kathleen Curzon Herrick, of Beau Manor, where the reception was attended by over three hundred guests.

The newly-married couple left later for Springfield, near Oakham, for the honeymoon.

The bride, who wore a cream satin frock, draped with a trail of orange blossom on the right side, and cloth of gold train, was attended by three bridesmaids and two pages—Lady Mary Cambridge (sister to the Earl, and herself a bride-elect), Miss Helen Hastings, Miss Diana Hastings, Masters Robin Hood Hastings, and Peter Cameron.

Gifts received by the bride included a pearl chain and diamond pendant from Queen Mary.

Among those present were:—Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, Elizabeth Marchioness of Cambridge, Lord Frederick Cambridge, and Major and Lady Helena Gibbs.

Among the presents was a cheque from the King and Queen, also a combined cheque from the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, Prince Henry, Prince George, and Princess Mary.

The Earl of Eltham is a nephew of the Queen, his father having been Duke of Teck before he assumed the title of Marquess of Cambridge in 1917.

ST. KEVIN'S BAND OF HOPE.

An enjoyable musical entertainment was provided by the members of the St. Kevin's Band of Hope last night in the Parochial Hall. The programme consisted of a floral cantata entitled, "Blossomland," in which all the characters were dressed in suitable floral garb. The following took part:—The Misses Lily Moody, Violet Boswell, Woodward, May Wilson, May Monson, Kathleen Cooper, Alice Moody, Muriel Bannon, Victoria Hannon, Isabella Row, Ida Brewster, Ella Moody, Ruby Neilly, Marjory Neilly, Eileen Ball, Annie Ball, Masters Harry Moody, Eddie Curry, Willie Wilson, Fred. Phillips, George Harpur, Jack Hannon, John Wilson.

The singing and training of the performers reflected the highest credit on Miss Jackson and Miss West. Vocal and instrumental items were given by Mr. R. V. Jackson, Miss H. M. Stanford, Master C. Williams, and Miss Lilburne.

SPAIN'S HOME CRISIS.

FASCISTI MOVEMENT GROWING.

MOROCCAN DISASTER AGITATION.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
MADRID, Tuesday.

In addition to yielding on the Vatican's ultimatum forbidding the change of Article 11 of the Constitution which establishes the Catholic Church as the State religion, the Government's preparation for the elections has been based on a side-stepping of another grave question—the Moroccan difficulty.

The pronouncements of the Premier, Senor Albucema, both in the Ministerial declarations and since, have avoided discussing the Moroccan debacle clearly and intelligibly, and do not state the Government's policy with regard to the persons culpable for the disaster, or what action can be taken to punish them, although this, and the religious question, are the burning problems of Spain to-day.

The Supreme Council of War and the Marine, however, announces that General Navarro, formerly commander at Melilla, and an Adjutant of the King, must stand trial for the defeat, but asserts that it will not judge the General until the Cabinet takes action against the politicians who share the responsibility of the disaster.

The Fascisti do not hide their threat to punish with death everybody responsible for the disaster, both military and politicians, after the success of the coup that they are preparing.

The aristocracy and the bourgeois class are rapidly rallying to the Fascisti-Nationalists as the sole solution of the problem, and the only alternative to Communism and anarchy.

NEW LONDON PLAY.

"AREN'T WE ALL" AT THE GLOBE.

FROM OUR DRAMATIC CRITIC.
LONDON, Tuesday.

Miss Marie Lohr and her husband, Mr. Anthony Prinsep, presented a new play, "Aren't We All," at the Globe Theatre to-night.

It is the work of Frederick Lonsdale, and the story tells how a young wife returns from a four months' visit to Egypt to find her husband kissing another young woman. His explanation that it is positively the first time avails him nothing. So his father, a delightful old roué, takes a hand. He invites to his country residence an Australian, who is going about the world seeking a damsel whom he loved and kissed in a beautiful garden in Egypt. The father lets his daughter-in-law know he is expecting the man, and she rushes to the station to meet him. The damsel-seeker has, however, come down by car, and is interviewed by the husband, to whom he confides his experience in the Egyptian garden, and his description of the loved lady. The husband, suspecting his wife, plans a dénouement, but the wife warns the visitor, and they meet as strangers.

The third act contains the necessary explanations and reconciliations, and all ends happily. The first act is rather weak and long, and needs toning up badly, but the play steadily improves, and although Mr. Lonsdale has written neither a great nor a brilliant comedy, he has given us an amusing play, with one or two unexpected touches, and many lines of pure fun and wit. The last line in the last act is particularly delicious—everyone left the theatre smiling—it explains the title and the play.

Marie Lohr and Herbert Marshall were the young husband and wife, and they both played delightfully, and with the necessary emotion, but the honours of the evening were with Julian Royce and Ellis Jeffreys as the worldly father and the lady who is determined to marry him. These two provided some exquisite bits of comedy, Julian Royce's playing of Lord Grenham being a particularly finished piece of work.

Other clever pieces of character-playing were contributed by Eric Lewis and Elizabeth Chesney as an old vicar and his wife, the latter showing an unexpected sense of humour in the last act. On the whole, a very agreeable and witty little play, which the audience greatly appreciated.

BELFAST RELIEF WORK.

THE HALF-MILLION GRANT.

It was announced at the meeting of the Belfast Local Employment Committee that the whole of the half-million grant from the Imperial Parliament for relief work in Belfast has been allocated.

The Secretary submitted the minutes of the Sub-Committee on Relief Schemes, from which it appeared that the Sub-Committee had waited upon the Minister of Labour and the Improvements Committee of the Belfast Corporation, and had been cordially received by both. The Minister had stated that the whole of the £500,000 grant for relief works had now been allocated or ear-marked, and would be available until 31st March, 1924. The Secretary stated that 896 men had been placed on relief schemes since the date of the visit of the Sub-Committee to the Improvements Committee, the largest number ever placed during a similar period. The Committee expressed their appreciation of the manner in which the Corporation had taken up the matter.

POST OFFICE SERVANTS.

ANOTHER CRISIS FEARED.

The Post Office Controlling Officers' Association, at their conference at Glasgow, rejected a proposal to withdraw from the Federation of Post Office Supervising Officers, which comprises eight associations of supervisors.

It was urged by the majority that the Federation would strengthen them in negotiations with the Department.

Mr. Stuart Bunning, representing the staff side of the National Whitley Council, in urging union, said that they would be faced by another great crisis and must be united on the fact that they were all Post Office servants.

AMERICAN CITIZENS.

DONEGAL MEN EXCUSED JURY SERVICE.

When the common jury panel was being called at Donegal Criminal Sessions on Monday afternoon a juror asked to be excused service on the ground that he was an American citizen. In reply to His Honor Judge Cooke, he said he had property in this country.

His Honour—And you take the benefit of the property in this country and claim the right of an American citizen, and not do your duty?

The Juror—I have property also in the States, and I don't want to lose my citizenship there.

Replying further to the judge, the juror said he had been four years in this country.

He was excused. Two others were excused on similar grounds.

BRITISH AGRICULTURE.

The Hon. F. S. Jackson, M.P., speaking at Hull yesterday, said that there was a good deal in the proposals regarding agriculture now before the Government, and time must be allowed for their consideration. The proposals would bring about a fundamental change in the agricultural policy of Great Britain. He believed that the railway companies could afford a reduction of 25 per cent. in transport charges, and that they would be repaid by increased traffic.

BANK NOTE PAPER.

KING AND QUEEN WITNESS ITS MANUFACTURE.

The King and Queen visited Laverstoke yesterday, and inspected the mills where paper for the manufacture of Bank of England notes is made. The visit was of a private character.

Their Majesties were received by Sir William Portal, and inspected designs of notes made during the last two hundred years, and saw the oldest and newest methods of paper-making.

"VILLAGE DONKEY."

AMENITIES OF AMENDING LADY ASTOR'S BILL.

Standing Committee C. of the House of Commons yesterday further considered the bill prohibiting the sale of intoxicants to persons under 18 years.

Mr. Greaves Lord proposed an amendment to exempt beer, porter and cider from the operation of the bill, but Lady Astor declared that it was a wrecking amendment, as were the other amendments, except those in the name of Mr. Remer, who seemed, said Lady Astor, to be the village donkey.

There were loud cries of "Order, order," and the Chairman told Lady Astor that she had no right to apply that expression to any member of the House.

Lady Astor withdrew the expression, but contended that if all amendments put down were accepted the bill would be of no use.

On a division the amendment was rejected by 27 votes to 19.

LIFFEY WATER POWER.

CORPORATION COMMITTEE'S PROPOSALS.

The Electricity and Public Lighting Committee of the Dublin Corporation have forwarded a report to the Council on the proposed Liffey water-power scheme. It is based on the report of Mr. Buchi, the Swiss water-power engineer, who went over the ground at the request of the Corporation. He recommended what is described as the Ballymore-Leixlip scheme, which will produce 41½ million units of electricity per annum. His proposal is to instal power stations at Ballymore and at Leixlip, and to carry the peak loads on the existing steam station. Storage reservoirs will be constructed above Poulaphouca and Leixlip, in order to equalise the flow over the year. These reservoirs will need comparatively little civil engineering work, by reason of the naturally suitable conformation of the country. He estimates the capital cost of the full proposed development at £1,130,000.

The Electricity Committee point out that, even under the unfavourable conditions of the past twelve months, a considerable extension has taken place in the business of the Council's electricity works, and that with the development that may be expected in Dublin in the immediate future the demands for power will increase rapidly. Failing the Liffey scheme, a great deal of money will have to be sunk in existing steam stations. If Liffey water-power is utilised, it will involve a saving of 70,000 tons of coal a year, which, in itself, would mean the saving of a capital sum of £2,000,000. Three years will be required for the carrying through of the scheme.

The Committee recommend that Mr. Buchi's scheme be adopted by the Council, and that the Government be asked to examine it, and, if they approve of it, to finance the scheme as one of national importance, and to provide the necessary legislative facilities necessary for acquiring lands, way-leaves, and other rights.

They also recommend that a conference be called of all the interested power-using authorities in Dublin and district for the purpose of discussing the Liffey project, exploring its possibilities, and deciding to what extent the various authorities can and will co-operate for the carrying through of the scheme.

600 EMIGRANTS.

MANY MORE TO LEAVE QUEENSTOWN.

Between 500 and 600 emigrants left Queenstown on Sunday morning for the United States of America. This was the largest number that has passed through the port since the collapse of the railway service in Southern Ireland, and reminded one of the pre-war days of emigration traffic.

There was a great rush on the part of men and women to be included in the quota, but many were disappointed, and they will be unable to travel until after the 30th June next, when it is expected that an independent quota for Ireland will be issued.

Several of the intending emigrants were put back on medical grounds, while others had to stay for later boats, because their passports were not visèd in time. It is estimated that those who have been booked will fully occupy all ships calling at Queenstown up to the end of June.

METROPOLITAN POLICE.

BRISK RECRUITING.

LONDON INTERNEE.

CASE OF MR. ART O'BRIEN.

HABEAS CORPUS REFUSED.

Before the Lord Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Avory, and Mr. Justice Roche, in the King's Bench Division Court, London, yesterday, the case of Mr. Art O'Brien, who is at present interned in Ireland, came on for hearing upon an order asked for habeas corpus, the Home Secretary being made respondent.

Mr. Patrick Hastings, K.C., and Mr. St. John Field represented Mr. O'Brien.

Mr. Hastings asked for a habeas corpus order in the case of Mr. O'Brien, stating that they had now had an opportunity of obtaining an affidavit from him. He had been interned under Regulation 14 B of the Restoration of Order in Ireland Act, 1920. His chief point was that to-day circumstances had so changed by reason of the Irish Free State Constitution Act of 1922 that the Regulation under the Act of 1920 under which O'Brien was interned was no longer effective for the purpose for which it was made.

In answer to the Lord Chief Justice, he said that he was asking that the order be directed to the Home Secretary. The man being in Ireland, there was nobody else that it could be asked against. The original Act under which Regulations of this character were made was the Defence of the Realm Act, and there was embodied in the Act of 1920 Order 14 B, which was similar to a like Order in the older Act. In 1920 there were circumstances of an acute nature relating to the Imperial Government maintaining order and restoring peace in Ireland. His Majesty's Government were at that time suppressing disorder in Ireland, and it was with a view of dealing with that state of affairs that the Act of 1920 was passed. What was suggested now by the authorities was that, notwithstanding what had happened since the passing of the Irish Free State Constitution Act of 1922, this Regulation 14 B of the Act of 1920 still remained in full force. His contention was that since the passing of the Act of 1922 the state of affairs had so changed in Ireland that this Regulation could not have the same effect as when the Act of 1920 was passed so as to make it now effective.

The Lord Chief Justice remarked that the Statute was enacted without provision for any particular period being mentioned. The Statute was still in force. Why were not the Regulations made under it still in force?

AN IRISH APPLICATION.

Mr. Hastings said that his submission was that it was a principle of law that when the circumstances existing at the passing of an Act had ceased to exist, and fresh circumstances and Regulations had come into force, it was an implied principle that the Statute had been virtually repealed. That appeared to be the view taken in Ireland, according to some decisions given there. His contention was that the Act of 1922 had put an end to this regulation, not as part of the Act, he admitted, but on the grounds that it could no longer be applicable to the present state of affairs. The Court were to be the judges of the conditions existing. Counsel referred to a recent case in the Irish Courts, when a similar habeas corpus motion was moved in the case of a man named O'Hara and his wife, of Manchester, and he quoted from the report of the Irish Times of the case, stating that it appeared from this that the Irish Master of the Rolls seemed to hold that these regulations had no effect in Ireland now because of the Constitution Act of 1922. He did not suggest that because the regulations had come to an end in Ireland it was to be regarded as at an end in this country, but it did give the Court assistance in deciding the question. When the regulation was made the Imperial Government was responsible for law and order in Ireland.

Mr. Justice Roche—It does not follow that the Imperial authorities abrogated all their powers in England to keep people in order in this country, and so prevent them from creating disorder in Ireland.

Mr. Hastings concurred, but said that Parliament would never have passed such regulations in the present day having regard to the Act of 1922. He said that if they found that the objects for which legislation was passed, put an end to by subsequent legislation, then the objects for which the first Act was passed no longer existed, and the prior Act was in effect gone.

Counsel also submitted that the Order issued by the Home Secretary for the internment of O'Brien was irregular in that the regulation demanded that the place where the man was to be interned should be stated, whereas the Order merely showed that he was to be interned in such place as the Irish Free State should determine. Where there had been unusual interference with the liberty of the subject it was necessary to scrutinise the Order most carefully.

MEANING OF A WORD.

Mr. Justice Avory asked if "interned" had not a wider meaning than Mr. Hastings was giving it.

Mr. Hastings said that he regarded it as the same as "incarcerated."

Mr. Justice Avory intimated that he had taken the opportunity of looking the matter up in the dictionary, which stated that "interned" meant "placing in the interior of a place or country."

Mr. Hastings said that it would be most unusual for a man to be interned in a country.

Mr. Justice Avory—He might be much more comfortable.

Mr. Hastings said that he thought that in this case it meant incarcerated in a definite place.

Dealing with the point that the Home Secretary had been made respondent, counsel said that the man was out of the country, and there was no opportunity of applying for an order against any person.

Mr. Justice Avory—Does not that show that your remedy is in Ireland?

Mr. Hastings said that that was impossible, because there being rebellion in Ireland the military authorities would not let the man go. It looked as if there was some arrangement between His Majesty's Government and the Irish Free State which gave His Majesty's Government power over the bodies of those interned.

Mr. Justice Roche—In that case representations could be made to the Advisory Committee appointed for the purpose of dealing with the matter.

RULE REFUSED.

In dismissing the application and refusing the rule, the Lord Chief Justice said that in the present case the argument really came to this: that because there were a different Government in Ireland and a new state of affairs created in the last two years, there was no reason for continuing at all Regulation 14 B. It was not suggested that the Statute had been repealed or the Regulation repealed or withdrawn; the full argument was that by implication it had gone, because the reason for it had gone. What was the reason that brought it into existence? It was the state of disorder in Ireland and the necessity for the restoration of law and order in that country. In Ireland Regulation 14 B had been superseded by something more effective probably; but it might be that in this country the reasons for such a Regulation had not ceased, and they might have been increased. It appeared from the Parliamentary debates that the Home Secretary on the 19th March expressly said that, after consultation, the Irish Free State Government invited the British Government to put this Regulation in motion in order that the persons in question might be interned. That was to say, the very Government whose creation and bringing into being was said by implication to repeal the Statute were found to be the persons at whose request this regulation was by the Government in this country set in motion.

HOME SECRETARY'S ORDER.

Speaking for himself, his lordship said that he saw no grounds for saying this regulation or Statute had been repealed by implication; the presumption was all the other way. What that Court was requested to do was to say, because certain events had taken place, the Statute was repealed or might be taken to be repealed by implication, and that was a question he answered for himself in the negative. It was said that, even if the regulation was ultra vires, the order of the Home Secretary was bad, because it did not specify the place where O'Brien was to be interned, but his lordship could not agree with this view. As to the contention that it was bad because the Home Secretary had no control over the person interned, his lordship pointed out that the Home Secretary had stated that he had not lost such control and his consent had to be asked in certain eventualities, and his lordship did not think that this point had been sustained.

Upon the question of whether or not the Home Secretary could be made the respondent, against whom the rule in this case should be directed, it was true that the Home Secretary had certain power over them, but he had not physical control of them, and was not, therefore, the person against whom the rule should be directed. In these circumstances the rule should be refused, and his lordship had less hesitation in giving his decision, because the matter had been argued with the utmost fulness and completeness on behalf of the applicant.

The other judges concurred, and the rule was refused.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE.

CAN PHAROS WIN TO-DAY?

LONDON, Tuesday Night.

The otherwise unimportant meeting at Pontefract this afternoon has an unusual interest from the fact that several prominent classic candidates are due to run in the Pontefract Plate, a new race which is worth a thousand sovereigns. Pharos, Duncan Gray, Silver Grass, and Friar all hold engagements, and all but Duncan Gray are likely to run.

The race is over a mile, and on a like distance last week-end Pharos won a good trial from several of Mr. Lambton's horses. If Pharos has any pretensions to win the Derby—and his trainer believes that he has a good chance—he should win this event comfortably.

Friar, who belongs to the Duke of Westminster, is not with the rest of the Duke's horses in Mr. Persse's establishment at Stockbridge, but is trained by W. Waugh at Newmarket, and only ran once last year, when he was beaten easily by Drake in the Rous Memorial Stakes at Newmarket. His trainer holds rather a high opinion of this son of Friar Marcus, but I doubt his ability to beat Pharos, nor is Silver Grass likely to do so either, good filly as she is. She is thoroughly exposed on her last year's form, but there is nothing in that form to suggest that she has the beating of Pharos, whom I expect to see win for Lord Derby.

The only other interesting race at Pontefract is the New Stand Handicap, in which Captain Stanley Wilson's Silver Band has a good chance. Last year in the Newmarket St. Leger he had beaten Diligence and Norseman at a mile and a half, the distance of to-morrow's race, and it was only the extra quarter of a mile that stopped him from winning there.

I recommended Mrs. Cottrill's colt, The Owl, for a race last week at Leicester, in which he was beaten, when giving lumps of weight away all round. He has a chance to make amends on the Felbridge Handicap at Lingfield to-morrow. The chief danger may come from Sir Charles Nugent's Compiler, the colt who was lucky enough to make a dead-heat with Verdict last season at Newmarket.

Recent winners in Heliaster and Pombal are engaged in the Chiddingstone Maiden Three-Year-Old Plate, but I expect to see them both beaten by Old Nic, who receives 10lbs., and ran so good a race against Moabite at Liverpool when he finished in front of Vambrace.

The most interesting event at Warwick this afternoon was the victory of Lord Furness's chestnut filly Tetragon in the Milverton Three-Year-Old Handicap. I recommended the support of the filly in the belief that her superior class would pull her through. It was just this advantage that enabled her to gain the verdict over several horses who were preferred to her in the market—she was a 10 to 1 chance.

In the upshot, in spite of her 9st. 2lbs., she won easily, and she has evidently come back again to her brilliant spring form of last year.

Mr. Dawson also ran Ardavon, who was beaten in the Leamington Spring Handicap by the favourite, Pass the Mint, and Spes, who could only finish third in the Apprentices' Stakes. The latter race was fought out by the hurdlers, Assaroe and Hymir. Hymir, who used to belong to the late Mr. O'Grady Delmege, bored on Assaroe in the later stages of the race, but his youthful pilot pulled Assaroe out on the outside, and beat Hymir easily at the finish. Spes was fancied for several important handicaps last season, but she always proved a most difficult mare to ride, and one little race was all that fell to her credit in no fewer than thirteen attempts.

CRIME DECREASES IN BELFAST.

MODERATE LIST FOR CITY COMMISSION.

The Lord Chief Justice for Northern Ireland, in opening the City Commission for Belfast yesterday, quoted statistics to show the present comparative peace of Belfast in contrast with its former lawlessness.

Addressing the Grand Jury, of which Mr. Maxwell Thompson was foreman, the Lord Chief Justice said that was the sixth Commission in their city under the system established by the Government of Ireland Act, 1920, and he was glad to say that their duties upon that occasion would be considerably lighter than the average of the other five.

There were 68 bills, comprising six cases of breaking and entering, thirteen of larceny, seven of robbery and armed robbery, one of shooting, one of assault, three of assaults on girls, one of assault on police, two of attempted murder, one of false entry, two of false pretences, seven of embezzlement, one of malicious damage, three of bigamy, one of procuration, three of indecency, one of incest, and one of threatening letters.

At the Commission in April, 1922, there were 118 prisoners for trial; while at the present there were 63, showing a falling off of 55. It would be obvious that the list was a moderate one for a populous city like Belfast, and the figures represented prisoners who were actually for trial at that Commission.

During the interval between the Commission of February and the Commission at the present time there was not a single case of murder reported. Last year no fewer than 97 murders were committed during the corresponding period, so that there was absolutely not a single case, as against 97 then. There were 59 cases last year of attempted murder; this year not a single case.

Cases of robbery had fallen from 130 to 9; malicious injuries had fallen from 79 to 1.

He said it was remarkable that there had not been a single riot during the period of which he was speaking. The figures showed a return to very peaceful conditions, and he said it was the duty of all to see, so far as they could, that that happy state of affairs should continue.

IRISH DRAMA.

FATHER MATHEW FEIS COMPETITION.

The dramatic contest in connection with the Father Mathew Feis was continued last night, when the Father Mathew Dramatic Society performed "Sally Kavanagh," the play founded on the novel by Charles J. Kickham.

The play is a very sad one, and seems to diffuse the tragedy which was woven into the life of the Irish peasant of seventy years ago. It tells the story of a poor countryman driven by circumstances and by a tyrannical landlord to emigrate to America, leaving behind him his wife and two children.

The utter misery which befalls the lonely wife is emphasised to a harrowing point, with the vision of the poorhouse which inevitably arises. The children die, and Sally, the poor wife, loses her reason. The husband, on his return, is distraught and is barely recognised by his wife before she dies.

The part of Sally Kavanagh was played by Miss M. Crowe, who deserves congratulation for an excellent portrayal of an immensely difficult and trying part. The other parts were well played.

MR. LENNOX ROBINSON.

Mr. Lennox Robinson, at the conclusion of the programme, said that that contest was going to be very interesting for all concerned. What he had seen made him believe that there was a great deal more in Irish drama than many people appeared to think.

It would be 20 years next December, he said, since the Abbey Theatre was opened, and it was certainly a wonderful achievement that they had now in Ireland numerous companies producing plays by Irish dramatists when they considered the condition of dramatic art in Ireland when the Abbey first opened.

He was very hopeful of the future of Irish drama. The people had a great aptitude for the stage, and he instanced Goldsmith, Sheridan, Oscar Wilde, and Bernard Shaw to show that creative genius was not dead or confined to one generation.

If Dublin had any sense, he concluded, it would be tremendously interested in the dramatic competitions now being held, which established a landmark in the history of the Irish stage.

To-night the Dramatic Society attached to the Third Order of St. Francis, Co. Wexford, will produce "My New Curate," adapted from the famous novel by the late Canon Sheehan.

HOCKEY.

THE BUCCANEERS' TOUR.

After our poor showing in the International matches, beaten by Scotland and England following a draw with Wales, it is encouraging to find definite proof that Irish Hockey has not reached the low level such results suggest. And this we get from the showing of the old-established Buccaneer side at the annual Folkestone Festival last Easter.

Although travelling a weak team, numerically, when their programme is considered, five matches in four days, the results were very good, especially when the class of the opposition is considered. The five games worked out as three wins, one loss, and one draw, the last, perhaps, the best result of the five. Played against a very strong side, led by S. H. Shoveller, we were in arrear coming to full-time. A characteristic Irish finish changed the look of the game, and some brilliant forward work found us level at 4 goals all when the final whistle went.

The arrangements for the meeting left nothing to be desired, and with the ground in much better condition than in past years, the level of the games was much above the admittedly high standard of 1922. Added to this, the weather all through was perfect.

Invitations were accepted by Messrs. H. J. McCormick, J. P. Macnamara, G. K. Pilkington, H. M. Hall, G. V. Hill, S. G. Ronan, I. F. Elliott, H. W. Strong, J. F. Crawford, W. Foot, N. Manly, J. F. Mahony, F. M. Eagar, and W. P. MacDonagh. These fourteen Three Rock Rovers and Dublin University players produced five very good teams, as may be judged from the following table of results:—

Buccaneers v. United Services (Portsmouth)—Won, 3-2.
Buccaneers v. Mystics (Folkestone)—Lost, 2-3.
Buccaneers v. Acrostics (Folkestone)—Drawn, 4-4.
Bucaneers v. Folkestone (Folkestone)—Won, 3-1
Bucaneers v. Bacchanalians (Midlands) (Folkestone)—Won, 5-2.

ARRESTS AND CAPTURES.

OFFICIAL REPORTS.

The National Army Headquarters last night issued the following official report:—

"In the Carlow district the troops arrested George Rice, Pollerton Little, Peter and Luke Scully, of Ballylennon Cross district.

"A later report with reference to the arrests made in the Kilkeel (Co. Clare) district mentions that the two McCalls and Grogan, captured by the troops, were discovered concealed in Knockerra Church.

"An irregular named John O'Connor, 9 Morrison's Island, has been arrested by the troops in the Cork Command area. Other arrests made in the same area were:—Patrick Forrestal, Corkery terrace, Blarney street; Nathaniel Locke, 120 Shandon street; Michael Crowley, 22 Marlboro' street; Jeremiah Buckley, Togher road; Denis Murphy, Clogheen, and Patrick Lynch, Fair Hill. A party of armed irregulars raided the house of Mr. Buckley, Corkery Hill, Blarney street, Cork, yesterday. Mr. Buckley blew a whistle, and the raiders decamped. Troops from Glengariff came into touch with irregulars at Adrigole yesterday evening. Two irregulars and one girl were shot dead. Lieutenant Cassidy was wounded.

"A statement published in the Press, to the effect that Edward McGlynn, who was shot in Fintona, Co. Donegal, on the 6th inst. was an Army scout is incorrect. McGlynn had been discharged from the Army some months ago. He received two bullet wounds in the back, and is at present in Glenties Hospital in a critical condition.

RAILWAY RATES.

PROPOSED REDUCTIONS IN ENGLAND.

The question of a further reduction of rates was discussed yesterday at a meeting of British railway managers in London. Sir Herbert Walker presided.

Since the last meeting on the subject a month ago, it is understood that the chairmen of various companies have been consulted, and representations have been made on behalf of the trading community, urging the granting of immediate relief in the percentage charges to figure 33 1-3 per cent. over the 1914 scale.

No decision was reached after a long sitting, and the meeting adjourned to a date to be fixed to enable further information to be obtained.

HOTEL JEWEL ROBBERY.

SEARCH FOR A MISSING GUEST

An extensive jewel robbery at a Windermere hotel yesterday afternoon was followed by the speedy detention of a man.

On Monday a man of respectable appearance arrived at the Old England Hotel, Bowness-on-Windermere, and booked rooms. His only luggage was a suit case. The same evening Mr. and Mrs. McNabb Snadden, of Coldock, Blair-Drummond, near Stirling, arrived at the hotel from Dumfries, the lady having with her some valuable jewellery.

At about noon yesterday the man first mentioned left, and a little later Mrs. Snadden, on going to her room, missed a coat. She then discovered that other belongings, including jewellery worth several thousand pounds, had disappeared, and her husband found that some of his property also was missing.

A train had left Windermere at 2.15, and the hotel manageress telephoned to the Police Superintendent at Kendal. Superintendent Dewhurst, with a sergeant and constable, hastened to Kendal Railway Station, and when the train steamed in the constable saw on the rack of a compartment which was filled with travellers a new suit case, for which the police were advised to look. The three officers inspected the luggage belonging to the passengers in the carriage, but all denied the ownership of the new suit case.

On one passenger the police found a cigarette case answering to the description of one that was missing from the Bowness hotel, and the person was detained. Mr. and Mrs. Snadden arrived by motor at Kendal later.

All of the missing property is now in possession of the police. The articles found in the suit case included a pearl necklace worth £3,000. The other stolen property included dressing gowns, a silk jumper, stockings, string of pearls, with diamond clasp; pearl ear-rings, rings, brooches, and a Treasury note case containing £29. The Kendal police recovered the booty twenty minutes after it had been taken out of the Windermere hotel.

BOOTS'S CLAIM.

NEWRY HOTEL SUED FOR DISMISSAL.

A suit by a hotel "boots" to recover £5 for alleged wrongful dismissal was heard at Newry Quarter Sessions yesterday, the plaintiff being Francis Robinson, a native of Belfast, and an ex-Serviceman, and the defendants the Victoria Hotel Company, Ltd., Newry.

Plaintiff alleged that the manageress, on the ground that he was negligent in his duties, gave him a week's notice, but afterwards summarily dismissed him before the notice expired.

Miss Farquharson, manageress of the hotel, said that there had been many complaints as to Robinson's negligence in attending trains, and that when remonstrated with he became abusive. She had to send for one of the directors, and it was also necessary to summon the police before the man left.

Mr. Ferris, the director referred to, said that when he came to the hotel, the man wanted to fight him, but there was "nothing doing." He said Robinson was a bully, and insolent, and that the other members of the hotel staff were afraid of him.

The judge said that a hotel business had to be carried on with decorum, and he dismissed the claim on its merits.

CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD.

CHARGES AGAINST LONDON MERCHANT.

The hearing was resumed at the London Guildhall yesterday of charges against Frederick Charles Rawlings, a City merchant, of conspiring with three other persons, known as G. Green, A. Slaney and J. Sullivan, not in custody, to obtain large quantities of goods by false pretences.

The nature of the alleged conspiracy is stated to be that of defrauding trustees of the business carried on by the accused in the name of F. C. Rawlings and Company.

A director of the Manchester Velvet Company gave evidence of believing defendant's statement that his credit had never been limited by Manchester houses, and, in consequence, that goods were sent to the value of £449, but that the company had never received payment.

A chartered accountant in the service of the firm which acted as trustee in the bankruptcy of the defendant stated that there was no prospect of any dividend beyond a halfpenny in the £.

In the list of debtors to Rawlings the principal one was Green, to whom sales totalling £37,250 had been made, against which were payments totalling £12,026.

MISSING BELFAST GIRL.

BROTHER'S SEARCH AT KINGSTOWN.

A bridegroom with a gun is being sought by the police and military at Kingstown. A man went to Kingstown yesterday to make inquiries for his sister. It appears that the young woman, who is still in her teens, left her home in Belfast in the company of a member of the Ulster Special Constabulary. They were traced as far as Newry by the brother, who then went on to Kingstown in the hope of being able to intercept them on their way to Holyhead. He communicated with the police, but they could afford him little satisfaction—in fact, they did not think that they had power to intervene on account of the age of the young woman.

A gleam of hope, however, came from the statement that the man who accompanied her was believed to be carrying a revolver, and the military have been put on the qui vive to search for the weapon.

The girl is described as a young woman of good family. Her brother was formerly an officer in the British Army.

U.S. MARKETS.

STOCKS CLOSED WEAK.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

Stocks opened irregular. The failure of the list to respond to optimistic views of business conditions, together with a new high level for raw sugar prices, caused active selling. The bearishness was emphasised by the spread of wage increases in various industries, with a resultant reduction in profits, and the announcement of cuts in the prices of gasoline and crude oil by the Standard Oil Co. of California because of over-production. Oil Shares were liquidated on the possibility of country wide cuts in prices, and the market closed weak.

The Ordinary share capital of the Company now stands at £500,000, having been increased to that figure by the issue in 1920 of 250,000 shares for the sole purpose of providing funds for the construction of additional cars. In July, 1921, £500,000 of 8 per cent. Debentures were issued for the purpose of redeeming £118,500 of 6 per cent. Preference shares was covered approximately twice over. The amalgamation of the railways into large groups is expected to increase the company's operations. Applicants should use the form attached to the prospectus on page 9, and note that the list will close on or before Friday next.

NEW LICENSING BILL IN PREPARATION.

The annual meeting of the Irish Association for the Prevention of Intemperance was held in the Mansion House, Dublin, yesterday, the Rev. Father Laurence, O.S.F.C., presiding.

The report showed a debit balance of about £300. It was pointed out that the Minister of Education had given an assurance that the teaching of temperance in schools would not be discontinued. In his circular of April, 1922, the Minister stated:—"Every school will be expected, as a part of preparation of the pupils for the duties and responsibilities of citizenship, to include in their reading courses matter showing the damage done by intemperance to health and character and the resultant loss to the nation as a whole."

The Committee had addressed questions to candidates for the Dublin constituencies at the general election, but only a few replies were received. They also endeavoured to get all public-houses closed on election day, but were unsuccessful.

The report referred to the death of one of their vice-presidents, Mr. W. F. Bewley, who died on November 25 last, and to the loss by death of several subscribers. Other subscribers had left Ireland and were unable to continue their subscriptions. Altogether it had been an exceptionally hard year for the Association.

The Catholic Total Abstinence Federation, with whom the Committee had the most friendly relations, had been forced to postpone its triennial conference, and the Church of Ireland Temperance Society and the Hibernian Band of Hope Union had found it very hard to arrange any tours for their secretaries. The only Association which seemed able to extend was the Pioneers' Total Abstinence Association, which had increased its membership to 183,000.

As to the effect of prohibition in the United States, the report stated that there was no doubt that it was an inestimable blessing, and that there was not the slightest likelihood that any serious attempts would be made to annul the 18th amendment to the American Constitution, especially as a 19th amendment had since been passed giving equal status in citizenship to women as to men.

The Northern Government was to be congratulated on the promise of temperance reform legislation, and the Committee trusted that the Free State Government would, before long, be able to give attention to the same problem.

The Rev. Chairman, in moving the adoption of the report, said that their Association was one of the oldest in temperance work, and its very name indicated that it was non-sectarian and non-political, and its object was solely the betterment of the nation. He wondered was it by accident or by design that the Committee fixed the meeting for that day, because that was the anniversary of the day on which Father Mathew started his temperance crusade.

The Chairman said he was convinced that whatever temperance work had secured in the past was secured under the auspices of religion. Much as they desired Government orders and legislation, he was very much afraid that unless the people were aided by religious principles they would never have a radical change in the drink situation in Ireland. The figure, £35,813,215, spent on drink in 1921, was an appalling one, and in itself indicated how necessary the work of the Association was.

There should, however, be no pessimism. Despite great difficulties, temperance work had not died down, and it was marvellous how that particular item of social reform had kept its head over water in such unfavourable times.

MR. O'HIGGINS'S ASSURANCE.

The Chairman, continuing, said he was a member of a recent deputation to the Minister for Home Affairs, who informed them that temperance reform would receive his careful consideration, and he (Chairman) knew that a bill was in preparation which would amend the present laws, and also that the Government would not permit its officials to be backsliders, and would not allow the law fall into abeyance. He moved the adoption and circulation of the report.

The Very Rev. the Dean of Christ Church, in seconding, said that there was much ground for encouragement. That Association claimed support on the excellent ground of union between temperance organisations and between the members of different Churches who had opposing opinions on other matters. It formed a link between them and served a very necessary purpose.

In no department of endeavour in Ireland was unity more needed than in temperance work, because of the highly organised and immensely powerful opposition it had to face. In the contest they had against them the forces of the drink trade in the front line, with the publicans, the brewers and distillers, and all the auxiliaries; and then they had the directing brains—the G.H.Q. (Laughter.) That was the difficulty they were up against—the directing brains, which were in evidence in many directions, and what he might call a highly organised Publicity Department. (Laughter.)

In the past, temperance bodies had lost many opportunities because they were divided and attempted too many things at once. Temperance associations in England concentrated on a few points at a time, and it was a gratifying sight to see Cardinal Bourne and the Archbishop of Canterbury and other leaders of Christian Churches, on the same platform pressing forward an agreed programme.

In the North of Ireland they put forward three demands—total Sunday closing, abolition of the bona fide traveller evil, and the abolition of grocers' licences. Let them hope that the Free State Government would not be behind the Northern Government, and that wide temperance measures would be soon introduced, and passed.

As regarded Prohibition in the United States, Mrs. Moffet Clow told them recently that, notwithstanding all that the Publicity Department put in—(laughter)—Probihition had come to stay, and that there was not the slightest chance of America going "wet" again.

"The State," concluded the Dean, "should come to the assistance of religion in this matter, and for the sake of religion, morality, and prosperity, there should be a forward move in this cause." (Applause.)

The resolution was passed.

ENFORCE THE LICENSING LAWS.

The Rev. R. C. Phillips proposed:—"That this meeting has noted with satisfaction that attempts have been made to enforce the Licensing Laws, and urges the Government to use all its powers to prevent the violation of these laws, which has resulted in such a deplorable increase not only of drunkenness, but also of disorder and bloodshed."

He said that the time was soon coming, they believed, when ordered conditions were returning to Dublin and to Ireland, and they hoped that the Licensing Laws would be properly enforced.

Mr. Joseph Mooney, who seconded, said that, despite the difficulties of the year, they had made their voices heard by the Government. It was very desirable that they should put before the Government the necessity for drastic reformation in the Licensing Laws, and they should demand, pending new legislation, that the present laws should be enforced.

The resolution was passed.

A resolution, proposed by Rev. Father Gleeson, C.F., and seconded by Rev. Father O'Ryan, demanding Sunday closing, the elimination of bona-fide exemptions, the endorsement of convictions on licenses, the right for a prosecutor to appeal from a dismissal, the forbidding of new licenses, and the withdrawal of half the existing licenses, was passed.

The proceedings terminated with a vote of thanks to the Chairman, proposed by Mr. C. E. Jacob and seconded by Mr. Thomas Johnston.

TRAIN DERAILED.

TWO COURT OFFICIALS KIDNAPPED.

SIGNAL CABIN BURNED.

Mr. Robert T. Fitzgerald, Clerk of the Peace, and Mr. Patrick J. Meehan, State Solicitor for Queen's County, were kidnapped by armed men when driving yesterday to Carlow Graigue to attend the local Quarter Sessions. Both were released later in the day and returned to Maryborough.

Armed men yesterday morning at Batterstown ordered the driver and stoker from a goods train, and sent it towards a point near Drumree, where a portion of the line had been removed. The train was derailed, the engine being overturned and several wagons wrecked.

The signal cabin at Oranmore (County Galway) Railway Station was raided and burned by armed men yesterday morning.

KIDNAPPED.

PROFESSIONAL GENTLEMEN CARRIED AWAY.

Our Maryborough Correspondent says:—Mr. Robert T. Fitzgerald, Clerk of the Peace, and Mr. Patrick J. Meehan, State Solicitor for Queen's County, were kidnapped yesterday morning by armed men on the Maryborough-Carlow road, as they were driving in a motor car to Carlow-Graigue for the sitting there of the Quarter Sessions.

They left Maryborough, travelling together, in a hired motor car.

At about 11.30 o'clock a telephone message was received in Maryborough from Carlow stating that they had not arrived in court. This gave rise to fears for their safety, in view of the fact that notices had recently been served on court officers and professional gentlemen, forbidding them to act in the courts.

Inquiries were made, but no information was forthcoming until the driver of the car arrived back in Maryborough with the news that both gentlemen had been kidnapped on the road near Arles, within a few miles of Carlow. The driver states that as they were approaching Arles, at a lonely part of the road where trees and scrub afford good cover, he heard a bang, and, thinking that a tyre had burst, he slowed down. He then heard a shout and another shot, and, pulling up, he saw three men come down the slope in the field, one armed with a rifle and two with revolvers. They ordered the three occupants out of the car.

Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Meehan were taken prisoners and marched down the road and into a field, where there were more armed men.

In the meantime, one of the raiders compelled the driver to take a tin of petrol out of the carrier and unscrew the cap. Then, taking the tin, he proceeded to sprinkle petrol over the car. The driver protested, and, on learning that the car was a hired one and not the property of either of the captives, the armed man, after consultation with one of his companions, decided not to burn the car.

Subsequently the armed men said that they would allow the driver to return to Maryborough, "but," said one of them, "we will delay you," and they fired some shots through the tyres. It took the driver upwards of an hour to repair the tyres, and he did not get back to Maryborough until 1.30 p.m.

On receipt of the first intimation of the non-arrival of the two gentlemen at the court, the military headquarters at Carlow were informed, and it is understood that troops went out in search of them, with what result is not known here at the time of wiring.

THE KIDNAPPED MEN RETURN.

In a later message our Correspondent says:—Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Meehan have returned home.

Describing his experiences, Mr. Meehan said that on being taken from the car he and Mr. Fitzgerald were hurried up to a clearing in the scrub at the top of the hill, their captors being apparently fearful of troops coming on the scene. One of them carried a large bag in which Mr. Fitzgerald had the court books and papers. These were taken, and the captives were ordered to empty their pockets. This having been done, some civil bills were taken from Mr. Meehan, also his money and a fountain pen. Mr. Fitzgerald's money was also taken.

One of the raiders objected to the taking of the money, but another said that "the boys would want it." The leader expressed regret for having to take the papers, but said that they had orders to do so. Both gentlemen were compelled to deliver up the light overcoats which they wore under their heavy motoring coats, a raider remarking that these would come in useful.

Having completed their operations, the raiders, being about to move off, ordered their prisoners to remain where they were until night. To this Mr. Meehan objected, saying that he would go to people in the locality whom he knew, and who would drive him home. He was told that he would have to wait in the house until dusk. On his refusal to do so, as he did not want to go home in the dark, the raiders asked for an undertaking that they would not leave the locality until five o'clock. This undertaking was given, and the raiders went away, after one of them had pointed out a roadway leading to the house to which Mr. Meehan had said that he would go. There he and Mr. Fitzgerald were hospitably treated, and at the expiration of their parole they were driven home.

Mr. Meehan declared that their captors were courteous, and as considerate as their haste to finish their job and get away permitted.

Mr. Fitzgerald had gone to his home at Woodville, and was not seen by our Correspondent, but Mr. Meehan said that, like himself, Mr. Fitzgerald was none the worse for his experience.

RAILWAY OUTRAGE.

TRAIN WRECKED NEAR DRUMREE.

When the goods train from Dublin arrived at Batterstown Railway Station yesterday morning, at about 8 o'clock, some men ordered off the engine driver and the stoker. The men then took charge of the engine, and proceeded towards the next station—Drumree. Two miles from Drumree, on the Kilmessan side, a rail had been taken up and thrown into a field beside the line.

Getting up full speed at Drumree, the strangers alighted, and sent the train ahead. At the point where the rail had been lifted the engine jumped the rails and dashed into a ditch, falling on its side and dragging some of the wagons with it. The succeeding wagons were crushed in the impact, but those at the rear kept the line. The entire train, comprising thirteen wagons, was wrecked, and the railway line is completely blocked, goods of all sorts being strewn beside the broken wagons. A large petrol tank at the rear of the train remained standing.

The train left the North Wall, Dublin, at 5.45 o'clock yesterday morning with goods for various consignees at Kingscourt, Trim, Navan, and intermediate stations. An attempt to get at the petrol tank was unsuccessful.

The engine, lying on its side in the railway ditch, is buckled.

The scene of the wreckage is not far from the spot where a passenger train was similarly destroyed a month or so ago.

TELEGRAPH WIRES CUT.

The telegraph wires were cut, and the passenger train from Kingscourt to Dublin could go only as far as the wrecked train, and there await the arrival of the mail train from the Broadstone. The passengers and goods were transferred and the trains sent back. A delay of several hours occurred.

Passengers on the Navan train, for Punchestown, were disappointed.

It will take a day or two to clear the line.

Athboy Railway Station was bombed and wrecked on Monday night, the building being completely demolished. No person resided at the station, but a military guard had been protecting it until recently, when a flying column of troops was substituted, the column visiting the station from time to time during the night.

On the train, which left Kilmessan Station yesterday morning for Dublin, was one of the coaches which suffered as a result of the blowing up of the Athboy Station. All the glass in the windows had been blown out. The carriage was going to the Broadstone for repairs, but it had to return with the train to Kilmessan.

National soldiers kept guard over the wrecked goods train, whilst the railway officials were salving the various articles of merchandise.

SEQUEL TO A TRAIN RAID.

On Saturday evening last the goods train for Ballina from Dublin left Castlerea at about 8 o'clock on its westward journey. About a mile outside of Castlerea it was "held up" by armed men, and four of the wagons, containing foodstuffs, were set ablaze and consumed. On Sunday morning the railway gang on the line were ordered to clear away the débris. A number of wagons of the train remained at the place overnight. On the same afternoon, at about 5 o'clock, a boy found a dead man in a small drain near the point where the railway gang had been working during the day. On inquiry it was found that the dead man was Patrick Mullhaise, aged 33 years, a member of the railway gang. The military made some arrests in the district.

SIGNAL STATION BURNED.

At 2 o'clock yesterday morning a party of armed men raided the signal cabin at Oranmore Railway Station, and burned it to the ground. A military patrol went to the railway station, but the raiders had disappeared.

Threatening letters having been received by the promoters of the East Galway Point-to-Point Races, to be held at Redmount on Thursday next, the fixture has been abandoned.

LAND CONFERENCE.

SETTLING THE MODE OF PROCEDURE.

The members of the Conference which is to report to the Government on the position of the land question in the Free State met yesterday for the first time at the offices of the Land Commission, Upper Merrion street, Dublin. The meeting, which was private, merely arranged mode of procedure and necessary preliminaries. The Conference is constituted of representatives of the landlords, of the tenants, and of the Government.

The landlords' representatives are—Lord Cloncurry, Right Hon. George F. Stewart, and Mr. Henry Franks, M.A., Woodbrook, Mountrath.

The tenants' representatives are—Mr. Denis J. Gorey (Kilkenny), Mr. P. F. Baxter (Cavan), and Mr. W. Nunan (Glanworth, Co. Cork).

The Government nominees are—Mr. Gerald FitzGibbon, K.C.; Mr. Michael J. O'Connor, solicitor, Wexford, and Mr. John Collins (formerly a farmer in West Cork).

The Secretary is Mr. Francis M. Duff.

The terms of reference to the Conference are—To discuss and report on (1) arrears of rent; (2) purchase price in connection with the Land Bill which it is the intention of the Minister for Agriculture to introduce into the Dail within the next four or five weeks.

The assembling of this Conference recalls another somewhat remarkable Conference, which was brought together on the initiative of the late Captain Shawe-Taylor, a Galway landlord. He had been agitating the matter by letters in the newspapers for some months previously, and the first meeting of that Conference was held in the Mansion House, Dublin, on December 20th, 1902.

It was constituted as follows:—The Earl of Dunraven (Chairman), the Earl of Mayo, Col. Sir Hutcheson Poë, Col. Sir Nugent Everard (representing the landlords); Mr. John Redmond, M.P.; Mr. William O'Brien, M.P.; Mr. Timothy Harrington, M.P., Lord Mayor of Dublin; Mr. T. W. Russell (representing the tenants). Captain Shawe-Taylor acted as secretary.

The sittings of the Conference extended over several weeks, and it was upon their report that Mr. George Wyndham, who was then Chief Secretary for Ireland, based the Land Act of 1903, which was then regarded as a very advanced measure in the interest of the tenant farmers. The previous Acts were the Landlord and Tenant Act, 1870; the "Gladstone Act," 1881, and the Land Purchase Act, 1885 (known as the "Ashbourne Act").

But the Wyndham Act was soon found to fall short of a satisfactory settlement of the question. Then came the Evicted Tenants Act, 1907, and Mr. Birrell's Land Act, 1909, because after six years' experience of the Act of 1903 it became evident on the financial provisions of it that further legislation was required if land purchase was to continue.

LAND PURCHASE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Will you give me space to call attention to the conference which, it is stated, is about to be held in Dublin "to help the Government to a settlement of the land question in Ireland"? I think it is time that the land-owners were up and doing, and that someone could inform us what the Irish Landlords' Convention is, and who appointed the so-called "representatives" of the landlords. I have been connected with Irish land, both as agent and landlord, for over thirty years, and have never come in contact with that body, and do not know anyone who has.

The Convention may be perfectly bona fide. Nothing can be said against the names mentioned in your paper, and something of the kind is certainly wanted; but a public meeting of all landlords in Ireland ought to be called to elect delegates before these gentlemen can say that they represent the Irish landlords and agree to meet six others, among whom the tenants' interests largely predominate.

It may be too late now to call such a meeting; but might I suggest to the delegates that they give some address to which information and suggestions can be sent? Meanwhile the delegates might consider the following:—

1. The redemption of "superior charges" at the same number of years' purchase as is given for the landlords' interest, thus giving some fair play to the unfortunate landlords.
2. Forty years' receipt of the rents to be deemed sufficient title to sell, and to receive the purchase money (of course, after advertisements for superior interests).
3. Rents held up for the last three years (admittedly retained for the purpose of forcing sales on the tenants' terms) to be paid in cash before the tenant can have a price fixed.

In common with many other landlords, I have not received one penny of rents for the last three years, owing to the action of the Kilkenny Farmers' Association, as evidenced by the report of their meeting of the 21st December, 1920. I should be glad to send the newspaper reports and correspondence with their Secretary and with the General Secretary of the Irish Farmers' Union to anyone representing the landlords' interests if I could find any address to which to send it. If anyone knows the address of the Secretary of the Land-owners' Convention, I should be glad to have it.—Yours, etc.,

LORD DERBY AT OMAGH.

NORTH'S DESIRE FOR PEACE AND AMITY.

WORK OF THE SPECIAL POLICE.

The Earl of Derby's tour of Northern Ireland ended yesterday at Omagh, where he inspected the military barracks and some 4,000 members of the "A" and "B" classes of the Special Constabulary.

The Minister for War and a distinguished party were the guests of the Duke and Duchess of Abercorn on Monday night, and they arrived in Omagh at 11.30 o'clock yesterday forenoon.

Lord Derby's first duty was to inspect the depot of the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers and a detachment of the Royal Sussex Regiment. He expressed himself as delighted with everything he saw.

The streets of the town were gay with bunting, and as the visitors drove to the courthouse, where Lord Derby received an address of welcome from "The Loyal People of Tyrone," they were heartily cheered. The address referred to Lord Derby's appeal for men during the war, and said that in no part of the Empire did it meet with a more loyal response than in Tyrone. Many ex-Servicemen and loyal citizens had rendered, and were rendering, splendid service as members of the forces of the Crown in Northern Ireland—forces which had largely contributed to the maintenance of the peace and prosperity which the district now enjoyed.

MINISTER'S SPEECH.

Lord Derby, in reply, said that he took the opportunity of mentioning, for the benefit of the district and of other districts in the North of Ireland which were similarly placed, that the depots of the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers would, during the next few weeks, return to Omagh, the Royal Irish Fusiliers to Armagh, and the depot of the Royal Ulster Rifles would remain temporarily at Golden Hill, Isle of Wight, until the quartering situation in Belfast became easier.

Referring to the Special Constabulary, he said that he did not think that anyone would misunderstand his object in reviewing the Constabulary. Had it been a force which had been formed for aggression he knew perfectly well that his friend, Sir James Craig, would not have asked, nor expected, him to inspect it. But it was a force formed purely and solely for the preservation of order within their own district, and it was, therefore, a great pleasure for him to come there and inspect their magnificent men.

Apart from the physique of the men, and apart from their spirit of patriotic feeling, another thing that struck him in going round Ulster was that the evident desire of everybody was to live in peace and amity with his neighbours. It was quite clear to him that the Force had been formed in no spirit of aggression, and, he believed, that nothing would give them greater satisfaction than to see the same peace and order which they were able to maintain there restored on the other side of the border. (Applause.)

The Force they had raised under Sir Charles Wickham was really a wonderful Force. It had just the amount of military discipline to maintain order and prevent disorder. Men with military discipline were not likely to take part in spontaneous outbreaks which often led to larger conflicts.

If he might speak for the other side of the water, he would thank them for their example of discipline. The men had shown an example which, he thought, might be followed, not only on this side of the Channel, but on the other side. (Applause.)

THE INSPECTION.

The Minister for War afterwards reviewed 4,000 "Specials" at Strathroy, consisting of one Battalion of the "A" Force, and four of the "B" Force, with a cyclist company, a cavalry company, and a unit of St. John's Ambulance. Colonel J. H. McClintock, C.B.E., was in command of the Police Forces which marched past the saluting base twice.

Addressing the officers, Lord Derby said that he knew what sacrifices some of the men had made to be there, and he assured them that he greatly appreciated it. Speaking of the efficiency of the Force, he said that the keenness which pervaded all ranks had enabled men with only a very limited amount of drill, but with great hearts and great energy, to make themselves efficient. Considering the shortness of time, it was almost inconceivable that so much had been accomplished. He thanked Colonel McClintock personally for the time and trouble he had given to the Force.

DEPARTURE FROM BELFAST.

Lord Derby returned from Omagh to Belfast yesterday afternoon, and later left for London via Larne and Stranraer. A large crowd assembled at the railway station to give him a cordial send-off, and a guard of honour of the Royal Ulster Constabulary, and, with the Belfast Constabulary band, were on the platform. His lordship was accompanied to the station by the Northern Prime Minister, Sir James Craig; Lord Londonderry, Right Hon. Sir Dawson Bates, Right Hon. J. M. Andrews, and Mr. R. D. Megaw, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Home Affairs.

Before leaving, Lord Derby declared:—"I have never had such a welcome in my life."

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S VISIT.

BY OUR LADY CORRESPONDENT.

Fine weather favoured the first day of the Punchestown Races, and, although the wind was a trifle keen, the air was exhilarating, and the visitors, who attended in goodly numbers, all appeared to enjoy the day's amusement thoroughly. Crowds walked across the course to see the famous "double," and there was a constant coming and going of people in the paddock, where deep interest was shown in the horses.

The Earl of Mayo, Baron de Robeck, M.F.H., and Mr. E. Kennedy wore full hunting kit, and their pink coats gave a touch of colour to the gathering, which was, on the whole, somewhat sombrely attired. Black and brown were the colours most favoured in the ladies' costumes, in many cases relieved by brightly coloured head-gear. It was obvious that the spring was not far enough advanced to permit of the lighter and gayer attire that in favourable seasons has always been associated with Punchestown.

Visitors began to arrive well in advance of the hour (1.30) fixed for the first race, and long before that time the gathering of motor cars had assumed immense proportions. Soon after racing began it became known that the Governor-General, Mr. T. M. Healy, had arrived, and shortly after he was met by several of the stewards, and conducted to the Hunt Stand, where he viewed the racing from the reserved end with evident enjoyment, and later announced his intention of presenting a silver cup to be run for next year.

Among those present in the Kildare Hunt enclosure were the Earl of Enniskillen, the Earl of Kenmare, the Earl and Countess of Mayo, Viscount and Viscountess Powerscourt, the Hon. Doreen Wingfield, Lady Eva Forbes, Mr. T. Ainsworth, M.F.H., and Lady Edina Ainsworth; Lady Weldon, Mr. T. Weldon, Sir Timothy and the Misses O'Brien, Baron de Robeck, Captain H. de Robeck, General and Mrs. Smith Bingham, General Sir Bryan and Lady Mahon, Major and the Hon. # HOUSING IN CARLISLE.

GRETNA VILLAGE TOO REMOTE TO AFFORD RELIEF.

At Carlisle City Council yesterday it was reported that the Government had inquired whether Carlisle would acquire the township of Gretna in connection with the solution of the housing difficulty.

The Council decided that, as Gretna is nine miles from Carlisle, its acquisition would be unsuitable to the purpose, and that the Government's offer could not be entertained.

John Moore, Ballyseamore, Kilkeel, Co. Down, has died at the age of 103.

SPEEDY DEVELOPMENT NEEDED.

GOVERNMENT'S POLICY.

On the motion to go into Committee on the Civil Service Estimates in the House of Commons yesterday, Viscount Ednam called attention to the state of trade with Europe and the Empire, and moved: "That this House, whilst fully desirous of promoting the re-establishment of our relations with European countries on the basis of mutual advantage, urges the Government to take immediate steps to bring about the fullest possible extension of trade within the Empire, and the development of the resources of the Empire in close co-operation with the authorities of the Overseas portions of the Empire."

He expressed the hope that the Government had a definite policy for the development of Imperial trade and resources, and had in view practical schemes to be carried into effect at once or put down on the agenda for discussion at the forthcoming Imperial Conference. He asked what were the terms of reference to the Imperial Conference, and what subjects it was proposed to put down for discussion.

While the development of foreign trade was important, there was a far more productive field for development presented in our Overseas Dominions. (Hear, hear.)

Sir H. Brittain seconded the motion. He urged the necessity of reduced rates for cables and wireless communication. He looked forward in the near future to the time when every Briton at home could speak to any of his kinsmen in the Dominions for a trifling sum. He advocated the promotion of utility schemes, particularly in the Crown Colonies. The resources of the United States were nothing compared with the enormous resources of the British Empire.

SOUND AND WISE.

Sir Philip Lloyd Greame, President of the Board of Trade, said that the policy set out in the motion was sound and wise. It set out what was the whole purpose of the Imperial Economic Conference that would assemble next October. He agreed that that Conference should be devoted not to passing pious resolutions, but to the transaction of real business. (Hear, hear.) They naturally wanted to do business with their own people, who were, after all, their best customers, and gave them a preference.

Not only did the policy proposed appeal to British sentiment, but a consideration of the economic facts as they existed to-day justified the wisdom of the policy as a practical policy. To-day there was a serious deficit in the export trade. At the beginning of 1922 the deficit was 35 per cent., and for the first month of this year the deficit was 20 per cent. But if they were to cure unemployment there was only one way to do it, and that was by wiping out the whole of the deficit on our trade and doing something more. (Cheers.)

GREATER EFFICIENCY.

Even if they restored the complete volume of trade as it was before the war, the efficiency of production to-day was so much greater now than it was ten years ago, both human and material, that for the same volume of trade they would not be able to employ the same number of people. It meant that if they were to keep their markets at all they had got to produce in the most efficient and economical way. They had to restore as far as they could the old markets, and, as that was going to be a long process in many countries, owing to the chaos brought about by the war, they would have to find new markets, and there was no way we could find them half so quickly, so safely, and so well as in the Dominions of the Empire. (Cheers.)

He was certain that with a closer study of the conditions of Dominion markets they could greatly increase the amount of trade they were doing with them. They were opening a new office in Vancouver and establishing Trade Commissioners in Bombay and Calcutta. In regard to trade with Canada, they had a great opportunity as against America, because of the economic conditions which prevailed. A country could not adopt a policy of absolutely exclusive protection and at the same time do a great export trade.

EMBARRASSING RICHES.

The United States were bound to find that out, and if in addition to a very high exclusive protective tariff they were the fortunate recipients of gold as the result of debt payments, there could be no possible doubt that a country in that position would be in the worst possible position to do a large export trade. That was the vital moment for merchants to seek to find their way into markets in which there had been American competition.

It was important they should draw as much raw material from within the Empire as was possible and as little as possible from America. The Dominions and Crown Colonies could supply the materials which Britain got from America. The cotton industry was in a dangerous position. They had an industry relying to a preponderating extent on American sources of supply, which was a bad thing with the present economic relations. In addition the American sources of supplies were diminishing, while the consumption in America was increasing. That was a position which could not be allowed to continue. Britain had colonies with soil on which cotton could be grown, and those colonies must be encouraged to develop.

As regarded some of the Crown Colonies, there was no need to wait. Schemes of developments were ready and only required financial assistance to tide them over the initial stages. No legislation was required, for it only required a vote of the House to authorise the Colonial Office to make advances to the Crown Colonies during the initial stages. There would be no delay on the part of the Colonial Office by holding up schemes. As soon as they were sanctioned the Government would come to the House for authority to make advances.

With regard to the Dominions, the whole policy of the Government was to co-operate with them in schemes which would accelerate development, encourage emigration, and lead to the development of inter-Imperial trade. The powers of the Empire Settlement Act would be used to the full.

At the Imperial Conference they would take up the whole question of co-operation with the Dominions for the development of their resources for mutual trade. They would also consider the question of preference, and the possibilities of extension.

TAKE A LONG TIME.

Mr. Shortt said that an independent self-supporting Empire was something that would not be achieved for many a long day. He gave general support to the motion, but he objected to protective tariffs.

Sir J. Norton Griffiths complained of the Government's delay in pushing Empire development. If it was the Treasury that was holding things up, he urged the Government to go on strike against the Treasury. (Laughter, and Labour cheers.)

A "NIGHT OUT."

Colonel Wedgwood said that they had in that debate "the development of the Empire syndicate" in full cry. It was the Imperialists' night out. (Laughter.) Sir J. Norton Griffiths was connected with one of the largest firms of contractors in the Empire, and in any Government loans for the development of the Gold Coast or Kenya Colony, or any other colony, the contractors would be the first to benefit. (Ministerial cries of "Order.") People interested in the expenditure of public money, whether landlords or contractors, must be subject to criticism, without imputing anything to their private motives. The solution of unemployment lay in the development of their own country. (Labour cheers.)

Mr. Ormsby Gore said that the Government had no panacea for unemployment. He profoundly distrusted all panaceas, including that of the last speaker. Empire development under the Empire Settlement Act was not put forward as a solution of the unemployment problem. It was designed to enable people who wished to go to the Dominions to do so under the best possible conditions. At the forthcoming Economic Imperial Conference it would be open to any of those attending the Conference to bring forward anything affecting the economic relations of the Empire.

They were not going to be content with the progress of State enterprise in the opening up of the Colonies; but they were going to set up a Committee to consider the possibilities of bringing private enterprise in as well.

Mr. Adams deplored the narrow vision of the Treasury Bench.

The motion [illegible] negatived without a division.

VETERAN'S WIN AT PUNCHESTOWN.

MR. HARRY BEASLEY'S FINE FEAT ON PRIDE OF ARRAS.

PRESENTED TO THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

Punchestown has been the scene of many ovations on the occasion of the success of a notable horse or rider, but none of them exceeded in warmth and spontaneity that accorded Mr. Harry Beasley and his mare, Pride of Arras, after winning the Maiden Plate yesterday. Nor has Mr. Beasley, who, it may be mentioned, rode his first winner at Punchestown 44 years ago, ever ridden with more judgment or shown greater ability in the saddle than he did now. Always a great horseman, boasting a wonderful record, and who in his time has ridden the winners of practically every steeplechase of importance in Ireland and England, including the Grand National, which he won in 1891 on Come Away, it is truly remarkable that in his seventy-second year he should have lost none of his skill or dash at race-riding. Mr. Beasley is a popular idol at Punchestown, where he has scored so many triumphs, but none, perhaps, has given him more real pleasure than yesterday's win, and the crowd showed their appreciation in no half-hearted fashion. After returning to the weigh-room he was "chaired" down to the Hunt Stand, and presented to the Governor-General and the President of the Free State, both of whom heartily congratulated him on his brilliant performance.

A Dual Success.

Though below the average, the attendance was still of splendid dimensions, and included the customary big percentage of hunting people; and, fortunately for all, the weather held up until the last race had been decided, when heavy rain set in. With regard to the sport, it can be said of it that it was well up to the standard associated with Punchestown, than which no higher praise can be given. Apart from the Maiden Plate, an interesting feature was the dual success of the veteran sportsman, Mr. James Fitzsimons, who supplied the winners of the Prince of Wales's Plate and the Tickell Cup in Balrennit and Sweet Charlotte, respectively.

In winning the Prince of Wales's Plate for the second year in succession Balrennit put up a smart performance, and incidentally made full amends for the disappointment at Fairyhouse, where, it will be remembered, he fell when leading in the race for the Irish Grand National. Jolly Mac set a strong pace, and was in the van for nearly two miles, at which point Flying Laddie was going well, but when steam was turned on approaching the wall he lost his place, and Balrennit and Clonard drew away in close company. Excitement ran high when a quarter of a mile from home the last-named headed the favourite, who, however, was not nearly done with, and running on with fine resolution got the better of the argument close home. That the victory was very popular was made manifest by the rousing cheers which followed. Third place was filled by Ballinacurra Boy, who occupied the same position twelve months ago, so that the race supplied a double coincidence. One of the runners, St. Molaise, unfortunately, sustained injuries which necessitated the "friendly" bullet being requisitioned.

The Maiden Plate.

The good field of fourteen turned out for the valuable Maiden Plate, and a favourite was quickly found in Pride of Arras, who was confidently expected by her owner to go one better than last year, when she finished second to Francis Brown; and others well backed were Amberwave, Taughmonagh, and St. Jago. The four mentioned practically monopolised the wagering, and it was an accurate sizing-up of the situation for the quartette filled the leading position at the end. St. Jago and Pride of Arras singled themselves out after jumping the wall, and the first-named, though running wide at the turn for home, still retained command to the final obstacle, where the favourite drew up to and headed him, and, amidst a scene of great enthusiasm, passed the post a gallant winner by four lengths.

That much-coveted trophy, the Kildare Hunt Cup, appropriately enough furnished a thoroughly sporting and interesting contest, and the finish was fought out by the two most fancied horses, Ginger IV., ridden by Captain H. de Burgh, and Red Stay, the mount of Captain Honner. Mangostine was looming large in the picture when he came down at the wall, after landing over which Ginger IV. deprived Red Stay of the lead, and though the latter came again gamely the effort was in vain. Ginger IV., whose owner, Mr. J. de Robeck, is a son of Baron de Robeck, Master of the Kildares, is a registered polo pony, and for one of his inches is certainly a fine "lepper." Only last week he won a red coat race at the Kildare Hunt Point-to-Point.

Ladies' Cup a Big Success.

The party of fifteen who contested the Tickell Cup, which is for farmers' horses, included several good stamps of hunters, the quality being more pronounced than for some years. Sweet Charlotte, who won a point-to-point race at Rathcoffey last week, was always in most demand, and in front throughout, and jumping beautifully she never left the issue in doubt. Percival was prominent to the last fence, where he fell, and the only other casualty was Heatherland, who was in the leading division when he toppled over at the wall.

It was disappointing to find only six runners for the Drogheda Plate, and backers for the most part divided their allegiance between Ballystockart and Hinges Mill, but the former fell, and the other could do no better than finish a moderate second to Alice Quickthorn, who belongs to that consistent supporter of racing, Colonel Honner, who did not win out of his turn.

The newly-instituted Ladies' Cup proved a great success, bringing out a large field and providing one of the best finishes of the day. It was a fine tussle for the last half-mile between Cab Lass, Munster Marine, and Bachelor's Belle, the first-named prevailing by a narrow margin over Munster Marine and Bachelor's Belle, the latter of whom made up a lot of leeway in the closing stages, to finish in front of Kilbarry, who failed to perform up to expectations.

1.30—TICKELL CHALLENGE CUP, value 100 sovs. (presented by Lieut.-Colonel Tickell, D.S.O.), with 105 sovs. added. For horses the property of farmers or tradesmen residing in and carrying on business within the Kildare Hunting District. 2 m.

TETRAGON'S SURPRISE

PASS THE MINT TAKES LEAMINGTON STAKES.

That the season's form has by no means settled down yet was apparent from one or two of yesterday's results, but a spell of warm weather will, no doubt, bring about an alteration. The wintry conditions on the opening afternoon apparently had the effect of diminishing the attendance, though the meeting must have been a financial success.

Tetragon was the first surprise winner. She has grown into a charming filly, and it was an electrical sort of finish that enabled her to swoop down and beat Sunny Rose and Noir. Tetragon had carried no stable confidence, for she was really out to get a line of current form.

Gwilt's stable appears to shelter some useful two-year-old platers if nothing else, and the Lute gelding cleverly got the better of the favourite, Sure Gain, in the Harbury Plate.

Warwick is one of those courses where the occupants of the stands are at a great disadvantage with respect to the judge in gauging a finish. Thus it was the general opinion that the hurdler, Yewden, had just got up to beat the despised Standard in the Hatton Handicap, but the judge's short-head verdict was in favour of Mr. Rhodes' son of Stedfast, and there is no doubt it was the correct one. Standard had always been in front.

The success of Pass the Mint in the Leamington Handicap was much appreciated after the previous reverses. He gave Whalley quite a comfortable ride; for, though challenged first by Mile End, and then, close home, by Ardavon, he stayed on in stubborn fashion to make amends for his Lincoln defeat by Fernley. Ardavon, however, made up a lot of ground, and will, doubtless, improve upon this form.

The Arundel trainer, A. Day, does not often exploit two-year-olds, but he saddled a very clever winner in the Stornoway colt, Merry Vale, who led from start to finish in the Grove Park Plate. He is a well-built youngster, who should win again. The King was represented by Rimple—rather a small filly—who displayed speed at the outset, but failed to stay. She was not fancied, but was really out, it is understood, to get a line for Mosaic, who runs at Lingfield. Ojira was ridden by Walker, an Indian jockey, who has come to England to ride for Crawford's patron, Mr. M. Goculdas.

A few prospective jockeys' rides at Lingfield to-day include:—Whalley, Helenova and Old Nic; F. Bullock, Pombal and Overseer; J. Leach, Americus Boy; H. Jones, Mosaic, and Evans, Great Joy.

SPORTING PARAGRAPHS.

Neiltown has left Lewes for the Curragh.

The Coollattin Point-to-Point Races have been abandoned.

When competing for the Prince of Wales' Plate at Punchestown yesterday, St. Molaise sustained fatal injuries.

Entries close to-day for Phœnix Park May, Baldoyle May, and Whit, Mullingar, Dundalk, Rathkeale and Sligo Meetings.

At Punchestown yesterday Mr. Jas. Fitzsimons brought off a double event by the aid of Balrennet and Sweet Charlotte, the former of which now won the Prince of Wales' Plate for the second year in succession.

Mr. J. J. Parkinson has disposed of Fane Lady, who won three races last week, to an American owner, and goes to the United States. Mr. Parkinson has also sold Belgian Boy, whose destination is England.

A. Anthony, the well known Curragh trainer, who took suddenly ill when attending Limerick meeting last month, still lies in the local infirmary, where he has undergone two operations, and his condition is such as to cause anxiety.

Point-to-Point Racing Boots.—L. J. WATKINS, Boot Legging Maker, 77 and 78 Dame st.—(Advt.)

PROGRAMME AND SELECTIONS.

The clashing of Pontefract and Lingfield to-day and to-morrow cannot add to the benefit of either fixture, but the celebrated licorice town is accustomed to opposition, and, possibly, it cannot be helped. Last night the West Riding town was not overcrowded with visitors, but it will be this afternoon, because, once and for all, Yorkshiremen will not be denied their pleasure. Each afternoon the programmes have been well arranged in every sense, and some good prizes have to be run for, notably a thousand pounds affair each day. On the opening afternoon I shall make—granted a run—the following selections:—

Leeds Selling Handicap—Daylight Saving.
Castle Plate—Lucentio.
Pontefract Three-Year-Old Plate—Pharos.

SEWELL'S PUNCHESTOWN SALES.

Messrs. Sewell's entries for their annual Punchestown auction at the Mount street Repository to-morrow, commencing at 1 o'clock, although showing a considerable falling off in numbers, include some high-class 'chasers and hunters from all parts of Ireland. Baron de Robeck, M.F.H., is disposing of the Kildare Hunt horses, which will afford a good opportunity to those wanting hunters who know their job—a very difficult class of horse to find now-a-days. Mr. James Fox is offering four horses, which include those good class 'chasers Mount Etna, Castlering and Kilcullen. There are also several other well-known performers over jumps and in the hunting field to come under the hammer.

BOXING.

LEDOUX AND ROUTIS MATCHED.

PARIS, Monday.

A contract was signed this evening at the "Echo des Sports" office, for a match for the Bantam-Weight Championship of Europe and France, between Charles Ledoux (holder) and Andre Routis, to take place at the Velodrome, Buffalo, on May 10th, the same afternoon as that fixed for the Carpentier and Nilles contest for the Heavy-Weight Championship of France. The programme may also include a third championship, negotiations for the arrangement of which are proceeding.

LINGFIELD.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME AND SELECTIONS.

The prospects for the important meeting beginning at Lingfield to-day are exceedingly bright. The weather had become much warmer last night, and the drying winds of the past few days have brought the going into perfect condition. The enormous entries received for the six events upon the opening afternoon's card forecast droves of runners, and, with plenty of horses on the spot already and many more to come from the comparatively adjacent stables, the fields are certain to be large, except, possibly, for the Chiddingstone Three-Year-Old Plate, which constitutes the chief race on the programme. The distance is a mile, and an easy eight furlongs it is reckoned. Both Heliaster and Pombal have earned 10lb. penalties, and this pair seem to dominate the public form. Old Nic was only beaten a head by Moabite at Liverpool, but is also engaged for another event, and may go for the Victoria Spring Handicap over a mile and a half. The running of the thrice victorious Pombal will well repay inspection, but I cannot think this son of Pommerin is so good as Heliaster proved himself when beating Legend and Lucknam at Kempton at Easter. Allowing for everything, my fancy is for Heliaster as the best thing of the day. Selections:—

Lingfield Spring Plate—Mosaic.
Oxten Plate—Cortona.
Surrey Plate—Musical Ride colt.
Chiddingstone Plate—Heliaster.
Victoria Handicap—Le Cellier.
Felbridge Handicap—The Owl.

[The figures in front of the names of the horses are an index to placings in their last three engagements—reading from right to left.]

MIDNIGHT WIRE FROM LINGFIELD.

FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

LINGFIELD, Tuesday Night.

I have reason to believe that MOSAIC, trained by Marsh, is very useful, and she may win the Spring Stakes. She would have run at Kempton Park except for going amiss on her arrival.

Roamer will not run for the Oxted Plate, for he has injured a leg, so DAMAR may win.

The Surrey Two-Year-Old Plate is left to ENGLAND'S GATE.

I have news of a distinctly favourable nature to the chance held by OLD NIC in the Chiddingstone Plate.

The Victoria Sweepstakes is left to DORADO, and the Felbridge Handicap should be won by BLACK FAIRY.

BILLIARDS.

PROFESSIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP.

NEWMAN v. INMAN.

Newman had a commanding lead when the championship bout was resumed at Holborn Hall, London, yesterday afternoon. Though the session was not remarkable for big breaks, Newman's position was never in danger. Indeed, he added slightly to his lead. His best breaks were 183, 141, 79, and 244 (unfinished), against Inman's best of 138 and 225. Interval scores:—Newman, 10,001; Inman, 7,913.

Inman fought on doggedly at night, outpointing Newman, and scoring 850, with an average of 212. Newman made his unfinished break into 336; then Inman went away with runs of 113, 75, 207, and 455. Newman had done nothing so far, but he finished the session in great style with 506 unfinished—his sixth break in the match exceeding 500. Closing scores:—Newman, 10,668; Inman, 8,763.

REECE v. FALKINER.

When the game at Liverpool was resumed yesterday, Falkiner took his unfinished effort to 118, and followed with 37, twice, and a fine contribution of 284. At one time Reece led, but he fell back afterwards. His chief breaks were 55, 178, and 72. Interval scores:—Falkiner, 10,001; Reece, 9,649.

In the evening Falkiner carried his break to 167. There were no efforts of importance for some time, and then Falkiner put on 111; after which the chief items were 238 and 80 by Reece and 70 by Falkiner. Closing scores:—Falkiner, 10,666; Reece, 10,315.

The following letter has been received from the Chairman of the Company:—

Victoria Station,
Pimlico, London, S.W. 1,

Messrs. Erlangers, 8 Crosby square, London, E.C. 3.

Gentlemen,—In connection with the agreement entered into with you for the purchase of 625,000 Seven per Cent. Cumulative Preference Shares of £1 each, I beg, in accordance with your request, to give you the following information.

The 625,000 Preference Shares now offered have just been created, and the proceeds thereof will be applied in repaying, at 102½ per cent., on or before the 1st July, 1923, the Company's outstanding £500,000 of Eight per Cent. First Mortgage Equipment Debentures, in paying Stamp duty chargeable on the creation of the said Preference Shares, and towards the expenses of the construction of new cars.

A Resolution has been passed and only requires confirmation as a Special Resolution to alter the Company's Articles to provide that the holders of the Preference Shares will only be entitled to vote should their dividend be in arrear for more than six calendar months, in which case they will be entitled, as are the holders of the Ordinary Shares, to one vote per share.

The Pullman Car Company, Limited, was formed in 1915 to take over the business of the Pullman Company, Limited, registered in 1882, and to provide and operate Pullman cars on various railways in Great Britain and elsewhere.

The Ordinary Share Capital of the Company now stands at £500,000, having been increased to that figure by the issue in 1920 of 250,000 shares, for the sole purpose of providing funds for the construction of additional cars.

In July, 1921, the above-mentioned £500,000 of Eight per Cent. Debentures were issued for the purpose of redeeming £118,500 of Six per Cent. Debentures then outstanding, to pay for 63 new cars, and to provide the Company with additional working capital.

The Company now owns a total of 167 cars, including 19 under construction.

The position of the Company, based on the last Balance Sheet, as at 30th September, 1922, may be summarised as follows:—

|---|---|---|
| Cars and Equipment | | £1,234,787 |
| Payments on account of new Cars and Re-modellings | | 58,841 |
| Buildings, Plant, Machinery, Motor Vans, Furniture, etc. | | 12,125 |
| Stocks, Debtors, Investments, and Cash | | 96,243 |
| Amount uncalled on 67,303 Ordinary Shares | | 60,598 |
| Net proceeds of issue of Preference Shares, say | | 575,000 |
| Less— | | |
| Sundry Creditors, including £31,278 in respect of Income-tax adjustment, Debenture Interest accrued, etc. | £96,006 | |
| Amounts due under Construction Contracts | 55,824 | |
| £500,000 8 per Cent. First Mortgage Debentures, to be repaid at 102½ per cent. | 512,500 | |
| | | 664,330 |
| BALANCE | | £1,373,264 |

which covers the Preference Share Capital more than twice over.

Since the date of the Balance-sheet a dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. has been declared in respect of the year to 30th September, 1922, absorbing £43,261.

The Revenue of the Company is derived from supplements charged to passengers, based on distances travelled, and from the receipts for meals and refreshments served in the cars. The Company, while carrying the passengers free of charge to the Railway Companies, is entitled to the full amount of the supplements.

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|

*Coal Strike.

Owing to delays in delivery it was only in the latter part of its financial year 1922 that the Company began to reap the full benefit of the cars provided by the 1921 Debenture issue, whilst it must be remembered that the long coal strike of 1921 very adversely affected the revenue and profits for that year.

The receipts for the last quarter of the year 1922, and for the first quarter of the year 1923, if maintained, point to a substantial improvement in the profits for 1923, which should be still further increased when the cars now under construction come into operation.

It will be seen that the interest on the 7 per cent. Preference shares was covered approximately twice by the net operation revenue of the year 1922, and this margin should be materially increased for the year 1923.

The cars are operating on the following systems:—
The South-Eastern and Chatham Railway } now Southern Railway.
The London Brighton and South Coast Railway }
The Caledonian Railway.
The Great Eastern Railway—now London and North-Eastern Railway.
The Metropolitan Railway.

The Contracts with the Railway Companies are of an entirely satisfactory character. They provide for the running of the cars on the various lines under conditions favourable to both parties and for periods in most cases which vary according to the mutual agreement for the supply of additional cars.

Now that the various railways have been amalgamated into large groups, my Board look forward with great confidence to the rapid expansion of the Company's service over Great Britain, and to the increased prosperity of the Company.

Yours faithfully,
D. DALZIEL, Chairman.

Applications for purchase must be made on the accompanying form and lodged with Messrs. Erlangers, 8 Crosby square, London, E.C. 3, or Barclays Bank, Limited, together with the amount payable on application.

If any application be not accepted in respect of the full amount of Shares applied for, the surplus amount paid on application will be appropriated towards satisfying the amount payable on acceptance, and any balance will be returned to the applicant, and if any application be not accepted the amount paid on application will be returned in full. Interest at the rate of 8 per cent. will be charged on all instalments in arrear.

A brokerage of 1½d. per share will be paid on acceptances in respect of applications for purchase bearing the stamp of a Banker, Broker, or other approved agent.

All Shares applied for and accepted hereunder will be procured to be allotted directly by the Company to the applicants, and on payment of the final instalment the names of the purchasers will be entered in the Company's register of members as holders of the Shares purchased, and the Certificates therefore will be delivered in due course by the Company.

The price payable by Messrs. Erlangers for the Preference Shares now offered for sale is par, and the Company will pay them a commission of 7 per cent. on the nominal amount of the Shares. Messrs. Erlangers are paying 2½ per cent. underwriting commission and one-half per cent. over-riding commission, together with brokerage and the cost of advertising, printing, and circulating this offer, and have reserved for Messrs. Myers and Co. a participation in their purchase.

The above letter from the Chairman of the Company, copies of the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Company, of the Balance-sheets for the last six financial years, of the Agreement under which Messrs. Erlangers have agreed to purchase the Shares now offered for sale, and of the Resolutions creating the said Shares and that which is in course of being passed to amend the Articles of Association, may be seen during business hours, whilst the List of Applications for purchase is open, at the Offices of Messrs. # FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

IRISH STOCK EXCHANGES.

DUBLIN.

WAR FIVES STRONG. BANK STOCK OFFERED. "MULLINGAR" STOCK WEAK. MARCONIS, COURTAULDS, AND IMPERIAL TOBACCOS FINALLY EASIER.

Strength and some activity remain the features in Government Funds; otherwise Stock Exchange business has been, with few exceptions, poor in volume, though the amount of support offered has been mostly equal to the supply, with a gradual appreciation in market values. War Loan 5 p.c. and Funding Loan were particularly firm and good all day, but Conversion Loan and India 3 p.c. eased. Bank of Ireland Stock turned weak and gave way. Nationals were better. Hibernians and Munsters were firm. There was practically no change in Breweries, etc., but a small lot of City Steam was sold ½ under last marking. Home Rails were fairly busy, with Midland Great Western Ord. again on offer at a further set back. Dublin and Kingstown Leased Line Stock was also sold at a decline. Dublin United Tram issues were rather on offer at last prices, and the Pref. eased a little. Parent Tyres sprang into request. The Pref. rose to 13s. 1½d., and the Ord. were buyers about 16s. The Def. Shares were about 1s. higher at 24s. 9d. to 25s. unofficially. Alliance Gas Shares were harder; but in Drapery issues, Crowe Wilson Pref. were sold back to 15s. 3d. Textiles fluctuated a little. Bradford Dyers rose sharply. Textiles generally, and Coats and Cottons were better, but Bleachers Ord. were easier. Courtaulds and Tobaccos at one time were well supported at slight gains, but later relapsed on London prices. Maguire and Gatchell Pref. Shares were higher, but Radio Shares relapsed.

In the Funds, War Loan 5 p.c. rose ⅛ to 102 11/16-⅞, and Funding Loan 1/16 to 90⅞, but Conversion 3½ p.c. fell 1/16 to 79 7/16, and India 3 p.c. ⅜ to 59. Consols repeated 59⅞.

Among Banking securities, Nationals recovered 1/16 to 19 9/16, but Bank of Ireland Stock fell 1⅛ to 234-233⅞, while Munster and Leinsters repeated 7 7/16, and Hibernians were very firm, but nominal, at 6 15/16 to 7.

In Breweries and Distilleries, J. Power and Son Pref. shaded 1½d. to 19s. 10½d., while Dublin Distillers Pref. repeated 80s., and Guinness Ord. 44 7/16.

City of Dublin Steam Stock fell ½ to 136½.

The only change in Home Railway Ord. was a fall of ½ to 28, sellers, in Midland Great Western Ord. Dublin and Kingstown (Leased Line), however, fell 1 13/16 to 100½, while Cork and Bandon Ord. repeated 36, Dublin and South-Eastern Ord. 18½, and Great Northern 57. Great Southern opened buyers and ⅛ better at 46⅛, but later lost the slight gain. Pre.-Ord. Stocks were all neglected until the later market, when Great Southern Guaranteed realised 54½ for a small lot.

In Trams, Dublin United remain dull at 6 15/16 to 7, and the Pref. fell 1/16 to 9 9/16.

Parent Tyres turned very firm. The Pref. rose 7½d. to 13s. 1½d., and even higher the other side. The Ord. repeated 16s., and the Def. closed unofficially 1s. higher at 24s. 6d.-25s. Dunlop Rubber Ord. fell 1½d. to to 9s. 7½d.

Alliance and Dublin Consumers Gas rose 1/16 to 6 1/16 x.d.

In Drapery issues, Crowe Wilson Pref. fell 9d. to 15s. 3d.

Marconis were weaker. The Ord. fell 3d. to 50s. 9d., Radio Common 1s. 9d. to 17s.-17s. 3d., and the Pref. 6d. to 15s.

Among Manufacturing Shares, British-American Tobacco rose 6d. to 91s. 9d., but Imperials fell 9d. to 80s. 9d., after being 81s.-81s. 3d. Bradford Dyers rose 1s. 3d. to 56s. 4½d., Coats 3d. to 66s. 9d., the "B" Pref. 3d. to 24s., and Cottons 3d. to 47s. 9d., but Bleachers fell 9d. to 48s. 4½d. Lever Bros. 7 p.c. repeated 22s., and the 8 p.c. Pref. 21s. Thwaites Ord. remain scarce. Courtaulds opened 67s.-67s. 3d., but later were sold back to 66s. 9d. on profit-taking.

In Trading, etc., Maguire and Gatchell Pref. rose 1s. to 53s. 6d., but Heiton Pref. repeated 64s. 1½d., and Dublin South City Markets 5½.

British Controlled Oils rose 7½d. more to 13s. 6d.-13s. 7½d., 13s. 9d. Shells realised 87s. 3d., Barry Ostlere Ord. 42s. 6d., and "Johnnie" Walker Pref. 1s. prem.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

United Alkali shareholders will, no doubt, be glad to hear that settlement of the complicated war taxation is so near completion that henceforth it should be practicable to return to the regular presentation of accounts at the end of each twelve months' operations. The accounts now presented cover a period of two years, and in view of the bad trading conditions during the greater part of that time, the results declared are very satisfactory. The credit balance for the two years amounts to £505,897, as against £316,312 in 1920, when, however, £100,000 was taken from reserve. A final dividend of 2/- per share is declared, leaving £386,835 to be carried forward. The report explains that the present profit and loss account includes that previously set aside as a reserve against war taxation and now not required.

With Lord Inchcape expressing the view that the political situation in India is quite satisfactory, it is all the more assuring because of his long acquaintance with the country and its people. The demand that sprang up for India 4½ per cent. Stock was indirectly the result. Its merits have been overlooked by many people. Even at the enhanced price of 89¾ the running yield is rather more than 5 per cent., while it has the long life of about thirty years, being redeemable between 1950-55. Taking this into consideration the return would be more, but the period is rather too long to be worth such a factor. This is naturally more on the capital outlay than on the Irredeemable Stocks, and less than the 5½ per cent. Stock, which, however, only runs to the early part of 1932, and is standing at 102, so that the redemption value is less than the running yield.

We understand that Messrs. Higginson and Co. will shortly offer for sale at 95 per cent. £3,500,000 5½ per cent. First Mortgage Redeemable Debenture Stock of Dorman, Long and Co., Ltd.

QUIET STOCKS.

WAR LOAN FIVES STRONG.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT AND THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

While markets, on the whole, maintained a firm appearance, and showed here and there some particularly bright spots, the general tendency yesterday was inclined to be a little quieter, although the tone was scarcely less cheerful than on the preceding day. The 5 p.c. War Loan constituted a noteworthy feature of the gilt-edged market, which was again very firm throughout the day. This Stock established a new high record, changing hands as high as 102 15/16, and, although it subsequently shed ⅛ of its rise, the closing quotation was still a record, and also considerably above the overnight price. War Loan Fives have become additionally attractive as the date for the deduction from the quotation of the half-yearly interest instalment draws nearer, and with that consideration in view the Stock may still be reckoned cheap at the advanced price. Conversion Loan and the small series of Victory Bonds appreciated, as also did the 1928 National War Bonds; but the shorter-dated Nationals were slightly easier. India Stocks were again featured by the 4½ p.c., which enjoyed a further substantial rise, the rest of the group being steady.

LONDON STOCKS IRREGULAR.

Quietness prevailed on the Stock markets yesterday, the volume of business showing a considerable shrinkage. A rather irregular tone developed in consequence, but towards the close the tone improved, and the finish was firm. British Funds were maintained, but movements were few. The 5 p.c. War Loan rose ¼ to 102⅞, while Victory Bonds also gained ¼ at 92½. India 5½ p.c. Loan rose ¼ to 102.

French Loans remained unaltered in FOREIGN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES, but Portuguese Threes rose 1 to 31. Mexican Sixes gained another point at 70, while Peruvian Corporation Pref. rose a point to 32. Brazil Funding, 1914, fell 1 to 72, while Chinese Fives of 1896 fell 1 to 95 x.d.

HOME RAILWAYS, after a very dull opening, improved later in the day, and closed with a few substantial gains. London, Midland and Scottish Ord. fell ½ to 114, but the 4 p.c. Pref. rose 1 to 84, and the 4 p.c. Pref. of 1923 also gained a point at 83. London North-Eastern 1st Pref. rose 1 to 84, while the 2nd Pref. rose ½ to 82. Metropolitan Pref. gained a point at 101½. Southern Def.-Ord. rose ½ to 41½, while the 5 p.c. Pref. gained 1 at 103. Caledonian Def.-Ord. gained ⅛ at 15⅞. Great Westerns fell ½ to 114, and Underground Electric at 3½ lost ⅛.

COLONIAL and FOREIGN RAILWAYS were very dull, and closed with few changes. Antofagasta Ord. rose 1 to 84, while Central Uruguay Ord. fell 1½ to 43, and San Paulo Ord. 1 to 138. Americans were lifeless.

OIL SHARE MARKET SMALL.

VERY LITTLE CHANGE.

Although a confident tone continued in evidence in the Oil Share market yesterday, general business was on a reduced scale, and it was reserved to a few specialities to provide what activity existed. Even in those shares which have lately supplied lively features transactions showed some diminution, and prices moved within comparatively narrow limits, so that final quotations left them little changed on the day, price movements generally being of an irregular character. The foremost position continued to be held by British Controlled, some large lines of the shares again changing hands, and the buying being attributable to a recognition of the importance to the company of the decision of the Standard Oil Company to exercise its rights in regard to the Eastern division of the Buchivacoa concession. It is also understood that the new well brought in on the Western section of this concession, which is being operated by the British Controlled itself, is yielding a very high-grade oil, and promises to be a good producer. The shares finished below the best, but still showed a further small gain on the day. The V.O.C. issues were a trifle easier at the start, but met with a good demand later, and closed showing a small gain. Anglo-Ecuadorians again receded slightly, but Colombian Oilfields continued in request, and further strengthened. Closing prices:—

RUBBER SHARES BOOMING.

There was a very near approach to a boom on the Rubber Share market yesterday; for there was an almost general advance in prices, with a great deal of business passing. Batu Tiga rose 2s. 9d. to 34s. 9d.; Malacca gained 2s. 3d. at 45s., but the Pref. fell 4s. 4½d. to 45s. Sungei Krian Pref. rose 2s. 6d. to 45s.; Sungei Salak gained 4s. 4½d. at 46s. 3d. # LONDON MINING MARKET DULL.

EAST RANDS IN REQUEST.

Although the Gilt-edged market maintained its strength, very little enthusiasm was noticeable in the speculative sections, and Mines had a rather dull appearance. Kaffirs could boast but little activity, despite the fact that Paris came in a buyer of several of its specialities. This demand was, however, reflected in the prices of Central Mining, Brakpan, and Government Mines, while Durban Deep were again in request on reports of good developments in the new shaft. No official information of the completion of this shaft has, however, been published, and the annual report, recently issued, contained no reference even to the resumption of sinking. East Rands, after their sharp set-back, came into request, and went ahead, but Modder "B" continued on the down grade, and Rand Mines, "Johnnies," Union Corp., and several others receded fractionally. The good showing made by the "Johnnies" subsidiaries in their reports for 1922, just issued, failed to arouse much interest. Consolidated Main Reef weakened on rumours of poor developments; and West Springs, which will be quoted ex rights to-day, were unaltered, the rights being valued at nil. Closing prices:—

INDUSTRIALS PATCHY.

SOME GOOD SPOTS.

An irregular tendency characterised the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets yesterday, and business was rather patchy, but several good spots were still in evidence. Platt Bros. showed fresh strength on the placing of a large line of shares, to which we referred yesterday, and also on the news that the company is doing quite well. Elsewhere among Iron and Steel descriptions, Guest Keens further advanced. The turnover in this section was quite good. Dorman Longs gave way on the proposed Debenture issue. Coal stocks were irregular, but Gas stocks remained firm. Shipping issues scarcely moved. Apart from the Cellulose issues, which displayed fresh strength, Textiles had a dull appearance. In the Stores list Harrods continued in request, and further advanced. Hope Bros. showed strength on the increased dividend of 10 per cent. for the year, which compares with 6 per cent. a year ago. Tobaccos maintained a firm appearance. Among miscellaneous trading concerns, Cement issues remained dull, and Brunner Monds further relapsed. In Motors, Rolls-Royce were prominent. Nitrates kept firm, and insurances further appreciated, while movements among Bank shares generally favoured holders. Apart from Canadians, which eased, the Marconi group kept steady.

The feature of the Iron and Steel market was the strength of Platt Brothers, which rose to 44s. 3d., or 1s. higher on the day, bargains being recorded at up to 44s 7½d. Guest Keens were wanted and finished 9d. better at 41s. 9d., and smaller advances were noted in Bengals to 26s. 3d., in Pease and Partners to 29s., in Projectiles to 7s. 9d., and in Sheffield Steel Products to 9, Dorman Longs fell 6d. to 17s. 3d., and Vickers receded to 15s. 3d. Babcock and Wilcox held their ground at 77s. 6d. and South Durhams at 2⅞. Apart from a fall of 3d. in Canadians to 10s. 6d. the Marconi group kept steady. Fresh weakness was seen in Brunner Monds, which dropped 9d. to 42s. United Alkalis kept firm at 39s. 6d. and Borax Def. advanced to 38s. 6d. Salt Unions, however, lost 3d. at 21s. 9d. x.d. On the increased dividend referred to, Hope Brothers were wanted and finished 1s. 3d. higher on balance at 21s 3d., and elsewhere among Stores, Harrods continued their advance to 36s., or 6d. higher on the day.

In the Textile section, Cellulose Ord and Prefs. showed renewed strength, there being a very good turnover in the shares. The former finished 6d. up at 12s. 9d., and the Prefs. improved to 15s., Courtaulds lost the turn at 66s. 10½d., and losses of 3d. were seen in Amalgamated Cottons at 12s. 3d., in "Slubbers" at 12s. 9d., and in Crosses and Winkworth Prefs. at 18s. 9d., and in John Wood Brothers at 4s. 6d. The demand for Rolls Royce continued, with the result that they finished 1s. higher at 30s. 6d. x.d. Vauxhalls stiffened to 7s. 9d., but Humbers eased to 25s., and Napiers to 7s. 9d. Among Miscellaneous concerns, Cements relapsed to 23s. 3d., and British Portlands to 29s. 6d. x.d., Lever 7 to 8 both gained the turn at 22s. 1½d. and 21s. 1½d. respectively. Oil Cakes kept the price at 30s. 6d. Dunlops remained at 9s. 7½d., while the A Prefs. strengthened to 17s. In the Newspaper and Printing sections, Associateds shed 3d. to 22s., and the Def. shares 1/16 to 7 x.d. "Daily Mirrors" put on 1/16 to 5¼. Very few changes took place among recent new issues, Cellulose Holdings Debs. again changed hands at up to 17 prem. John Walker Debs. kept firm, and the Prefs. at 9d. prem.

THE MONEY MARKET.

LOANABLE CREDITS EASIER.

STERLING WEAK ON NEW YORK.

Had Lombard street been obliged to pay off any money to the Bank, it is pretty certain that the situation would have been very uncomfortable. As it was the condition of loanable credit was less stringent than of late. In some cases lenders secured 2½-3 p.c. for granting night money, but the general charge was below that, the old loans going on in some cases at 2 p.c. Fixtures were still being renewed, however, at 1½-1¾ in most cases, with more asked for any new accommodation.

Stagnation prevailed in discounts. There was a fitful demand of a special character for end May-early June bills at 2 p.c. The new Treasuries appeared to be buyers and sellers at 2¼; hence very little business resulted, while fine three months' bank bills stiffened to 2 1/16.

Gold rose 7d. per oz. to 88s. 10d., India taking about £250,000 of the amount available. On Indian, China and Continental selling, silver further fell ⅜d. per oz. for spot and 5/16d. for forward delivery to 31 11/16d. and 31⅛d. respectively.

Conspicuous in the market for foreign exchange was the weakness of sterling, which fell to 4.64⅝ dollars New York. French francs, on the other hand, continued to appreciate in value, and at one time were 68.45, reacting to 69.95, Belgium being 81.10 and Italy 93½. Scarcely any movement occurred in German marks at 97,000-98,000, while Swiss francs were dull at 25.43-25.48, Holland being 11.89. There was a demand for Japanese yen, which improved to 2s. 1½d., rupees showing no variation at 1s. 4 5/32d.-1s. 4¼d. Brazilian milreis slipped back again to 5 7/16-5½ and Argentine dollars to 42⅜-42⅞. Chilian pesos remained at 37.80. Norwegian kroner were heavy at 25.96. The following are closing quotations:—

VETERAN'S WIN AT PUNCHESTOWN.

MR. HARRY BEASLEY'S FINE FEAT ON PRIDE OF ARRAS.

PRESENTED TO THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

Punchestown has been the scene of many ovations on the occasion of the success of a notable horse or rider, but none of them exceeded in warmth and spontaneity that accorded Mr. Harry Beasley and his mare, Pride of Arras, after winning the Maiden Plate yesterday. Nor has Mr. Beasley, who, it may be mentioned, rode his first winner at Punchestown 44 years ago, ever ridden with more judgment or shown greater ability in the saddle than he did now. Always a great horseman, boasting a wonderful record, and who in his time has ridden the winners of practically every steeplechase of importance in Ireland and England, including the Grand National, which he won in 1891 on Come Away, it is truly remarkable that in his seventy-second year he should have lost none of his skill or dash at race-riding. Mr. Beasley is a popular idol at Punchestown, where he has scored so many triumphs, but none, perhaps, has given him more real pleasure than yesterday's win, and the crowd showed their appreciation in no half-hearted fashion. After returning to the weigh-room he was "chaired" down to the Hunt Stand, and presented to the Governor-General and the President of the Free State, both of whom heartily congratulated him on his brilliant performance.

A Dual Success.

Though below the average, the attendance was still of splendid dimensions, and included the customary big percentage of hunting people; and, fortunately for all, the weather held up until the last race had been decided, when heavy rain set in. With regard to the sport, it can be said of it that it was well up to the standard associated with Punchestown, than which no higher praise can be given. Apart from the Maiden Plate, an interesting feature was the dual success of the veteran sportsman, Mr. James Fitzsimons, who supplied the winners of the Prince of Wales's Plate and the Tickell Cup in Balrennit and Sweet Charlotte, respectively.

In winning the Prince of Wales's Plate for the second year in succession Balrennit put up a smart performance, and incidentally made full amends for the disappointment at Fairyhouse, where, it will be remembered, he fell when leading in the race for the Irish Grand National. Jolly Mac set a strong pace, and was in the van for nearly two miles, at which point Flying Laddie was going well, but when steam was turned on approaching the wall he lost his place, and Balrennit and Clonard drew away in close company. Excitement ran high when a quarter of a mile from home the last-named headed the favourite, who, however, was not nearly done with, and running on with fine resolution got the better of the argument close home. That the victory was very popular was made manifest by the rousing cheers which followed. Third place was filled by Ballinacurra Boy, who occupied the same position twelve months ago, so that the race supplied a double coincidence. One of the runners, St. Molaise, unfortunately, sustained injuries which necessitated the "friendly" bullet being requisitioned.

The Maiden Plate.

The good field of fourteen turned out for the valuable Maiden Plate, and a favourite was quickly found in Pride of Arras, who was confidently expected by her owner to go one better than last year, when she finished second to Francis Brown; and others well backed were Amberwave, Taughmonagh, and St. Jago. The four mentioned practically monopolised the wagering, and it was an accurate sizing-up of the situation for the quartette filled the leading position at the end. St. Jago and Pride of Arras singled themselves out after jumping the wall, and the first-named, though running wide at the turn for home, still retained command to the final obstacle, where the favourite drew up to and headed him, and, amidst a scene of great enthusiasm, passed the post a gallant winner by four lengths.

That much-coveted trophy, the Kildare Hunt Cup, appropriately enough furnished a thoroughly sporting and interesting contest, and the finish was fought out by the two most fancied horses, Ginger IV., ridden by Captain H. de Burgh, and Red Stay, the mount of Captain Honner. Mangostine was looming large in the picture when he came down at the wall, after landing over which Ginger IV. deprived Red Stay of the lead, and though the latter came again gamely the effort was in vain. Ginger IV., whose owner, Mr. J. de Robeck, is a son of Baron de Robeck, Master of the Kildares, is a registered polo pony, and for one of his inches is certainly a fine "lepper." Only last week he won a red coat race at the Kildare Hunt Point-to-Point.

Ladies' Cup a Big Success.

The party of fifteen who contested the Tickell Cup, which is for farmers' horses, included several good stamps of hunters, the quality being more pronounced than for some years. Sweet Charlotte, who won a point-to-point race at Rathcoffey last week, was always in most demand, and in front throughout, and jumping beautifully she never left the issue in doubt. Percival was prominent to the last fence, where he fell, and the only other casualty was Heatherland, who was in the leading division when he toppled over at the wall.

It was disappointing to find only six runners for the Drogheda Plate, and backers for the most part divided their allegiance between Ballystockart and Hinges Mill, but the former fell, and the other could do no better than finish a moderate second to Alice Quickthorn, who belongs to that consistent supporter of racing, Colonel Honner, who did not win out of his turn.

The newly-instituted Ladies' Cup proved a great success, bringing out a large field and providing one of the best finishes of the day. It was a fine tussle for the last half-mile between Cab Lass, Munster Marine, and Bachelor's Belle, the first-named prevailing by a narrow margin over Munster Marine and Bachelor's Belle, the latter of whom made up a lot of leeway in the closing stages, to finish in front of Kilbarry, who failed to perform up to expectations.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

CONYNGHAM CUP.

Another attractive programme will be served up to-day, with the time-honoured Conyngham Cup as the centrepiece, whilst another important event is the La Touche Cup, a race instituted in memory of the late Mr. Percy La Touche, who was so long and honourably associated with the Punchestown meeting. Pride of Arras will not be saddled for the Conyngham Cup, in which St. Jago, if none the worse of his effort yesterday, reads the danger to

TETRAGON'S SURPRISE

PASS THE MINT TAKES LEAMINGTON STAKES.

That the season's form has by no means settled down yet was apparent from one or two of yesterday's results, but a spell of warm weather will, no doubt, bring about an alteration. The wintry conditions on the opening afternoon apparently had the effect of diminishing the attendance, though the meeting must have been a financial success.

Tetragon was the first surprise winner. She has grown into a charming filly, and it was an electrical sort of finish that enabled her to swoop down and beat Sunny Rose and Noir. Tetragon had carried no stable confidence, for she was really out to get a line of current form.

Gwilt's stable appears to shelter some useful two-year-old platers if nothing else, and the Lute gelding cleverly got the better of the favourite, Sure Gain, in the Harbury Plate.

Warwick is one of those courses where the occupants of the stands are at a great disadvantage with respect to the judge in gauging a finish. Thus it was the general opinion that the hurdler, Yewden, had just got up to beat the despised Standard in the Hatton Handicap, but the judge's short-head verdict was in favour of Mr. Rhodes' son of Stedfast, and there is no doubt it was the correct one. Standard had always been in front.

The success of Pass the Mint in the Leamington Handicap was much appreciated after the previous reverses. He gave Whalley quite a comfortable ride; for, though challenged first by Mile End, and then, close home, by Ardavon, he stayed on in stubborn fashion to make amends for his Lincoln defeat by Fernley. Ardavon, however, made up a lot of ground, and will, doubtless, improve upon this form.

The Arundel trainer, A. Day, does not often exploit two-year-olds, but he saddled a very clever winner in the Stornoway colt, Merry Vale, who led from start to finish in the Grove Park Plate. He is a well-built youngster, who should win again. The King was represented by Rimple—rather a small filly—who displayed speed at the outset, but failed to stay. She was not fancied, but was really out, it is understood, to get a line for Mosaic, who runs at Lingfield. Ojira was ridden by Walker, an Indian jockey, who has come to England to ride for Crawford's patron, Mr. M. Goculdas.

A few prospective jockeys' rides at Lingfield to-day include:—Whalley, Helenova and Old Nic; F. Bullock, Pombal and Overseer; J. Leach, American Boy; H. Jones, Mosaic, and Evans, Great Joy.

Excel began slowly, and Pass the Mint led from Happy Release, Ditchley, and Mile End for half the journey, where Mile End took second place. At the distance Ardavon challenged, but failed to get on terms, and Pass the Mint, after making all the running, won by three-quarters of a length; half a length separated second and third. Dark Emerald was fourth and Ditchley next.

At Punchestown yesterday Mr. Jas. Fitzsimons brought off a double event by the aid of Balrennet and Sweet Charlotte, the former of which now won the Prince of Wales' Plate for the second year in succession.

Mr. J. J. Parkinson has disposed of Fane Lady, who won three races last week, to an American owner, and goes to the United States. Mr. Parkinson has also sold Belgian Boy, whose destination is England.

A. Anthony, the well known Curragh trainer, who took suddenly ill when attending Limerick meeting last month, still lies in the local infirmary where he has undergone two operations, and his condition is such as to cause anxiety.

PONTEFRACT.

PROGRAMME AND SELECTIONS.

The clashing of Pontefract and Lingfield to-day and to-morrow cannot add to the benefit of either fixture, but the celebrated licorice town is accustomed to opposition, and, possibly, it cannot be helped. Last night the West Riding town was not overcrowded with visitors, but it will be this afternoon, because, once and for all, Yorkshiremen will not be denied their pleasure. Each afternoon the programmes have been well arranged in every sense, and some good prizes have to be run for, notably a thousand pounds affair each day. On the opening afternoon I shall make—granted a run—the following selections:—

Trial Plate—Indelible.
Leeds Selling Handicap—Daylight Saving.
Castle Plate—Lucentio.
Pontefract Three-Year-Old Plate—Pharos.
Hardwick Two-Year-Old Plate—Roysterer.

SEWELL'S PUNCHESTOWN SALES.

Messrs. Sewell's entries for their annual Punchestown auction at the Mount street Repository to-morrow, commencing at 1 o'clock, although showing a considerable falling off in numbers, include some high-class 'chasers and hunters from all parts of Ireland. Baron de Robeck, M.F.H., is disposing of the Kildare Hunt horses, which will afford a good opportunity to those wanting hunters who know their job—a very difficult class of horse to find now-a-days. Mr. James Fox is offering four horses, which include those good class 'chasers Mount Etna, Castlering and Kilcullen. There are also several other well-known performers over jumps and in the hunting field to come under the hammer.

BOXING.

LEDOUX AND ROUTIS MATCHED.

PARIS, Monday.

A contract was signed this evening at the "Echo des Sports" office, for a match for the Bantam-Weight Championship of Europe and France, between Charles Ledoux (holder) and Andre Routis, to take place at the Velodrome, Buffalo, on May 10th, the same afternoon as that fixed for the Carpentier and Nilles contest for the Heavy-Weight Championship of France. The programme may also include a third championship, negotiations for the arrangement of which are proceeding.

LINGFIELD.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME AND SELECTIONS.

The prospects for the important meeting beginning at Lingfield to-day are exceedingly bright. The weather had become much warmer last night, and the drying winds of the past few days have brought the going into perfect condition. The enormous entries received for the six events upon the opening afternoon's card forecast droves of runners, and, with plenty of horses on the spot already and many more to come from the comparatively adjacent stables, the fields are certain to be large, except, possibly, for the Chiddingstone Three-Year-Old Plate, which constitutes the chief race on the programme. The distance is a mile, and an easy eight furlongs it is reckoned. Both Heliaster and Pombal have earned 10lb. penalties, and this pair seem to dominate the public form. Old Nic was only beaten a head by Moabite at Liverpool, but is also engaged for another event, and may go for the Victoria Spring Handicap over a mile and a half. The running of the thrice victorious Pombal will well repay inspection, but I cannot think this son of Pommerin is so good as Heliaster proved himself when beating Legend and Lucknam at Kempton at Easter. Allowing for everything, my fancy is for Heliaster as the best thing of the day. Selections:—

Lingfield Spring Plate—Mosaic.
Oxten Plate—Cortona.
Surrey Plate—Musical Ride colt.
Chiddingstone Plate—Heliaster.
Victoria Handicap—Le Cellier.

FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

LINGFIELD, Tuesday Night.

I have reason to believe that MOSAIC, trained by Marsh, is very useful, and she may win the Spring Stakes. She would have run at Kempton Park except for going amiss on her arrival.

Roamer will not run for the Oxted Plate, for he has injured a leg, so DAMAR may win.

The Surrey Two-Year-Old Plate is left to ENGLAND'S GATE.

I have news of a distinctly favourable nature to the chance held by OLD NIC in the Chiddingstone Plate.

The Victoria Sweepstakes is left to DORADO, and the Felbridge Handicap should be won by BLACK FAIRY.

NEWMAN v. INMAN.

Newman had a commanding lead when the championship bout was resumed at Holborn Hall, London, yesterday afternoon. Though the session was not remarkable for big breaks, Newman's position was never in danger. Indeed, he added slightly to his lead. His best breaks were 123, 141, 79, and 244 (unfinished), against Inman's best of 138 and 225. Interval scores:—Newman, 10,001; Inman, 7,913.

Inman fought on doggedly at night, outpointing Newman, and scoring 850, with an average of 32. Newman made his unfinished break into 336; then Inman went away with runs of 113, 75, 207, and 455. Newman had done nothing so far, but he finished the session in great style with 506 unfinished—his sixth break in the match exceeding 500. Closing scores:—Newman, 10,663; Inman, 8,763.

REECE v. FALKINER.

When the game at Liverpool was resumed yesterday, Falkiner took his unfinished effort to 118, and followed with 57, twice, and a fine contribution of 284. At one time Reece led, but he fell back afterwards. His chief breaks were 55, 178, and 72. Interval scores:—Falkiner, 10,001; Reece, 9,649.

In the evening Falkiner carried his break to 167. There were no efforts of importance for some time, and then Falkiner put on 111; after which the chief items were 236 and 50 by Reece and 70 by Falkiner. Closing scores:—Falkiner, 10,666; Reece, 10,318.

The following letter has been received from the Chairman of the Company:—

Victoria Station,
Pimlico, London, S.W. 1.

Messrs. Erlangers, 8 Crosby square, London, E.C. 3.

Gentlemen,—In connection with the agreement entered into with you for the purchase of 625,000 Seven per Cent. Cumulative Preference Shares of £1 each, I beg, in accordance with your request, to give you the following information.

The 625,000 Preference Shares now offered have just been created, and the proceeds thereof will be applied in repaying, at 102½ per cent., on or before the 1st July, 1923, the Company's outstanding £500,000 of Eight per Cent. First Mortgage Equipment Debentures, in paying Stamp duty chargeable on the creation of the said Preference Shares, and towards the expenses of the construction of new cars.

A Resolution has been passed and only requires confirmation as a Special Resolution to alter the Company's Articles to provide that the holders of the Preference Shares will only be entitled to vote should their dividend be in arrear for more than six calendar months, in which case they will be entitled, as are the holders of the Ordinary Shares, to one vote per share.

The Pullman Car Company, Limited, was formed in 1915 to take over the business of the Pullman Company, Limited, registered in 1882, and to provide and operate Pullman cars on various railways in Great Britain and elsewhere.

The Ordinary Share Capital of the Company now stands at £500,000, having been increased to that figure by the issue in 1920 of 250,000 shares, for the sole purpose of providing funds for the construction of additional cars.

In July, 1921, the above-mentioned £500,000 of Eight per Cent. Debentures were issued for the purpose of redeeming £118,500 of Six per Cent. Debentures then outstanding, to pay for 63 new cars, and to provide the Company with additional working capital.

The Company now owns a total of 167 cars, including 19 under construction.

The position of the Company, based on the last Balance Sheet, as at 30th September, 1922, may be summarised as follows:—

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Cars and Equipment | | £1,234,787 |
| Payments on account of new Cars and Re-modellings | | 58,841 |
| Buildings, Plant, Machinery, Motor Vans, Furniture, etc. | | 12,125 |
| Stocks, Debtors, Investments, and Cash | | 96,243 |
| Amount uncalled on 67,303 Ordinary Shares | | 60,598 |
| Net proceeds of issue of Preference Shares, say | | 575,000 |
| | | £2,037,594 |
| Less— | | |
| Sundry Creditors, including £31,278 in respect of income-tax adjustment, Debenture Interest accrued, etc. | £96,006 | |
| Amounts due under Construction Contracts | 55,824 | |
| £500,000 8 per Cent. First Mortgage Debentures, to be repaid at 102½ per cent. | 512,500 | |
| | | 664,330 |
| BALANCE | | £1,373,264 |

which covers the Preference Share Capital more than twice over.

Since the date of the Balance-sheet a dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. has been declared in respect of the year to 30th September, 1922, absorbing £43,261.

The Revenue of the Company is derived from supplements charged to passengers, based on distances travelled, and from the receipts for meals and refreshments served in the cars. The Company, while carrying the passengers free of charge to the Railway Companies, is entitled to the full amount of the supplements.

The following are the profits for the past six financial years, as shown by the published accounts of the Company:—

| YEAR ENDED 30TH SEPTEMBER | Gross Earnings, Interest, and Transfer Fees. | | | Operating and Management Expenses, Maintenance, &c. | | | Net Operating Revenue. | | |

*Coal Strike.

Owing to delays in delivery it was only in the latter part of its financial year 1922 that the Company began to reap the full benefit of the cars provided by the 1921 Debenture issue, whilst it must be remembered that the long coal strike of 1921 very adversely affected the revenue and profits for that year.

The receipts for the last quarter of the year 1922, and for the first quarter of the year 1923, if maintained, point to a substantial improvement in the profits for 1923, which should be still further increased when the cars now under construction come into operation.

It will be seen that the interest on the 7 per cent. Preference shares was covered approximately twice by the net operation revenue of the year 1922, and this margin should be materially increased for the year 1923.

The cars are operating on the following systems:—

The Caledonian Railway.
The Great Eastern Railway—now London and North-Eastern Railway.
The Metropolitan Railway.

The Contracts with the Railway Companies are of an entirely satisfactory character. They provide for the running of the cars on the various lines under conditions favourable to both parties and for periods in most cases which vary according to the mutual agreement for the supply of additional cars.

Now that the various railways have been amalgamated into large groups, my Board look forward with great confidence to the rapid expansion of the Company's service over Great Britain, and to the increased prosperity of the Company.

Yours faithfully,
D. DALZIEL, Chairman.

DUBLIN.

WAR FIVES STRONG. BANK STOCK OFFERED. "MULLINGAR" STOCK WEAK. MARCONIS, COURTAULDS, AND IMPERIAL TOBACCOS FINALLY EASIER.

Strength and some activity remain the features in Government Funds; otherwise Stock Exchange business has been, with few exceptions, poor in volume, though the amount of support offered has been mostly equal to the supply, with a gradual appreciation in market values. War Loan 5 p.c. and Funding Loan were particularly firm and good all day, but Conversion Loan and India 3 p.c. eased. Bank of Ireland Stock turned weak and gave way. Nationals were better. Hibernians and Munsters were firm. There was practically no change in Breweries, etc., but a small lot of City Steam was sold ½ under last marking. Home Rails were fairly busy, with Midland Great Western Ord. again on offer at a further set back. Dublin and Kingstown Leased Line Stock was also sold at a decline. Dublin United Tram issues were rather on offer at last prices, and the Pref. eased a little. Parent Tyres sprang into request. The Pref. rose to 13s. 1½d., and the Ord. were buyers about 16s. The Def. Shares were about 1s. higher at 24s. 9d. to 25s. unofficially. Alliance Gas Shares were harder; but in Drapery issues, Crowe Wilson Pref. were sold back to 15s. 3d. Textiles fluctuated a little. Bradford Dyers rose sharply. Textiles generally, and Coats and Cottons were better, but Bleachers Ord. were easier. Courtaulds and Tobaccos at one time were well supported at slight gains, but later relapsed on London prices. Maguire and Gatchell Pref. Shares were higher, but Radio Shares relapsed.

In the Funds, War Loan 5 p.c. rose ⅛ to 102 11/16-⅝, and Funding Loan 1/16 to 90⅞, but Conversion 3½ p.c. fell 1/16 to 79 1/16, and India 3 p.c. ⅜ to 59. Consols repeated 59⅜.

Among Banking securities, Nationals recovered 1/16 to 19 5/16, but Bank of Ireland Stock fell 1⅜ to 234-233⅝, while Munster and Leinsters repeated 7 1/16, and Hibernians were very firm, but nominal, at 6 15/16 to 7.

In Breweries and Distilleries, J. Power and Son Pref. shaded 1½d. to 19s. 10½d., while Dublin Distillers Pref. repeated 80s., and Guinness Ord. 44 1/16.

City of Dublin Steam Stock fell ½ to 136½.

The only change in Home Railway Ord. was a fall of ½ to 28, sellers, in Midland Great Western Ord. Dublin and Kingstown (Leased Line), however, fell 1 13/16 to 100½, while Cork and Bandon Ord. repeated 36, Dublin and South-Eastern Ord. 18½, and Great Northern 57. Great Southern opened buyers and ⅛ better at 46⅛, but later lost the slight gain. Pre.-Ord. Stocks were all neglected until the later market, when Great Southern Guaranteed realised 54¼ for a small lot.

In Trams, Dublin United remain dull at 6 15/16 to 7, and the Pref. fell 1/16 to 9 13/16.

Parent Tyres turned very firm. The Pref. rose 7½d. to 13s. 1½d., and even higher the other side. The Ord. repeated 16s., and the Def. closed unofficially 1s. higher at 24s. 6d.-25s. Dunlop Rubber Ord. fell 1½d. to to 9s. 7½d.

Alliance and Dublin Consumers Gas rose 1/16 to 6 1/16 x.d.

In Drapery issues, Crowe Wilson Pref. fell 9d. to 15s. 3d.

Marconis were weaker. The Ord. fell 3d. to 50s. 9d., Radio Common 1s. 9d. to 17s.-17s. 3d., and the Pref. 6d. to 15s.

Among Manufacturing Shares, British-American Tobacco rose 6d. to 91s. 9d., but Imperials fell 9d. to 80s. 9d., after being 81s.-81s. 3d. Bradford Dyers rose 1s. 3d. to 56s. 4½d., Coats 3d. to 66s. 9d., the "B" Pref. 3d. to 24s., and Cottons 3d. to 47s. 9d., but Bleachers fell 9d. to 48s. 4½d. Lever Bros. 7 p.c. repeated 22s., and the 8 p.c. Pref. 21s. Thwaites Ord. remain scarce. Courtaulds opened 67s.-67s. 3d., but later were sold back to 66s. 9d. on profit-taking.

In Trading, etc., Maguire and Gatchell Pref. rose 1s. to 53s. 6d., but Heiton Pref. repeated 64s. 1½d., and Dublin South City Markets 5¼.

BELFAST.

The activity with which Belfast Exchange commenced the week continues. War Loan was done at 102⅝ 11/16 ¾ 13/16. Funding Loan advanced to 90⅝ 90¾. Banks were quiet. Westminster were higher at 17½. Union Bank of Australia Shares wanted. Belfast Harbour Commissioners advanced ½ to 69½. Belfast Corporation Stocks in demand. Great Northern Railway Stock showed no change at 57. In Spinning and Textiles, Belfast Ropeworks weakened. York Street Flax Spinning Shares in demand at firm prices.

In Distilleries, Dunvilles were offered at 13½. McConnells unchanged at 4¼. Drapery Shares in demand, but little selling. British-American Tobacco Ord. advanced to 92s., and Imperial Tobaccos were done at 80s. 10½d. and 81s. Brunner Mond Ord. were asked for at 43s. 3d. Dunlops were a few pence higher at 9s. 9d. ## FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

United Alkali shareholders will, no doubt, be glad to hear that settlement of the complicated war taxation is so near completion that henceforth it should be practicable to return to the regular presentation of accounts at the end of each twelve months' operations. The accounts now presented cover a period of two years, and in view of the bad trading conditions during the greater part of that time, the results declared are very satisfactory. The credit balance for the two years amounts to £505,897, as against £316,312 in 1920, when, however, £100,000 was taken from reserve. A final dividend of 2/- per share is declared, leaving £386,835 to be carried forward. The report explains that the present profit and loss account includes that previously set aside as a reserve against war taxation and now not required.

With Lord Inchcape expressing the view that the political situation in India is quite satisfactory, it is all the more assuring because of his long acquaintance with the country and its people. The demand that sprang up for India 4½ per cent. Stock was indirectly the result. Its merits have been overlooked by many people. Even at the enhanced price of 89⅞ the running yield is rather more than 5 per cent., while it has the long life of about thirty years, being redeemable between 1950-55. Taking this into consideration the return would be more, but the period is rather too long to be worth such a factor. This is naturally more on the capital outlay than on the Irredeemable Stocks, and less than the 5½ per cent. Stock, which, however, only runs to the early part of 1932, and is standing at 102, so that the redemption value is less than the running yield.

We understand that Messrs. Higginson and Co. will shortly offer for sale at 95 per cent. £3,500,000 5½ per cent. First Mortgage Redeemable Debenture Stock of Dorman, Long and Co., Ltd.

QUIET STOCKS.

WAR LOAN FIVES STRONG.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT AND THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

While markets, on the whole, maintained a firm appearance, and showed here and there some particularly bright spots, the general tendency yesterday was inclined to be a little quieter, although the tone was scarcely less cheerful than on the preceding day. The 5 p.c. War Loan constituted a noteworthy feature of the gilt-edged market, which was again very firm throughout the day. This Stock established a new high record, changing hands as high as 102 11/16, and, although it subsequently shed ⅛ of its rise, the closing quotation was still a record, and also considerably above the overnight price. War Loan Fives have become additionally attractive as the date for the deduction from the quotation of the half-yearly interest instalment draws nearer, and with that consideration in view the Stock may still be reckoned cheap at the advanced price. Conversion Loan and the small series of Victory Bonds appreciated, as also did the 1928 National War Bonds; but the shorter-dated Nationals were slightly easier. India Stocks were again featured by the 4½ p.c., which enjoyed a further substantial rise, the rest of the group being steady.

LONDON STOCKS IRREGULAR.

Quietness prevailed on the Stock markets yesterday, the volume of business showing a considerable shrinkage. A rather irregular tone developed in consequence, but towards the close the tone improved, and the finish was firm. British Funds were maintained, but movements were few. The 5 p.c. War Loan rose ¼ to 102⅞, while Victory Bonds also gained ¼ at 92½. India 5½ p.c. Loan rose ¼ to 102.

French Loans remained unaltered in FOREIGN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES, but Portuguese Threes rose 1 to 31. Mexican Sixes gained another point at 70, while Peruvian Corporation Pref. rose a point to 32. Brazil Funding, 1914, fell 1 to 72, while Chinese Fives of 1896 fell 1 to 95 x.d.

HOME RAILWAYS, after a very dull opening, improved later in the day, and closed with a few substantial gains. London, Midland and Scottish Ord. fell ½ to 114, but the 4 p.c. Pref. rose 1 to 84, and the 4 p.c. Pref. of 1923 also gained a point at 83. London North-Eastern 1st Pref. rose 1 to 84, while the 2nd Pref. rose ½ to 82. Metropolitan Pref. gained a point at 101½. Southern Def.-Ord. rose ½ to 41½, while the 5 p.c. Pref. gained 1 at 103. Caledonian Def.-Ord. gained ⅛ at 15⅞. Great Westerns fell ½ to 114, and Underground Electric at 3½ lost ⅛.

COLONIAL and FOREIGN RAILWAYS were very dull, and closed with few changes. Antofagasta Ord. rose 1 to 84, while Central Uruguay Ord. fell 1½ to 43, and San Paulo Ord. 1 to 138. Americans were lifeless.

OIL SHARE MARKET SMALL.

VERY LITTLE CHANGE.

Although a confident tone continued in evidence in the Oil Share market yesterday, general business was on a reduced scale, and it was reserved to a few specialities to provide what activity existed. Even in those shares which have lately supplied lively features transactions showed some diminution, and prices moved within comparatively narrow limits, so that final quotations left them little changed on the day, price movements generally being of an irregular character. The foremost position continued to be held by British Controlled, some large lines of the shares again changing hands, and the buying being attributable to a recognition of the importance to the company of the decision of the Standard Oil Company to exercise its rights in regard to the Eastern division of the Buchivacoa concession. It is also understood that the new well brought in on the Western section of this concession, which is being operated by the British Controlled itself, is yielding a very high-grade oil, and promises to be a good producer. The shares finished below the best, but still showed a further small gain on the day. The V.O.C. issues were a trifle easier at the start, but met with a good demand later, and closed showing a small gain. Anglo-Ecuadorians again receded slightly, but Colombian Oilfields continued in request, and further strengthened. Closing prices:—

RUBBER SHARES BOOMING.

There was a very near approach to a boom on the Rubber Share market yesterday; for there was an almost general advance in prices, with a great deal of business passing. ## LONDON MINING MARKET DULL.

EAST RANDS IN REQUEST.

Although the Gilt-edged market maintained its strength, very little enthusiasm was noticeable in the speculative sections, and Mines had a rather dull appearance. Kaffirs could boast but little activity, despite the fact that Paris came in a buyer of several of its specialities. This demand was, however, reflected in the prices of Central Mining, Brakpan, and Government Mines, while Durban Deep were again in request on reports of good developments in the new shaft. No official information of the completion of this shaft has, however, been published, and the annual report, recently issued, contained no reference even to the resumption of sinking. East Rands, after their sharp set-back, came into request, and went ahead, but Modder "B" continued on the down grade, and Rand Mines, "Johnnies," Union Corp., and several others receded fractionally. The good showing made by the "Johnnies" subsidiaries in their reports for 1922, just issued, failed to arouse much interest. Consolidated Main Reef weakened on rumours of poor developments; and West Springs, which will be quoted ex rights to-day, were unaltered, the rights being valued at nil. Closing prices:—

INDUSTRIALS PATCHY.

SOME GOOD SPOTS.

An irregular tendency characterised the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets yesterday, and business was rather patchy, but several good spots were still in evidence. Platt Bros. showed fresh strength on the placing of a large line of shares, to which we referred yesterday, and also on the news that the company is doing quite well. Elsewhere among Iron and Steel descriptions, Guest Keens further advanced. The turnover in this section was quite good. Dorman Longs gave way on the proposed Debenture issue. Coal stocks were irregular, but Gas stocks remained firm. Shipping issues scarcely moved. Apart from the Cellulose issues, which displayed fresh strength, Textiles had a dull appearance. In the Stores list Harrods continued in request, and further advanced. Hope Bros. showed strength on the increased dividend of 10 per cent. for the year, which compares with 6 per cent. a year ago. Tobaccos maintained a firm appearance. Among miscellaneous trading concerns, Cement issues remained dull, and Brunner Monds further relapsed. In Motors, Rolls-Royce were prominent. Nitrates kept firm, and insurances further appreciated, while movements among Bank shares generally favoured holders. Apart from Canadians, which eased, the Marconi group kept steady.

The feature of the Iron and Steel market was the strength of Platt Brothers, which rose to 44s. 3d., or 1s. higher on the day, bargains being recorded at up to 44s 7½d. Guest Keens were wanted and finished 9d. better at 41s. 9d., and smaller advances were noted in Bengals to 26s. 3d., in Pease and Partners to 29s., in Projectiles to 7s. 9d., and in Sheffield Steel Products to 9, Dorman Longs fell 6d. to 17s. 3d., and Vickers receded to 15s. 3d. Babcock and Wilcox held their ground at 77s. 6d. and South Durhams at 2⅝. Apart from a fall of 3d. in Canadians to 10s. 6d. the Marconi group kept steady. Fresh weakness was seen in Brunner Monds, which dropped 9d. to 42s. United Alkalis kept firm at 39s. 6d. and Borax Def. advanced to 38s. 6d. Salt Unions, however, lost 3d. at 21s. 9d. x.d. On the increased dividend referred to, Hope Brothers were wanted and finished 1s. 3d. higher on balance at 21s 3d., and elsewhere among Stores, Harrods continued their advance to 36s., or 6d. higher on the day.

In the Textile section, Cellulose Ord and Prefs. showed renewed strength, there being a very good turnover in the shares. The former finished 6d. up at 12s. 9d., and the Prefs. improved to 15s., Courtaulds lost the turn at 66s. 10½d., and losses of 3d. were seen in Amalgamated Cottons at 12s. 3d., in "Slubbers" at 12s. 9d., and in Crosses and Winkworth Prefs. at 18s. 9d., and in John Wood Brothers at 4s. 6d. The demand for Rolls Royce continued, with the result that they finished 1s. higher at 30s. 6d. x.d. Vauxhalls stiffened to 7s. 9d., but Humbers eased to 25s., and Napiers to 7s. 9d. Among Miscellaneous concerns, Cements relapsed to 23s. 3d., and British Portlands to 29s. 6d. x.d., Lever 7 to 8 both gained the turn at 22s. 1½d. and 21s. 1½d. respectively. Oil Cakes kept the price at 30s. 6d. Dunlops remained at 9s. 7½d., while the A Prefs. strengthened to 17s. In the Newspaper and Printing sections, Associateds shed 3d. to 22s., and the Def. shares 1/16 to 7 x.d. "Daily Mirrors" put on 1/16 to 5¼. Very few changes took place among recent new issues, Cellulose Holdings Debs. again changed hands at up to 17 prem. John Walker Debs. kept firm, and the Prefs. at 9d. prem.

THE MONEY MARKET.

LOANABLE CREDITS EASIER.

STERLING WEAK ON NEW YORK.

Had Lombard street been obliged to pay off any money to the Bank, it is pretty certain that the situation would have been very uncomfortable. As it was the condition of loanable credit was less stringent than of late. In some cases lenders secured 2½-3 p.c. for granting night money, but the general charge was below that, the old loans going on in some cases at 2 p.c. Fixtures were still being renewed, however, at 1½-1¾ in most cases, with more asked for any new accommodation.

Bank Rate (Discount) changed July 13, 1922, 3%.

Stagnation prevailed in discounts. There was a fitful demand of a special character for end May-early June bills at 2 p.c. The new Treasuries appeared to be buyers and sellers at 2¼; hence very little business resulted, while fine three months' bank bills stiffened to 2 5/16.

Gold rose 7d. per oz. to 88s. 10d., India taking about £250,000 of the amount available. On Indian, China and Continental selling, silver further fell ⅜d. per oz. for spot and 5/16d. for forward delivery to 31 11/16d. and 31½d. respectively.

Conspicuous in the market for foreign exchange was the weakness of sterling, which fell to 4.64⅞ dollars New York. French francs, on the other hand, continued to appreciate in value, and at one time were 68.45, reacting to 69.95, Belgium being 81.10 and Italy 93½. Scarcely any movement occurred in German marks at 97,000-98,000, while Swiss francs were dull at 25.43-25.48, Holland being 11.89. There was a demand for Japanese yen, which improved to 2s. 1⅛d., rupees showing no variation at 1s. 4 5/16d.-1s. 4⅜d. Brazilian milreis slipped back again to 5 5/16-5½ and Argentine dollars to 42⅝-42⅞. Chilian pesos remained at 37.80. Norwegian kroner were heavy at 25.96. The following are closing quotations:—

OUTPUTS FOR MARCH.

Robinson Deep—Total profit, £30,774; gold reserve, 2,656 ozs. (February profit, £26,539.)

Simmer and Jack—Loss on working, £1,362. Note—Results for March include 1,499 ozs. fine gold recovered from tube mill plates, which have been replaced by Corderoy tables. The following letter has been received from the Chairman of the Company:—

Victoria Station,
Pimlico, London, S.W. 1,

Messrs. Erlangers, 8 Crosby square, London, E.C. 3.

Gentlemen,—In connection with the agreement entered into with you for the purchase of 625,000 Seven per Cent. Cumulative Preference Shares of £1 each, I beg, in accordance with your request, to give you the following information.

The 625,000 Preference Shares now offered have just been created, and the proceeds thereof will be applied in repaying, at 102½ per cent., on or before the 1st July, 1923, the Company's outstanding £500,000 of Eight per Cent. First Mortgage Equipment Debentures, in paying Stamp duty chargeable on the creation of the said Preference Shares, and towards the expenses of the construction of new cars.

A Resolution has been passed and only requires confirmation as a Special Resolution to alter the Company's Articles to provide that the holders of the Preference Shares will only be entitled to vote should their dividend be in arrear for more than six calendar months, in which case they will be entitled, as are the holders of the Ordinary Shares, to one vote per share.

The Pullman Car Company, Limited, was formed in 1915 to take over the business of the Pullman Company, Limited, registered in 1882, and to provide and operate Pullman cars on various railways in Great Britain and elsewhere.

The Ordinary Share Capital of the Company now stands at £500,000, having been increased to that figure by the issue in 1920 of 250,000 shares, for the sole purpose of providing funds for the construction of additional cars.

In July, 1921, the above-mentioned £500,000 of Eight per Cent. Debentures were issued for the purpose of redeeming £118,500 of Six per Cent. Debentures then outstanding, to pay for 63 new cars, and to provide the Company with additional working capital.

The Company now owns a total of 167 cars, including 19 under construction.

The position of the Company, based on the last Balance Sheet, as at 30th September, 1922, may be summarised as follows:—

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Cars and Equipment | | £1,234,787 |
| Payments on account of new Cars and Re-modellings | | 58,841 |
| Buildings, Plant, Machinery, Motor Vans, Furniture, etc. | | 12,126 |
| Stocks, Debtors, Investments, and Cash | | 96,243 |
| Amount uncalled on 67,303 Ordinary Shares | | 60,598 |
| Net proceeds of issue of Preference Shares, say | | 575,000 |
| | | £2,037,594 |
| Less— | | |
| Sundry Creditors, including £31,278 in respect of Income-tax adjustment, Debenture Interest accrued, etc. | £96,006 | |
| Amounts due under Construction Contracts | 55,824 | |
| £500,000 8 per Cent. First Mortgage Debentures, to be repaid at 102½ per cent. | 512,500 | |
| | | 664,330 |
| BALANCE | | £1,373,264 |

which covers the Preference Share Capital more than twice over.

Since the date of the Balance-sheet a dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. has been declared in respect of the year to 30th September, 1922, absorbing £43,261.

The Revenue of the Company is derived from supplements charged to passengers, based on distances travelled, and from the receipts for meals and refreshments served in the cars. The Company, while carrying the passengers free of charge to the Railway Companies, is entitled to the full amount of the supplements.

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1917 | 75,546 | 7 | 0 | 43,409 | 9 | 2 | 32,136 | 17 | 10 |
| 1918 | 102,522 | 15 | 3 | 51,977 | 11 | 7 | 50,545 | 3 | 8 |
| 1919 | 148,117 | 7 | 8 | 82,995 | 18 | 3 | 65,121 | 9 | 5 |
| 1920 | 192,203 | 18 | 0 | 126,427 | 3 | 2 | 65,776 | 14 | 10 |
| 1921 | 181,499 | 5 | 11 | 142,724 | 8 | 9 | 38,774 | 17 | 2* |
| 1922 | 246,829 | 15 | 6 | 166,220 | 1 | 3 | 80,609 | 14 | 3 |

*Coal Strike.

Owing to delays in delivery it was only in the latter part of its financial year 1922 that the Company began to reap the full benefit of the cars provided by the 1921 Debenture issue, whilst it must be remembered that the long coal strike of 1921 very adversely affected the revenue and profits for that year.

The receipts for the last quarter of the year 1922, and for the first quarter of the year 1923, if maintained, point to a substantial improvement in the profits for 1923, which should be still further increased when the cars now under construction come into operation.

It will be seen that the interest on the 7 per cent. Preference shares was covered approximately twice by the net operation revenue of the year 1922, and this margin should be materially increased for the year 1923.

The cars are operating on the following systems:—

The South-Eastern and Chatham Railway
The London Brighton and South Coast Railway } now Southern Railway.
The Caledonian Railway.
The Great Eastern Railway—now London and North-Eastern Railway.
The Metropolitan Railway.

The Contracts with the Railway Companies are of an entirely satisfactory character. They provide for the running of the cars on the various lines under conditions favourable to both parties and for periods in most cases which vary according to the mutual agreement for the supply of additional cars.

Now that the various railways have been amalgamated into large groups, my Board look forward with great confidence to the rapid expansion of the Company's service over Great Britain, and to the increased prosperity of the Company.

Yours faithfully, D. DALZIEL, Chairman.

Applications for purchase must be made on the accompanying form and lodged with Messrs. Erlangers, 8 Crosby square, London, E.C. 3, or Barclays Bank, Limited, together with the amount payable on application.

If any application be not accepted in respect of the full amount of Shares applied for, the surplus amount paid on application will be appropriated towards satisfying the amount payable on acceptance, and any balance will be returned to the applicant, and if any application be not accepted the amount paid on application will be returned in full. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render the amounts previously paid liable to forfeiture and the contract of sale to cancellation.

Interest at the rate of 8 per cent. will be charged on all instalments in arrear.

A brokerage of 1½d. per share will be paid on acceptances in respect of applications for purchase bearing the stamp of a Banker, Broker, or other approved agent.

All Shares applied for and accepted hereunder will be procured to be allotted directly by the Company to the applicants, and on payment of the final instalment the names of the purchasers will be entered in the Company's register of members as holders of the Shares purchased, and the Certificates therefore will be delivered in due course by the Company.

The price payable by Messrs. Erlangers for the Preference Shares now offered for sale is par, and the Company will pay them a commission of 7 per cent. on the nominal amount of the Shares. Messrs. Erlangers are paying 2½ per cent. underwriting commission and one-half per cent. over-riding commission, together with brokerage and the cost of advertising, printing, and circulating this offer, and have reserved for Messrs. Myers and Co. a participation in their purchase.

The above letter from the Chairman of the Company, copies of the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Company, of the Balance-sheets for the last six financial years, of the Agreement under which Messrs. Erlangers have agreed to purchase the Shares now offered for sale, and of the Resolutions creating the said Shares and that which is in course of being passed to amend the Articles of Association, may be seen during business hours, whilst the List of Applications for purchase is open, at the Offices of Messrs. Slaughter and May, 18 Austin Friars, London, E.C. 2.

DUBLIN.

WAR FIVES STRONG. BANK STOCK OFFERED. "MULLINGAR" STOCK WEAK. MARCONIS, COURTAULDS, AND IMPERIAL TOBACCOS FINALLY EASIER.

Strength and some activity remain the features in Government Funds; otherwise Stock Exchange business has been, with few exceptions, poor in volume, though the amount of support offered has been mostly equal to the supply, with a gradual appreciation in market values. War Loan 5 p.c. and Funding Loan were particularly firm and good all day, but Conversion Loan and India 3 p.c. eased. Bank of Ireland Stock turned weak and gave way. Nationals were better. Hibernians and Munsters were firm. There was practically no change in Breweries, etc., but a small lot of City Steam was sold ½ under last marking. Home Rails were fairly busy, with Midland Great Western Ord. again on offer at a further set back. Dublin and Kingstown Leased Line Stock was also sold at a decline. Dublin United Tram issues were rather on offer at last prices, and the Pref. eased a little. Parent Tyres sprang into request. The Pref. rose to 13s. 1½d., and the Ord. were buyers about 16s. The Def. Shares were about 1s. higher at 24s. 9d. to 25s. unofficially. Alliance Gas Shares were harder; but in Drapery issues, Crowe Wilson Pref. were sold back to 15s. 3d. Textiles fluctuated a little. Bradford Dyers rose sharply. Textiles generally, and Coats and Cottons were better, but Bleachers Ord. were easier. Courtaulds and Tobaccos at one time were well supported at slight gains, but later relapsed on London prices. Maguire and Gatchell Pref. Shares were higher, but Radio Shares relapsed.

In the Funds, War Loan 5 p.c. rose ⅜ to 102 11/16-¾, and Funding Loan 1/16 to 90⅞, but Conversion 3½ p.c. fell 1/16 to 79 1/16, and India 3 p.c. ⅜ to 59. Consols repeated 59⅜.

Among Banking securities, Nationals recovered 1/16 to 19⅜, but Bank of Ireland Stock fell 1⅜ to 234-233⅞, while Munster and Leinsters repeated 7 1/16, and Hibernians were very firm, but nominal, at 6 13/16 to 7.

In Breweries and Distilleries, J. Power and Son Pref. shaded 1½d. to 19s. 10½d., while Dublin Distillers Pref. repeated 80s., and Guinness Ord. 44 1/16.

City of Dublin Steam Stock fell ½ to 136½.

The only change in Home Railway Ord. was a fall of ½ to 28, sellers, in Midland Great Western Ord. Dublin and Kingstown (Leased Line), however, fell 1 13/16 to 100¼, while Cork and Bandon Ord. repeated 36, Dublin and South-Eastern Ord. 18½, and Great Northern 57. Great Southern opened buyers and ½ better at 46½, but later lost the slight gain. Pre.-Ord. Stocks were all neglected until the later market, when Great Southern Guaranteed realised 54½ for a small lot.

In Trams, Dublin United remain dull at 6 13/16 to 7, and the Pref. fell 1/16 to 9 11/16.

Parent Tyres turned very firm. The Pref. rose 7½d. to 13s. 1½d., and even higher the other side. The Ord. repeated 16s., and the Def. closed unofficially 1s. higher at 24s. 6d.-25s. Dunlop Rubber Ord. fell 1½d. to to 9s. 7½d.

Alliance and Dublin Consumers Gas rose 1/16 to 6 1/16 x.d.

In Drapery issues, Crowe Wilson Pref. fell 9d. to 15s. 3d.

Marconis were weaker. The Ord. fell 3d. to 50s. 9d., Radio Common 1s. 9d. to 17s.-17s. 3d., and the Pref. 6d. to 15s.

Among Manufacturing Shares, British-American Tobacco rose 6d. to 91s. 9d., but Imperials fell 9d. to 80s. 9d., after being 81s.-81s. 3d. Bradford Dyers rose 1s. 3d. to 56s. 4½d., Coats 3d. to 66s. 9d., the "B" Pref. 3d. to 24s., and Cottons 3d. to 47s. 9d., but Bleachers fell 9d. to 48s. 4½d. Lever Bros. 7 p.c. repeated 22s., and the 8 p.c. Pref. 21s. Thwaites Ord. remain scarce. Courtaulds opened 67s.-67s. 3d., but later were sold back to 66s. 9d. on profit-taking.

In Trading, etc., Maguire and Gatchell Pref. rose 1s. to 53s. 6d., but Heiton Pref. repeated 64s. 1½d., and Dublin South City Markets 5¼.

BELFAST.

The activity with which Belfast Exchange commenced the week continues. War Loan was done at 102⅝ 11/16 ¾ 11/16. Funding Loan advanced to 90⅝ 90⅞. Banks were quiet. Westminster were higher at 17½. Union Bank of Australia Shares wanted. Belfast Harbour Commissioners advanced ½ to 69½. Belfast Corporation Stocks in demand. Great Northern Railway Stock showed no change at 57. In Spinning and Textiles, Belfast Ropeworks weakened. York Street Flax Spinning Shares in demand at firm prices.

In Distilleries, Dunvilles were offered at 13½. McConnells unchanged at 4½. Drapery Shares in demand, but little selling. British-American Tobacco Ord. advanced to 92s., and Imperial Tobaccos were done at 80s. 10½d. and 81s. Brunner Mond Ord. were asked for at 43s. 3d. Dunlops were a few pence higher at 9s. 9d. ## FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

United Alkali shareholders will, no doubt, be glad to hear that settlement of the complicated war taxation is so near completion that henceforth it should be practicable to return to the regular presentation of accounts at the end of each twelve months' operations. The accounts now presented cover a period of two years, and in view of the bad trading conditions during the greater part of that time, the results declared are very satisfactory. The credit balance for the two years amounts to £505,897, as against £316,312 in 1920, when, however, £100,000 was taken from reserve. A final dividend of 2/- per share is declared, leaving £386,835 to be carried forward. The report explains that the present profit and loss account includes that previously set aside as a reserve against war taxation and now not required.

With Lord Inchcape expressing the view that the political situation in India is quite satisfactory, it is all the more assuring because of his long acquaintance with the country and its people. The demand that sprang up for India 4½ per cent. Stock was indirectly the result. Its merits have been overlooked by many people. Even at the enhanced price of 89½ the running yield is rather more than 5 per cent., while it has the long life of about thirty years, being redeemable between 1950-55. Taking this into consideration the return would be more, but the period is rather too long to be worth such a factor. This is naturally more on the capital outlay than on the Irredeemable Stocks, and less than the 5½ per cent. Stock, which, however, only runs to the early part of 1932, and is standing at 102, so that the redemption value is less than the running yield.

We understand that Messrs. Higginson and Co. will shortly offer for sale at 95 per cent. £3,500,000 5½ per cent. First Mortgage Redeemable Debenture Stock of Dorman, Long and Co., Ltd.

QUIET STOCKS.

WAR LOAN FIVES STRONG.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT AND THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

While markets, on the whole, maintained a firm appearance, and showed here and there some particularly bright spots, the general tendency yesterday was inclined to be a little quieter, although the tone was scarcely less cheerful than on the preceding day. The 5 p.c. War Loan constituted a noteworthy feature of the gilt-edged market, which was again very firm throughout the day. This Stock established a new high record, changing hands as high as 102 13/16, and, although it subsequently shed ⅛ of its rise, the closing quotation was still a record, and also considerably above the overnight price. War Loan Fives have become additionally attractive as the date for the deduction from the quotation of the half-yearly interest instalment draws nearer, and with that consideration in view the Stock may still be reckoned cheap at the advanced price. Conversion Loan and the small series of Victory Bonds appreciated, as also did the 1928 National War Bonds; but the shorter-dated Nationals were slightly easier. India Stocks were again featured by the 4½ p.c., which enjoyed a further substantial rise, the rest of the group being steady.

LONDON STOCKS IRREGULAR.

Quietness prevailed on the Stock markets yesterday, the volume of business showing a considerable shrinkage. A rather irregular tone developed in consequence, but towards the close the tone improved, and the finish was firm. British Funds were maintained, but movements were few. The 5 p.c. War Loan rose ⅛ to 102⅞, while Victory Bonds also gained ⅛ at 92½. India 5½ p.c. Loan rose ¼ to 102.

French Loans remained unaltered in FOREIGN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES, but Portuguese Threes rose 1 to 31. Mexican Sixes gained another point at 70, while Peruvian Corporation Pref. rose a point to 32. Brazil Funding, 1914, fell 1 to 72, while Chinese Fives of 1896 fell 1 to 95 x.d.

HOME RAILWAYS, after a very dull opening, improved later in the day, and closed with a few substantial gains. London, Midland and Scottish Ord. fell ½ to 114, but the 4 p.c. Pref. rose 1 to 84, and the 4 p.c. Pref. of 1923 also gained a point at 83. London North-Eastern 1st Pref. rose 1 to 84, while the 2nd Pref. rose ½ to 82. Metropolitan Pref. gained a point at 101½. Southern Def.-Ord. rose ½ to 41½, while the 5 p.c. Pref. gained 1 at 103. Caledonian Def.-Ord. gained ¼ at 15⅞. Great Westerns fell ½ to 114, and Underground Electric at 3½ lost ⅛.

COLONIAL and FOREIGN RAILWAYS were very dull, and closed with few changes. Antofagasta Ord. rose 1 to 84, while Central Uruguay Ord. fell 1½ to 43, and San Paulo Ord. 1 to 138. Americans were lifeless.

OIL SHARE MARKET SMALL.

VERY LITTLE CHANGE.

Although a confident tone continued in evidence in the Oil Share market yesterday, general business was on a reduced scale, and it was reserved to a few specialities to provide what activity existed. Even in those shares which have lately supplied lively features transactions showed some diminution, and prices moved within comparatively narrow limits, so that final quotations left them little changed on the day, price movements generally being of an irregular character. The foremost position continued to be held by British Controlled, some large lines of the shares again changing hands, and the buying being attributable to a recognition of the importance to the company of the decision of the Standard Oil Company to exercise its rights in regard to the Eastern division of the Buchivacoa concession. It is also understood that the new well brought in on the Western section of this concession, which is being operated by the British Controlled itself, is yielding a very high-grade oil, and promises to be a good producer. The shares finished below the best, but still showed a further small gain on the day. The V.O.C. issues were a trifle easier at the start, but met with a good demand later, and closed showing a small gain. Anglo-Ecuadorians again receded slightly, but Colombian Oilfields continued in request, and further strengthened. Closing prices:—

LONDON MINING MARKET DULL.

EAST RANDS IN REQUEST.

Although the Gilt-edged market maintained its strength, very little enthusiasm was noticeable in the speculative sections, and Mines had a rather dull appearance. Kaffirs could boast but little activity, despite the fact that Paris came in a buyer of several of its specialities. This demand was, however, reflected in the prices of Central Mining, Brakpan, and Government Mines, while Durban Deep were again in request on reports of good developments in the new shaft. No official information of the completion of this shaft has, however, been published, and the annual report, recently issued, contained no reference even to the resumption of sinking. East Rands, after their sharp set-back, came into request, and went ahead, but Modder "B" continued on the down grade, and Rand Mines, "Johnnies," Union Corp., and several others receded fractionally. The good showing made by the "Johnnies" subsidiaries in their reports for 1922, just issued, failed to arouse much interest. Consolidated Main Reef weakened on rumours of poor developments; and West Springs, which will be quoted ex rights to-day, were unaltered, the rights being valued at nil. Closing prices:—

INDUSTRIALS PATCHY.

SOME GOOD SPOTS.

An irregular tendency characterised the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets yesterday, and business was rather patchy, but several good spots were still in evidence. Platt Bros. showed fresh strength on the placing of a large line of shares, to which we referred yesterday, and also on the news that the company is doing quite well. Elsewhere among Iron and Steel descriptions, Guest Keens further advanced. The turnover in this section was quite good. Dorman Longs gave way on the proposed Debenture issue. Coal stocks were irregular, but Gas stocks remained firm. Shipping issues scarcely moved. Apart from the Cellulose issues, which displayed fresh strength, Textiles had a dull appearance. In the Stores list Harrods continued in request, and further advanced. Hope Bros. showed strength on the increased dividend of 10 per cent. for the year, which compares with 6 per cent. a year ago. Tobaccos maintained a firm appearance. Among miscellaneous trading concerns, Cement issues remained dull, and Brunner Monds further relapsed. In Motors, Rolls-Royce were prominent. Nitrates kept firm, and insurances further appreciated, while movements among Bank shares generally favoured holders. Apart from Canadians, which eased, the Marconi group kept steady.

The feature of the Iron and Steel market was the strength of Platt Brothers, which rose to 44s. 3d., or 1s. higher on the day, bargains being recorded at up to 44s 7½d. Guest Keens were wanted and finished 9d. better at 41s. 9d., and smaller advances were noted in Bengals to 26s. 3d., in Pease and Partners to 29s., in Projectiles to 7s. 9d., and in Sheffield Steel Products to 9, Dorman Longs fell 6d. to 17s. 3d., and Vickers receded to 15s. 3d. Babcock and Wilcox held their ground at 77s. 6d. and South Durhams at 2⅝. Apart from a fall of 3d. in Canadians to 10s. 6d. the Marconi group kept steady. Fresh weakness was seen in Brunner Monds, which dropped 9d. to 42s. United Alkalis kept firm at 39s. 6d. and Borax Def. advanced to 38s. 6d. Salt Unions, however, lost 3d. at 21s. 9d. x.d. On the increased dividend referred to, Hope Brothers were wanted and finished 1s. 3d. higher on balance at 21s 3d., and elsewhere among Stores, Harrods continued their advance to 36s., or 6d. higher on the day.

In the Textile section, Cellulose Ord and Prefs. showed renewed strength, there being a very good turnover in the shares. The former finished 6d. up at 12s. 9d., and the Prefs. improved to 15s., Courtaulds lost the turn at 66s. 10½d., and losses of 3d. were seen in Amalgamated Cottons at 12s. 3d., in "Slubbers" at 12s. 9d., and in Crosses and Winkworth Prefs. at 18s. 9d., and in John Wood Brothers at 4s. 6d. The demand for Rolls Royce continued, with the result that they finished 1s. higher at 30s. 6d. x.d. Vauxhalls stiffened to 7s. 9d., but Humbers eased to 25s., and Napiers to 7s. 9d. Among Miscellaneous concerns, Cements relapsed to 23s. 3d., and British Portlands to 29s. 6d. x.d., Lever 7 to 8 both gained the turn at 22s. 1½d. and 21s. 1½d. respectively. Oil Cakes kept the price at 30s. 6d. Dunlops remained at 9s. 7½d., while the A Prefs. strengthened to 17s. In the Newspaper and Printing sections, Associateds shed 3d. to 22s., and the Def. shares 1/16 to 7 x.d. "Daily Mirrors" put on 1/16 to 5¼. Very few changes took place among recent new issues, Cellulose Holdings Debs. again changed hands at up to 17 prem. John Walker Debs. kept firm, and the Prefs. at 9d. prem.

THE MONEY MARKET.

LOANABLE CREDITS EASIER.

STERLING WEAK ON NEW YORK.

Had Lombard street been obliged to pay off any money to the Bank, it is pretty certain that the situation would have been very uncomfortable. As it was the condition of loanable credit was less stringent than of late. In some cases lenders secured 2¾-3 p.c. for granting night money, but the general charge was below that, the old loans going on in some cases at 2 p.c. Fixtures were still being renewed, however, at 1½-1¾ in most cases, with more asked for any new accommodation.

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 60 days (fine) | 2⅛ | 2 3/16% | | | |
| 3 months „ | 2¼ | 2 5/16 | Trade | 3 | 3½% |

Stagnation prevailed in discounts. There was a fitful demand of a special character for end May-early June bills at 2 p.c. The new Treasuries appeared to be buyers and sellers at 2⅛; hence very little business resulted, while fine three months' bank bills stiffened to 2 3/16.

Gold rose 7d. per oz. to 88s. 10d., India taking about £250,000 of the amount available. On Indian, China and Continental selling, silver further fell ⅜d. per oz. for spot and 5/16d. for forward delivery to 31 11/16d. and 31½d. respectively.

Conspicuous in the market for foreign exchange was the weakness of sterling, which fell to 4.64¾ dollars New York. French francs, on the other hand, continued to appreciate in value, and at one time were 68.45, reacting to 69.95, Belgium being 81.10 and Italy 93½. Scarcely any movement occurred in German marks at 97,000-98,000, while Swiss francs were dull at 25.43-25.48, Holland being 11.89. There was a demand for Japanese yen, which improved to 2s. 1⅛d., rupees showing no variation at 1s. 4 7/32d.-1s. 4¼d. Brazilian milreis slipped back again to 5 7/16-5½ and Argentine dollars to 42¾-42⅞. Chilian pesos remained at 37.80. Norwegian kroner were heavy at 25.95. The following are closing quotations:—
